NEWSPAPER DIVISION
STATE LIBRARY OF MASSACHUSETTS

Ship in Distress Off Newport

THE Peach

SPORTING
CLOSING STOCKS

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN
A HOME PAPER FOR PEOPLE WHO THINK

VOL. 23—No. 244 New England Newspaper Pub. Co. BOSTON, TUESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1927 2 CENTS WITHIN 50 MILES OF BOSTON 3 CENTS

SHE'S TIRED OF CHAPLIN, BUT CLINGS TO BABIES

MANY KILLED IN MEXICAN REVOLT

CHAPLIN'S WIFE AND BABIES
The former Lita Gray, who is suing film comedian for divorce, demands custody of Charles Spencer Chaplin, Jr., 20 months old, and Sidney Earl, 10 months old, and also that suitable provision be made for them.

Ford's $48,000 Grew to $45,000,000

SAYS 'PEACHES' WED FOR MONEY

MOTHER SCHEMED WITH GIRL TO 'OBTAIN RICHES ONLY,' LAWYER CHARGES

White Plains, N. Y., Jan. 11.—Charges that Edward W. Browning, elderly "Cinderella man," was "dragged" into marriage by his wife, "Peaches" Heenan Browning, and her mother, for material gain were made before Justice Frank L. Young today.

Francis Dale, of counsel for the millionaire, made the charge in arguing for an order [illegible] tion from Anna O[illegible] telephone operator at Kew Gardens [illegible] the Brownings lived for a time.

Dale said the girl, whose testimony was needed in the approaching trial of Peaches' separation suit, was planning to [illegible] the state to avoid appearing in court.

Counsel for "Peaches" opposed the application for a deposition on the ground that the testimony was not material or competent.

Justice Young reserved decision [illegible] the witnesses by [illegible] those to prove that [illegible] her mother arranged [illegible] the marriage until they had got what they wanted."

All the principals in the separation [illegible] at Kew Gardens Inn last September, and Miss Olsen's testimony, Dale said, was based on conversations between them at that time.

Quoting from a paper he said was

Please Turn to Page 4, Column 3.

Accused

'PEACHES' BROWNING
Her husband, Daddy Browning, says he was dragged into marriage.

ARREST OF PRELATES CAUSES INSURGENCY TO SPREAD IN MEXICO

Mexico City, Jan. 11 (A.P.). — Special dispatches from Guadalajara state that 21 persons have been killed and [illegible] wounded in a clash between Catholics and the municipal authorities in Cocula, Jalisco.

The Mayor of Cocula and the local Deputy Sa[illegible] Castillo were among those killed.

The dispatches reported that the municipal authorities opposed a religious demonstration by the Catholics attacked municipal officials, employes and policemen, a battle ensuing.

Dispatches from Torreon also state that an official report has been made by Colonel Salvador Vaides saying that his troops overtook a group of rebels who began hostilities at Parrus De La Fuente, in the State of Coahuila, killing two and capturing ten in a clash at Paz Alto.

The reports state that nine of the ten captured were summarily executed, the only person spared being Jesus Ro[illegible] rebel leader. Among those executed.

The agitation, it was [illegible] have decided to support [illegible] Calles and Mexico City headquarters has instructed all garrison organizations throughout Mexico to co-operate with Federal troops in pursuit of rebels wherever found.

Clearing up reports that Federal forces under General Enrique Leon was defeated last Friday near Durango City, Torreon specials state that General Gonsalo Escobar, military commandant at Torreon has re-

Please turn to Page 2, Column 1.

FORD THREATENED TO UNDERSELL OWN AUTO

Detroit, Jan. 11 (I.N.S.).—Henry Ford threatened in 1919 to leave the Ford Motor Company, start a new factory and build a new car to undersell his own product, Joseph E. Davies, former chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, said today in opening America's greatest tax appeal case in which the government seeks to collect $34,000,000 from Senator Couzens and others.

Davies, one of the defence attorneys, in outlining his case, said Ford made this statement in Los Angeles. It was made at the time Ford was having trouble with the stockholders, shortly before they sold out to him, Davies declared.

Staggering profits of the Ford Company were revealed today at the hearing.

The government claims the money is due in income and profits tax from the sale of the stock to Henry Ford.

One hundred dollars invested in the Ford Company at the time of its organization in 1903 earned $12,171 in 10 years, Joseph E. Davies, former chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, revealed when he opened America's greatest tax appeal case before three members of the United States Board of Tax Appeals.

"In 10 years, with an initial investment of but $48,000 in actual

Please Turn to Page 4, Column 2

AIR SCHOOL RUM 'ORGY'

Brockton, Jan. 11.—Brockton is aghast over the tales of liquor being freely served at the recent social of the senior class of Brockton High School, and so incensed have certain parents become over the charges of an orgy that they have demanded a probe of the whole affair by Headmaster Lewis E. Rye.

Today four boys, leaders of the class and prominent in athletics and social affairs of the school, are to go before the headmaster for the purpose of telling him exactly what occurred at the party.

Already some 20 members of the senior class, boys and girls, have been before the headmaster but they invariably professed to know little of what had been done, and the responsibility, apparently, sifted down to the four prominent leaders.

Each of the four called before the headmaster denied absolutely knowledge of any kind of liquor being brought to the party, which was attended by 300 students, who were chaperoned by 20 members of the faculty with Mr. and Mrs. Rye as patron and patroness, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Staff and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Frellick.

But one of the 20 seniors interviewed by Mr. Rye heard anything about liquor being smuggled into the school. That student, unnamed, said that he had heard of some one bragging about it at the local Young Men's Christian Association.

WOMAN HURT AS STORM FORCES MANY TO WALK

One woman was injured and thousands of persons were forced to walk part way to work today as a result of the unexpected storm which laid a three-inch blanket of snow over Boston and New England, while the mercury performed [illegible] flip-flops.

Miss Mary Mannix, 24 of Houlton street, Allston, was struck by an automobile at Congress and Purchase streets, while crossing with her head bowed against the drive of the storm. William Reardon of

Please Turn to Page 5, Column 8.

WIFE CHARGES CHAPLIN 'BOASTED OF HIS LOVES'

Los Angeles, Jan. 11.—Moving picture folk are wondering what Mrs. Lita Grey Chaplin, wife of the famous comedian, Charles Chaplin, for divorce, considers a "reasonable sum," which she seeks for alimony.

The young wife of the man with the trick derby and trick feet makes the following requests in her suit, charging extreme cruelty:

Custody of the couple's two sons, Charles Spencer Chaplin, Jr., aged 20 months, and Sydney Earle Chaplin, 10 months.

A "reasonable" monthly sum of temporary alimony.

A division of community property.

That Chaplin be restrained from disposing of his property.

That he be forbidden to visit his children or annoy her.

In addition to Chaplin, the following companies and individuals were made defendants because of their connection with his business interests: The Chaplin Studio, the Chaplin Film Corporation, T. Konn, Chaplin's secretary; Alfred Reeves, studio manager, the United Artists, several banks and a number of other corporations.

According to the com[illegible]aint, Chap-

Please Turn to Page 4, Column 4.

36 FIRE VICTIMS BURIED AS GREAT BELL TOLLS

Montreal, Que., Jan. 11 (A. P.)— As "Le Gros Bourbon" of Notre Dame church tolled in the business district of Montreal, today, funeral services were held in the Church of the Nativity for thirty-six of the seventy-seven children who lost their lives in the Laurier Palace Theatre disaster, here, Sunday.

The burial mass was started at nine o'clock, and at that hour the pealing of "Le Gros Bourbon," the second largest bell on the North American continent, tolled only on occasions of national grief could be heard throughout the city.

The church was crowded to the doors and thousands gathered outside. Citizens from all walks and stations of life were present to pay respect, to the little victims of the tragedy, some of them barely four and five years old.

Lord Willington, Governor-General, was represented by Brigadier-General E. De B. Panet.

Thirty-six bodies, enclosed in white coffins, rested on two rows of

Please turn to Page 2, Column 8.

STATE AND CITY HONOR JUDGE BURKE IN DEATH

With justices of the municipal courts, many leading members of the Suffolk County bar and representatives of city and State governments in attendance, the funeral of Judge John H. Burke, for more than thirty-five years a member of the Municipal Court bench, was held today in St. Mary's Church of the Assumption in Brookline. Burial was in Holyhood Cemetery, West Roxbury.

A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by the Rev. Aloysius Flinn, curate of the church, which, despite the storm, was well filled with the many friends and former associates of the judge. There were

Please Turn to Page 4, Column 1.

VERY LATEST NEWS

MYSTERY SHIP IN DISTRESS AT SEA

Newport, R. I., Jan. 11.—Distress calls from some unnamed vessel were received repeatedly at the Naval Torpedo Station after noon today. In response to the calls, which came through the blinding snowstorm from north of Rose Island, lying off Newport, Captain Larimer of the station dispatched tug L49 to assistance of the anonymous craft.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET RALLIES

New York stock market rallied in the closing period today, when call money was lowered to 4 per cent. Active stocks were weak in the forenoon. U. S. Steel sold late in the day at 158, off 7-8. N. Y. Central at 141 was off 1-4. Gen. Motors at 152 1-4 was off 2 3-8. Mack was up 1 at 95.

Today

Editors and Gorilla
O. K. With Nicaragua
The Bathtub Finale
Opera on the Air
—By Arthur Brisbane—

Copyright, 1927, by Star Co.

MR. LEACH of The Forum asked Prince William, second son of the Swedish King, to luncheon yesterday, and showed him the "important editors." The Prince, earnest, pleasant young man, much more than six feet high, returned the compliment by showing moving pictures of the mountain gorilla that he killed in Africa, also a leopard devouring a zebra, just killed.

Modern women would be interested in the Prince's pictures of African pygmies, including a young mother with one baby in front nursing, another hanging

Please turn to Page 8, Column 3.

THE WEATHER

Fair and continued cold; northeast and north winds.
High tide 5:17 a. m.; 5:44 p. m.
Sun rises 7:12; sets 4:32.
Lights all vehicles at 5:02 p. m.

SUFFOLK LAW SCHOOL

Mid-year entering class now forming. Sessions at 10 A. M., 4, 6 and 7:45 P. M. Registration daily 2-5. Also Mon., Tues., Fri. evenings. 20 Derne St., Bost. Beac.

SKIING IS LOADS OF FUN

DRIVE OUT IN YOUR CAR

See Today's Used Car Offerings
Classification 150
CLASSIFIED ADS

U. S. Treasury Balance
Washington, Jan. 11.—Today's balances, $310,134,480.

Bank Statement
Boston balance..... $34,000,000
Boston clearance..... 92,000,000
New York balance..... 103,000,000
New York clearance....1,196,000,000

Dr. True's Elixir
is made of the finest imported herbs. Acts gently and surely, aiding nature to throw off waste.
The True Family Laxative
Successfully used for 75 years

The Boston Evening American In Afternoon Circulation Leads Its Nearest Competitor By 130,000

Montreal Up in Arms ~ Over Theatre Fire in Which ~ 77 Children Died

WAITING FOR THEIR LOST ONES

Parents, friends and children held in line outside the morgue of Provincial Police Headquarters in Montreal while officials check up on victims of the movie theatre fire in which 77 young lives were lost.

Photos by Dick Sears of International Newsreel Corporation.

SCENES INSIDE THE HOUSE OF DEAD

How the line of anxious ones passed by the rows of dead inside the morgue trying to identify the victims, while police officers offer aid in showing articles found in the clothing of the children.

MOURNERS COME AND GO ALL DAY

Some of the many hundreds of those who visited the morgue shown coming out after viewing the rows of victims of the fire laid out upon the floor within.

MEXICAN REVOLTS SPREAD AS PRELATES ARE SEIZED

Continued from First Page.

ported that the situation is merely a revival of the problem presented by the warlike Mesquital Indians who always revolt when an opportunity presents itself.

At present, the commandant is quoted as saying, the Indians have taken up arms under the religious banner of orders from Damaso Barrass, "A Knight of Columbus."

PRIESTS ARRESTED.

Commandant Escobar said that within fifteen days he would restore peace to the State of Durango.

Reports from Saltillo say that the Catholic priests Isaac Ireve and Roman Blanco, arrested at Zaragoza and Monclova respectively have been locked in the penitentiary.

Bandit outrages are also increasing, and half a dozen villages within a score of miles of Mexico City are virtually deserted, the inhabitants having fled to the capital in fear of outrages.

The most sensational development was the proclamation by a Junta at El Paso of a "provisional government" of Mexico, with Rene Capistran Garza, prominent Catholic and vice-president of the Mexican National League for the defense of religious liberty, as "provisional president."

ORDER BISHOP DEPORTED.

The second was the arrest and ordered deportation of Bishop Pascual Diaz of Tabasco, secretary of the Catholic episcopate in Mexico. Five other prelates were taken with him at the episcopate building.

Clarence Dubose, correspondent for the Associated Press, who went to the episcopate to get the prelates' comment on the development at El Paso, was taken into custody, while William Folger, United Press correspondent, who followed when he learned of Dubose's detention, also was held.

The correspondents sent word to the American Embassy, but were held several hours despite protests that they were American citizens.

Pope Worried by Arrest of Bishop; Asks Prayers

Rome, Jan. 11 (A.P.)—Pope Pius was worried today on learning of the arrest in Mexico of Bishop Diaz of Tabasco and five other bishops.

The Pontiff has asked Cardinal Gasparri to keep in close touch with events in Mexico and to inform him of developments.

"May the prayers of all good Christians of the world be granted by the Almighty, rewarding the Mexican faithful for their sufferings," said the Pope, raising his hands to the sky, when he received news of the reported Mexican revolution from the Cardinal.

Mexico Should Be Let Alone, Says Herring

Mexico City, Jan. 11 (A.P.)—Mexico should be given a chance to work out her own program without interference, in the opinion of Humbert C. Herring of Boston, leader of a group of 40 Americans who have been studying conditions in Mexico.

Before leaving for New York, Mr. Herring said:

"The Mexican government has a program. It is idle to attempt any appraisal of the land, oil or church situation without first attempting to understand the entire program. I believe that Mexico should be given a chance to work out her program in her own way and without interference."

Photo by Alfred Brown Studio, Brockline.

A MAYFLOWER GIRL

Miss Frances K. Brewster of Boston and Newburyport, a lineal descendant of William Brewster, who is to become the bride of John R. Decourcey, son of the late Judge Charles A. DeCourcey, and she is the daughter of William H. Brewster.

EXPECT CALLES TO CHALLENGE U. S. ACTS

By GEORGE R. HOLMES,
International News Correspondent.

Washington, Jan. 11.—President Coolidge's special message to Congress was accepted on all sides today as constituting a blunt warning to Mexico to keep "hands off" in Nicaragua—and a warning, too, that is backed up by the presence of 15 American warships and 5,000 marines and bluejackets in waters adjacent to Mexico. All Washington today was looking to Mexico City for the expected "comeback" of President Calles.

It is expected here that Calles will make a vigorous reply.

If Calles stands stiffly on his prerogatives that Mexico is a sovereign power as it is expected he will, then an extremely delicate situation is automatically created—and one that may easily lead to an armed clash, for Admiral J. L. Latimer, in charge of American forces in Nicaragua, is under orders to prevent Mexican arms reaching the revolutionists.

Nicaraguan Youth Killed by U. S. Warship Guard

Bluefields, Nicaragua, Jan. 11 (A.P.)—The first death of a Nicaraguan, caused by American forces, was reported today. A native youth was accidentally killed by a guard from the U. S. S. Denver. An inquiry is in progress.

The supply transport Argonne has arrived here with 400 men.

Rumors are current here of an impending battle between the Diaz and Sacasca forces at Hama.

Orders from U. S. Admiral Latimer have been put into force making the entrance harbor of Pearl Lagoon neutral territory.

MURDER COUNT IS DEMANDED IN HORROR

Continued from First Page.

catafalques, on either side of the main aisle of the church.

Monsignor Le Pailleur, who had known most of the victims in his capacity as pastor of the district in which the tragedy occurred, officiated.

After the services, the funeral corteges slowly made their way through the city streets to the cemetery in Cotes Des Neiges, the route of the procession being lined five and ten deep with men, women and children.

Murder Indictments Are Asked in Movie Horror

Montreal, Jan. 11 (Universal).—Indictments charging murder will be demanded against the four owners of the Laurier Theatre, from the choked stairway of which the bodies of seventy-seven little victims, crushed in a mad stampede, were taken Sunday.

Demand for the murder indictments will be made by Alban Germain. Montreal's most celebrated criminal lawyer, engaged by the parents of the victims as special

A moving picture house was closed today as the first step in a campaign to prevent another disaster such as occurred Sunday. The owner promised to make necessary repairs to comply with the fire law.

In commenting on the disaster, Judge Choquette today condemned the practice of mothers who take their children to motion picture houses and then leave them there.

Jewish Poet Dead

New York, Jan. 11 (A.P.)—Soloman Bloomgarden, Jewish poet, who wrote under the name of Yehoash, died at his home here early today, the Jewish Telegraph Agency announced. He was fifty-six years old.

Air Beacon Lights Play Roles of "Peeping Toms"

New Canaan, Conn., Jan. 11 (A.P.)—Uncle Sam's new beacon lights to guide night pilots of the air are no lesser to be "peeping Toms" in the boudoir of the women of this town.

Shafts of light from the air beacons erected for the United States postal night fliers flashed into many a bedroom window.

There were complaints.

An expert sent here by the government has readjusted the light beams so that their angles miss the windows but amply light the way in the darkness.

Mrs. Madeline Axtell, known on the stage as Billy Clitmore, appears in "Uninvited Guest" as her latest play, but when three uninvited guests raided her hotel room in Atlantic City she had them arrested, claiming it was a fake raid.

35 RIVALS ARE ACCUSED BY ACTRESS

New York, Jan. 11.—Corespondents by the wholesale are cited by Madeline Frose Axtell, actress, now playing in "Nightingale," in the suit for divorce she has instituted against Silas Blake Axtell, admiralty lawyer.

Application was made to Justice Levy for $20,000 to press her suit and to defend herself against the counter charges brought by her husband.

From attorneys it was learned there are thirty-five corespondents, most of them not named. They include Axtell's former wife. Axtell is also charged with misconduct with an unidentified woman at the Hotel Brevoort on Jan. 1, 1926, in reply to which he says:

"I was in the hotel with a woman of high social standing for a brief interval of about only thirty minutes."

Regarding Axtell's diary, which will probably figure prominently in the divorce trial, he says it was among other papers kept by him in his garret at No. 18 West Nineteth street.

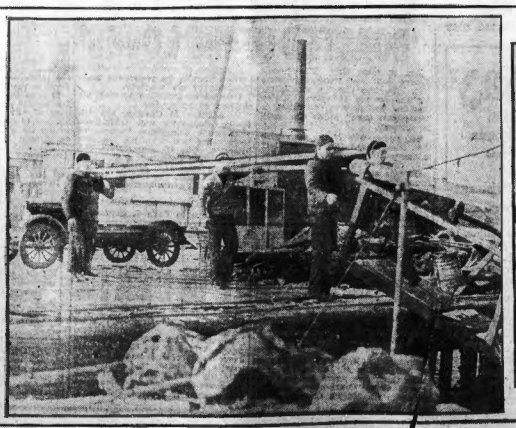
CREW RESCUED AS BARGE SINKS IN BUZZARDS BAY

New Bedford, Jan. 11 (A.P.).—The crew of Barge No. 45, owned by the Robert S. Hayes Lighterage Company, Newport, R. I., was saved by the tug Vim, when the barge sank in forty feet of water, near Dumbling Rock in Buzzards Bay. It is reported the barks struck a rock.

Busy Scenes at Navy Yard ~ As Ships Are Prepared for ~ Service in Nicaraguan Waters

STOCKING UP ON OIL

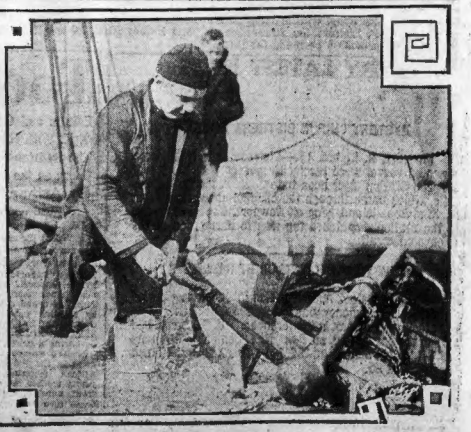
Members of the crew of U. S. S. James K. Paulding are shown putting a large supply of oil aboard. The Paulding is one of the ships being prepared at the Charlestown Navy Yard for service duty.



EVEN A SUPPLY OF LUMBER IS NEEDED

Full stocks of all foodstuffs as well as large quantities of other necessities for service in foreign waters are being stored aboard the ships. These tars are putting lumber aboard the James K. Paulding.

Boston Evening American Staff Photos



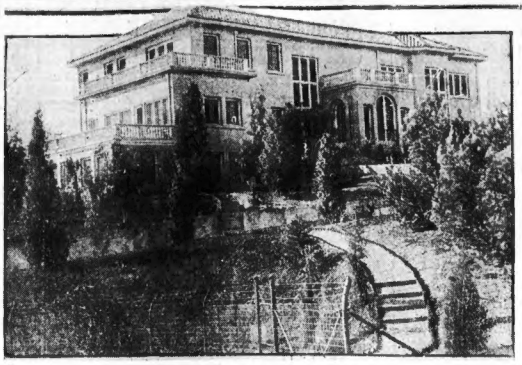
THE SHIPS RECEIVE PLENTY OF CARE

While some of the crew of the Paulding were carrying aboard supplies others were working about the decks. C. B. Rowland is giving an anchor a little attention.

Chaplin's Wife ~ Fighting for Children ~ Says He Had Many Loves

WANTS CUSTODY OF BABIES
Mrs. Lita Gray Chaplin asks that her husband be forbidden to visit Charles Spencer Chaplin, Jr., 20 months old, and Sidney Earle, 10 months old, or to annoy her in any way.

CHARGES CRUELTY
Chaplin's young wife, who is suing film comedian for divorce, seeks "reasonable" alimony



MANSION WHERE ROMANCE WAS WRECKED
In this palatial home of Chaplin where Lita Gray became mistress on their return from Mexico as his bride, she alleges she was the subject of abuse, charging that Chaplin told her he would make her so sick of him she would not want to live with him, and boasted to her of his other loves. She declares that soon after their marriage he spent much time with "a certain motion picture actress."

SUED FOR DIVORCE
Famous comedian of films is wondering how a "reasonable" alimony will count up in dollars.

IN THE HAPPY DAYS
Mr. and Mrs. Chaplin as they appeared arriving at Los Angeles theatre to view one of Marion Davies' pictures.

Catholic Head

MARA DEL RIO
Aged archbishop, head of the hierarchy in Mexico, is the only Catholic prelate at liberty in the capital.

66,482 Broke Law in N. Y.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 11.—Of 66,482 persons convicted of breaking the law in the state last year, 15,197 were tried for drunkenness, including 467 women.

Yesterday the American and Advertiser gained 171 classified ads over the corresponding day of last year.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

A HOME PAPER FOR PEOPLE WHO THINK

BOSTON, TUESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1927

GENERAL NEWS SECTION

Spurns $10,000

International Newsreel Photo

RATHER DANCE
Mary Horan, daughter of George Horan, wealthy New York real estate dealer, refused his offer of $10,000 to give up her career and study medicine. She dances at a night club.

Tired of restaurant food? Classified Ads offer you your choice of desirable menus with board—where real home cooking makes eating a pleasure. Classification 37.

ECONOMICS TO LEAD IN NEWS, SAYS HODGES

That the economic volcano will replace the political volcano in the headlines of the American press in its handling of foreign news, was one of the predictions made by Charles Hodges, assistant professor of politics, Graduate School, New York University, today in presenting a digest of world affairs at the School of Politics conducted by the Massachusetts League of Women Voters in co-operation with Radcliffe College at the Agassiz House, Cambridge. The school will close Thursday.

Professor Hodges said in part: "The business man and not the statesman will soon be of international importance in the relation to world news. The hard-boiled pedlar of pots and pans, and the maker of nails and rails, the rope maker and the mundane manufacturers are coming forward into the limelight with surprising rapidity. They will become of the greatest importance in world affairs.

"An average of fifty significant news items dealing with foreign affairs a day, carried by the American press, is making the United States one of the best informed on all countries. The systematic analysis of international news through the press gives American public opinion a constant stream of world contact, the like of which has never been known by any other people.

"It is now a battle of the headlines, news that is news and news that is propaganda. The ear of the American public is too valuable to allow systematic misrepresentation of any country.

"It is this charge and counter charge, mistatement and true statement that makes the news of the American citizen fundamentally more accurate—a picture of the true situation in world politics.

The comic opera era of the Balkans may not be so comic before we get through with them. China is still a problem as are the Philippines."

FIXES OWN BALM

—International Newsreel Photo

BANS $18,000 VERDICT
Although awarded a big sum in her breach of promise case against Louis V. Arenovski, treasurer of the Hyannis Theatre, Miss Catherine Ahearn of Providence has settled the case out of court. Arenovski, who Miss Ahearn claimed promised to marry her while they were in a parked auto, is said to be in Miami. The hearing in Barnstable Superior Court last October was exciting, through the reading of love letters.

PICKING JURY TO DECIDE FATE OF REV. NORRIS

Austin, Tex., Jan. 11 (I.N.S.).—Examination of prospective jurymen to try Rev. J. Frank Norris on a charge of killing D. E. Chipps, Fort Worth lumberman, was started in District Court here today.

Surprising the prosecution, the defense announced "ready without reservations" when court was convened.

A. P. Erohowski, a foundry worker, was the first venireman called for examination.

RAOUL WALSH'S WIFE TO ASK FOR DIVORCE

Los Angeles, Jan. 11.—After ten years of married life, Raoul Walsh and his wife, Miriam Cooper, have come to a parting of the ways, she admitted today.

The decision to part came three days ago when Walsh moved his belongings to his club, after his wife's return from New York, according to Mrs. Walsh.

"Raoul and I have been unsatisfied for years," said Mrs. Walsh. "I shall charge mental cruelty. We haven't been happy for a number of years, and I want the custody of the two boys and a chance to live my own life.

$10,000 for Hub Airport

An allowance of $10,000 has been received from the War Department by Major Ira Longnecker, air corps chief in New England, for expenditures in connection with improvements to be made at the Boston airport. The funds will be expended under the direction of Captain Horace N. Heisen, army commander at the airport, toward the improvement of the runways and landing field in general.

TELLS OF RUSSIA

Boston Evening American Staff Photo

ANNA LOUISE STRONG
The Tremont street flapper would cause as much curiosity in Russia as a circus rarity, says Miss Strong, newspaper correspondent, who is visiting Boston. She says the Soviet swains spend very little in their courtship days. The girls don't expect expensive gifts and big parties. She says Russian girls marry early.

BOOKS MISSING AS SHORTAGE IS BARED

An evening of intense bookkeeping, a $7,000 shortage, a figure slipping back into the office late at night—and the books missing in the morning—brought Theodore N. Mackay of Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge, into Municipal Court today on a larceny charge.

Mackay, employed by the Shoe Trades Credit Bureau at No. 10 High street, is charged with the theft of $2,662 from the concern. Carl H. Kothe, general manager of the bureau, is complainant.

Mackay was held by Judge Cohen in $5,000 for hearing Thursday.

According to the story told the court, Mackay, with Kothe, Friday night, went over the books of the bureau, working until 11 o'clock and discovered a shortage of $7,000. Then they left the building.

Later that night someone was admitted into the building by the watchman, who does not recall the visitor's identity. In the morning the bureau's books were found to have disappeared.

Accompanied by Inspector Joseph Loughlin, the general manager secured a warrant, charging Mackay with larceny.

BRITISH ECONOMIC EXPERT TO ADVISE HUB MEN

C. E. Lyon, general financial and economic advisor to the Department of Commerce and the American Embassy at London, will have headquarters in this city from January 15 to 18, inclusive, to enable bankers, business men and others interested in British activities to confer with him with regard to conditions in Great Britain. He is familiar with the details of the recent coal strike in England, the effect of the Imperial Conference and other matters concerning the British market. He will make his headquarters at the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, 1901 Customhouse.

Victim's Widow and Son ~ Unexpectedly Attend Opening ~ Of Rev. Dr. Norris' Trial

MRS. D. C. CHIPPS AND SON
D. C. Chipps, Jr., who recently sued Dr. J. Frank Norris for $150,000 for the death of his father, was with his mother when the trial opened at Austin, Texas.

WHEN PASTOR SOUGHT VENUE CHANGE
The death penalty is demanded by the prosecution. The above photo shows Dayton Moses, then chief of the defense counsel (standing), asking a change of venue at a recent hearing. This was denied and Norris is now being tried. On the left are some of the prosecution officials.

PASTOR'S FRIENDS STICK BY HIM
Hundreds of friends and followers were on hand to give Dr. Norris encouragement when the pastor faced trial for the death of D. C. Chipps. In the above photo he is shown as greeted at a recent celebration.

CONFIDENT OF ACQUITTAL
Dr. Norris is charged with killing the wealthy lumberman during an argument in the pastor's study. Chipps is said to have protested the Norris attacks on officials.

JUDGE BURKE'S FUNERAL

Continued from First Page.

also many floral tributes that accompanied the body to the grave. There were only two musical offerings at the mass, "Pie Jesu," as the offertory, and "Lead Kindly Light," the Judge's favorite hymn.

Governor Fuller was represented by State Treasurer William S. Youngman, and Mayor Nichols by William A. Fisher. There were also delegations present from the Boston Bar Association and the Charitable Irish Society, of which Judge Burke was a past president.

The Suffolk Bar Association was represented by President Thomas W. Proctor, and the following committee: Michael J. Jordan, J. Porter Crosby, Henry W. Cunningham and George P. Hackford.

Among the Judges of the Municipal Court were Judge Josiah S. Dean of South Boston, Judge James H. Devlin, Judge Joseph A. Sheehan, Judge Thomas H. Dowd and Judge Joseph Zotoli. The Judges and other court officials were given prominent places in the church for the services.

The ushers were James Shea, Bartholomew Connolly, Jr., Thomas Corbett and William F. Donovan clerk of the Municipal Court.

The honorary pallbearers were Chief Justice Wilfred A. Bolster, Judge William A. Parmenter, Judge William H. Sullivan, Judge Michael A. Murray of the Suffolk Municipal Court, Robert P. Gelman, a close friend of Judge Burke, and Edmond Beady, a nephew.

H. Wales Lines Dies

Meriden, Conn., Jan. 11 (A.P.)—H. Wales Lines, 88, head of one of the largest building concerns in Connecticut, died today. He was grand treasurer of the grand encampment, Knights Templar for 40 years.

FORD PROFITS REVEALED

Continued from First Page.

cash, the Ford Company had paid $23,000,000 in dividends and had amassed $22,000,000 in property," Davies declared.

"In 1904, the company made $100,000. By 1907, these earnings had increased five fold and were $1,611,000. Within two years these earnings had been doubled and were $2,800,000. Within three years these earnings were again multiplied five times and were $13,000,000 for the year. In another year they were again doubled and amounted to $20,000,000.

"The growth of the company's surplus was no less remarkable. Starting with a surplus of $135,000 in 1904, in three years its surplus had reached $1,377,000. Three years later, it had reached $3,866,000. Within two more years, or in 1912, the surplus was $14,745,800. On March 1, 1913, it had increased to $22,000,000."

Senator Couzens and his co-defendants dispute claims of the government that the $9,439 value per share set by the Bureau of Internal Revenue as the value of the stock as of March 1, 1913, was too high.

In fixing the amount of tax due it was necessary to fix the 1913 value as the difference between this figure, and the price at which the stockholders sold their shares to Henry Ford, represents the amount on which the taxes were computed.

The figure set in 1913, was declared unfair by a subsequent regime in the Bureau of Internal Revenue, almost five years later.

Should the government's contention be sustained, that a commissioner of Internal Revenue can set aside the acts of his predecessors, and levy additional assessments, Mr. Davies declared "There would be no security in either business or property rights of the citizens of this government."

Open Evening Bars To Compete With Bootleggers

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 11 (I.N.S.).—Even government sale of liquor doesn't do away with bootleggers in British Columbia.

The Provincial Legislature officially recognized the existence of the illicit trade today when a measure was introduced to provide for "the opening of liquor stores in Vancouver and Victoria after 8 in the evening to compete with bootleggers."

The action will be taken on approval of the liquor board.

'DRAGGED INTO MARRIAGE'

Continued from First Page.

an affidavit made by Miss Olsen. Dale charged that in a room at Kew Gardens Inn, Miss Olsen overheard "Peaches" and her mother have a conversation.

This conversation he translated as:

Mrs. Heenan—I wonder when we are going to get that $85,000 he's been talking about?

"Peaches"—I'm sick of this; I'm going away right now.

Mrs. Heenan—No, wait. Wait until we get what we want.

The attorney said there had been a "deliberate scheme to drive Browning into marriage for five months or so until the material gain sought had been accomplished."

They love to enjoy a car. Buy one for your family now. Look in Classified Ads and make your choice. - Classification 156.

WIFE LISTS 'CRUELTIES' OF CHAPLIN IN DIVORCE SUIT

Continued from First Page.

lin and Lita Grey, who was then his leading lady, were married at Empalme, Sonora, Mexico, on November 25, 1924. They separated on November 20, 1926.

Included in the long list of charges made by Mrs. Chaplin are the assertions that Chaplin told her he would "make her so sick of him that she would not want to live with him for long"; that he accused her of "trying to hold him up"; of being a "gold-digger"; of trying to "ruin" his career and that marriages militated against continued success in his profession.

TOLD TO QUIT HOME.

Mrs. Chaplin also charges that during the first two months of their marriage he did not appear in public with her more than four or five times, and that when he did take her out, he told her it was to "make the public believe that everything was all right." When she complained of this alleged treatment, the suit asserts, he asked her "what she expected?"

When she and her mother, Mrs. Lillian Spicer, moved out of the Chaplin mansion early in their married life, it was done on the advice of a physician, it is charged. Mrs. Chaplin declares that her husband worried her so by his actions that the physician recommended the change of residence.

ON WAY TO NEW YORK.

During this period and during the time that she and her mother were in Catalina and Coronado in 1926, Browning tells Mrs. Heenan for five months or so until the material gain sought had been accomplished."

Mrs. Chaplin charges she spent Christmas day of 1925 alone, Chaplin coming home intoxicated the next morning.

He did not see his children for two weeks during last October, she says, and since the separation has failed to contribute anything to their support, with from the payment of a $37 milk bill.

As a result Mrs. Chaplin states, she has been forced to borrow money from friends and relatives.

Mrs. Chaplin charges that on frequent occasions her husband told her he did not "believe in the custom of marriage or in the marriage relation" and that he "publicly and privately associated with other women."

Not only was the first child of the Chaplin marriage a most unwelcome one to the father, according to the divorce complaint, but the comedian also objected to the second.

"What do you want to do; populate Los Angeles?" he is quoted as saying.

For long periods he did not see the children, although they were in the same house with him at the time, Mrs. Chaplin says.

She further alleges that the comedian urged her on several occasions: "Go away some place. I can't work or create when you are here. You are ruining my career."

LOVED "OTHER WOMEN."

During the first month of their marriage, Mrs. Chaplin declares, her husband was "spending a great portion of his time in the company of a certain motion picture actress." The suit does not name this actress, however.

"Yes, it's true," Chaplin is said to have boasted when his wife accused him of being unfaithful. "I am in love with her and don't care who knows it.

"I am going to see her when I want to and whether you like it or not. I don't love you, and I am only living with you because I had to marry you."

Mrs. Chaplin declares her husband's attitude became threatening when she refused to accompany him to his woman's home. She charges he twice threatened her with a revolver and once suggested that she end her own life.

Another time Chaplin is quoted as telling his wife of affairs of an unspeakable kind with "five prominent motion picture women."

AVOIDED HER GUESTS.

During Mrs. Chaplin's absence in May, 1925, she says, an automobile belonging to a "certain woman" was seen standing in front of the actor's home for several hours on four consecutive days. The car remained there one night as late as 10 o'clock.

The actor's wife alleges that Chaplin was in the habit of coming home late at night and spending the evening with her "only on a very few occasions." When he did come home early and she had guests in the house he would evade them.

Chaplin is on his way to New York on business, according to his attorney, Loyd Wright. Almost simultaneously with the filing of the complaint, Mr. Wright issued the following statement:

"Mr. Chaplin has been called to New York on very important business. As soon as this is finished, he expects to return to Los Angeles. During his absence he has made provision for the necessary expenses of his children."

SECOND BREAK.

From an authoritative source, however, it was learned that the comedian has been considering the leasing of studio space in New York where he may finish his current picture. Work on this film, which was about half-completed when the separation took place, has been halted. Filing of the divorce suit may cause a change of plans regarding the New York studio, the comedian's friends here said.

This is the second time that the world's best loved film fun maker has encountered domestic unhappiness. His first bride was Mildred Harris, blonde beauty, whom he married in the latter part of 1918. Miss Harris had been his leading lady in several pictures, and their wedding was kept secret for some time. A son was born to them, but died shortly after birth.

NOTICED GIRL.

Mildred Harris Chaplin was granted a divorce on November 12, 1920, and received a generous settlement, it was reported, of $150,000. She is now Mrs. E. Terance McGovern, wife of a wealthy Massachusetts business man. She married him at Tia Juana, Mexico. Later, the McGoverns went through a second ceremony at Greenwich, Conn.

The romance of Charlie Chaplin and Lita Grey began when the latter was a girl still wearing "pigtails" down her back and doing extra bits in the motion picture from time to time. Charlie happened to notice the little girl's talent one day, and remarked that she appeared to have screen personality.

Several years later, while Lita was still attending high school in Hollywood, she obtained work now and then as an "extra" on the Chaplin lot. Again, the comedian singled her out from the crowd and in a short time, she had become his leading lady. He taught her the finer points of the motion picture art, and she made good in several films under his tuteluge.

Early on the morning of November 25 the couple were married by a Mexican justice of the peace at Empalme, with relatives of the bride in attendance. They spent their honeymoon at Guaymas, on the Gulf of Mexico.

Mrs. Chaplin became the mistress of the screen star's luxurious home in Beverly Hills. Her mother, her mother also took up her residence there.

BECOMES WOOER.

From the role of tutor, Chaplin gradually turned to that of wooer. But on account of the girl's youth—she was not yet 17—it seemed necessary to defer the wedding. However, one day in November, 1924, Lita and her mother, accompanied by Attorney McMurray, slipped quietly away to Empalme, Sonora, Mexico.

When the first baby arrived, friends of the couple—knowing Chaplin's great love for children—were confident that the marital ship would sail without mishap on smooth waters. The coming of the second child strengthened this belief.

But the rift had already appeared. The climax came one night several weeks ago when Mrs. Chaplin took a number of friends home after a dinner party at a downtown hotel.

WANTED GUESTS TO GO.

The following morning, she and her mother packed their belongings and went to the home of Mrs. Chaplin's grandfather, William E. Curry of Beverly Hills. She and the children are there now.

Don't hunt for apartments. Save time and trouble. Consult the Classified Ads and your problem will be solved. Classifications 95 and 97.

I. J. FOX 4th FLOOR

41 WINTER ST.

One of America's Great Manufacturers of High Grade Fur Coats

JANUARY FUR SALE

ABOUT ½ PRICE

All Coats Guaranteed

Lowest Prices Ever Quoted by I. J. Fox on Quality Coats

A small lot of Fur Coats marked to $55.

$5 DEPOSIT IS ENOUGH

If you haven't the entire amount we consider this deposit sufficient to hold your choice. Balance to be paid at your future convenience.

Our Stock Consists of the Best Coats in All Best Furs

Hudson Seal (Dyed Muskrat) RACCOON JAP MINK SQUIRREL (Hudson)

CARACUL (Brown and Grey) MUSKRAT (Silver and Natural) Golden Suskiki American Broadtail

SPECIALS

$55 $75 $125 $195

Stout Women

We specialize in extra sizes in slenderizing effects for stout women. The science of giving graceful lines to extra size fur garments is a feature with the Fox expert designers.

2-Yr. Free Repair Guarantee

All Fur Coats sold during this sale will be kept in free repair for two years, under full binding guarantee. Two generations of honorable dealings have made this Fox guarantee famous.

NO PAIN IN USING

TEETH

Painless Dentistry

For Beauty and Comfort Try Our Roofless Upper and Lockin Lower Plates

SPECIAL OFFER RUBBER PLATE $12.50

Full upper or lower, made of red rubber (not like picture).

BRIDGE WORK, per tooth....$8

Silver Fillings $1

Cleanings $1

Examination FREE

Positive Painless Extraction FREE when plate or bridge work is ordered. Plates repaired while you wait, old plates remade like new the same day.

DR. HEWSON DENTAL CO.

427 Washington St., Opposite Filene's

Hours daily: 8:30 A. M. to 6 P. M. Lady Attendant. Phone Dewey 1040

LAST SATURDAY

EVERYWHERE over the week-end every one who shopped in town Saturday was talking about the record-breaking response to Jordan's Birthday Sale of Progress.

That response produced on Saturday a greater sales volume than any single day during the Christmas season — which everyone knows is the big shopping season of the year.

If you haven't yet taken advantage of the values that are producing this wonderful record—start today. If you have—there's no need of our suggestion that you keep it up.

Jordan Marsh Company

Jordan Marsh Company

The Famous Store Within a Store For the Sale of the Less Expensive Merchandise

1851 1927

Birthday Sale of Progress SPECIALS

BEGINNING WEDNESDAY

1226 Wonderful Imported Fringed

Rayon Scarfs

STRIPES CHECKS 69c PLAIDS FIGURES

Irregulars of 1.25, 1.50, 2.00 Grade

Wonderful color combinations. 1¾ yards long. 12 inches wide, fringed.

For Men---Women---Boys---Girls

Women's Imported

Lambskin Gloves, 1.29

Usually 2.25. Two-clasp P. K. with embroidered back contrasting with top. All sizes in tan, brown, gray, beaver, black and white.

Hot Water Bottles, 55c

Seamless. First quality. Good grade red rubber. Number two size. Usually 89c.

Steel Shears and Scissors

Usually 75c to 1.00 55c A PAIR

Shears, 6, 7 and 8 inches long. Scissors, 3½ to 6 inches. Sharp cutting blades.

5000 Women's Bib & Tea Aprons

25c Usually 39c Each

Bib aprons made of figured percales. Trimmed with binding or rick-rack braid. Tea aprons made of good quality shirting. Trimmed with rick-rack braid. Reinforced yoke.

Very Extraordinary Lot of

Misses' Silk DRESSES

6.95

Sizes 14 to 20 years
Usually 9.95 to 16.50

Many charming creations of Georgette and Flat Crepe. Beaded and embroidered styles; also two-tone effects in Flat Crepe.

Excellent Styles for Street, Afternoon and Evening Wear

SENATE ORDERS VARE INQUIRY

Washington, Jan. 11 (A.P.).—Investigation of the senatorial election in Pennsylvania last November in which Representative William S. Vare, Republican, was credited with a majority over William B. Wilson, Democrat, was ordered today by the Senate.

The inquiry will be conducted by the special campaign funds committee which discovered the expenditure of $800,000 in behalf of Vare in Pennsylvania $2,000,000 primary last spring. Senator Reed of Missouri, a Democrat, is chairman of the committee.

Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, while expressing regret that the Senate was departing from its usual rule of having the inquiry by the elections committee, withdrew his objection to the investigation.

Jewish Novelist Dead

London, Jan. 11 (A.P.).—Samuel Gordon, well-known Jewish novelist, is dead.

3 SISTERS TO WED SAME DAY

A romance of three sisters that started in Lynn Classical High School came to light today when the engagements of the Misses Esther, Annabelle G. and Miriam E. Hart, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. V. Hart of No. 83 Lynnwood street, were announced. The last two are twins. All three will be married at the same time early in the Summer.

Miss Esther, the youngest of the trio, will become the bride of Arthur Trefry, son of Mrs. Harry Martin of No. 53 Beeson street. He is a graduate of the Massachusetts Agricultural College. Miss Annabelle will wed Granville Veale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Veale of Washington street, Lynn. Her twin sister will wed George F. Hammer, Jr., of No. 20 Sale mstreet, Lynn. Veale and Hammer are Harvard graduates.

The youngest of the sisters is a graduate of the Lesly Normal School of Cambridge, while th stwins graduated from Boston University. Their mother is known in Lynn political life as Mrs. Harriett Russell Hart, a member of the Lynn School Board.

Triple Romance

SISTERS TO WED
Esther Hart of Lynn, above, and her twin sisters, Miriam, lower left, and Annabelle, announce the blossoming of a triple high school romance. They will be married the same day this Summer.

FALLS 80 FEET AND WALKS TO AMBULANCE

Washington, Jan. 11 (A.P.).—William Graham, 40, member of a newspaper clipping service firm, seized with a dizzy spell fell 80 feet from the ninth floor of an office building here and was able to walk to an ambulance. Doctors say he will recover. He landed on the wire screening of a skylight over a bank occupying the lower floor of the building.

JOIN NOW!—
Scott FURRIERS
UNIQUE FUR CLUB
Select your coat, make a small deposit, take it home and pay—
Small Weekly or Monthly Payments while wearing it
No Delay! — No Inconvenience!
The Most Unique Arrangement Ever Known
Scott FURRIERS Inc. 43 Winter St. HOMER BLDG. Opp. Shepards.
LOOK FOR ELECTRIC SIGN — UNIQUE PAYMENT PLAN — OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL 9 P.M.

First National Growth
The rise of FIRST NATIONAL STORES to its present position as New England's greatest home-owned grocery chain, can be traced directly to its steadfast policy of better goods and lower cost.
O'Keeffe-CONNOR-GUNTER
This Week's Special Values

Potatoes 15 Lbs. 47c
FANCY MAINE SELECTED—UNIFORM GRADE

Campbell's 4 CANS 29c
THE POPULAR SLOW COOKED BAKED BEANS

Chipso "SAFE SUDS IN A SECOND" Lge. Pkg. 19c

Jellies GRAPE AND CURRANT 7-OZ. TUMBLER 9c

Jams RICHMOND RASPBERRY OR STRAWBERRY Jar 19c

OTHER SUGGESTIONS
PORK HEAVY BACKS Lb. 17c | GRAPE FRUIT FANCY INDIAN RIVER 8c
AUNT JEMIMA PANCAKE & FLOUR Pkge. 25c | BREAD "PRIZE" BRAND Greater Boston Fine Loaf 9c
PEANUT BUTTER Lb. 16c | ALL 5c CANDIES 3 for 10c

COFFEE PRICES LOWER
"OUR COFFEES UNSURPASSABLE FOR QUALITY AND STRENGTH"
RICHMOND Lb. 35c | JOHN ALDEN FIVE O CLOCK Lb 41c | FI-NA-ST MOCHA & JAVA Lb. 49c

Flour 1/8s Bag Fi-na-st Bread $1.15 Fancy Pastry 99c
KING ARTHUR Flour 1/8s Bag $1.55 | KING MIDAS Flour 1/8s Bag $1.27

FIRST NATIONAL STORES INC.
WHERE NEW ENGLAND BUYS ITS FOODS

BOSTON BANKS SHOW ERA OF PROSPERITY

Signs of increasing prosperity among the Boston banks were a feature of the year just closed, according to reviews made in financial circles today on the occasion of "bank day," when election of officers and directors for the new year took place.

Three Boston banks increased their capitalization during 1926 and a fourth announced an increase for the near future, all following the lead of the First National, Atlantic National and National Rockland Banks, which added to their invested capital in 1925.

The banks that increased their capitalization are the old Colony Trust Company, from $10,000,000 to $12,000,000; Beacon Trust Company, from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000, and Boston National Bank, from $200,000 to $400,000.

In addition, the Merchants' National Bank increased its annual dividend rate from $14 to $16 a share. The Exchange Trust Company is about to increase its capital from $1,000,000 to $1,250,000.

NEW SHAWMUT DIRECTORS.

Four new directors were added today to the National Shawmut Bank board, these being Vice-President Edward A. Davis, Vice-President George H. Pierce, William A. Paine, of Paine Webber & Co., and Carl M. Spencer, president of the Home Savings Bank. All officers and directors were re-elected.

The First National Bank added Homer Gage, president of the Crompton & Knowles Loom Works of Worcester, and Joseph A. Skinner, treasurer of William Skinner & Sons of Holyoke, to its directorate. All officers were re-elected, as were all the officers. A. C. Malm and R. D. Hirch were elected assistant trust officers.

Directors and officers of the First National Corporation were re-elected and Vice-President W. H. Potter Jr., was added to the list of directors.

The Merchants' National re-elected all its principal officers and directors. The National Rockland Bank added Morris P. La Crior to its directors and re-elected its officers.

COMMERCIAL SECURITY.

Leading officers of the Commercial Security National Bank were re-elected and the following directors re-elected: James A. Brennan, Elno A. Carter, Robert P. Clapp, Charles F. Cutler, Herbert P. Gale, Albert E. Gladwin, Robert H. Gross, Edward Hobart, Benjamin N. Johnson William E. Nickerson, Benjamin B. Perkins, Edmund Reardon, Thomas W. Saunders and The United States Trust Company re-elected the following directors: A. E. Pillsbury, C. W. Gammons, G. F. Schmidt, F. Fitzpatrick, E. C. Stone, I. A. Ratchesky, W. F. Garcelon, C. H. Sherburne, C. A. Pastene, C. Curtis, A. Ehrlich, H. P. Tilden, L. Strauss, J. H. Edwards, C. S. Spencer, J. L. Bates and A. C. Ratchesky.

BILL TO MAKE RATIONS OF ARMY EQUAL NAVY'S

Washington, Jan. 11 (A.P.).—The James bill to place army rations on a parity with those of the navy and Marine Corps was reported today by the House military committee. The present allotment for each Marine and sailor is between 51 and 55 cents, whereas the army figure is about 35 cents.

Secretary Davis has informed the committee that his proposal to the budget director against low army rations, explaining that this was fixed by executive order, whereas the rations for the navy and Marine Corps were fixed by Congress.

CONDUCTOR SLAIN ON N. Y. ELEVATED TRAIN

New York, Jan. 11 (A.P.).—John Healy, 30, a conductor on the Third Avenue Elevated Railroad, was shot and killed today by an unidentified passenger who escaped after pulling the emergency stop cord.

The train was leaving Chatham square station when the man shouted "Stop the train! I want to get off," and pulled the emergency cord. He then drew a pistol as Healy ran toward him to remonstrate and fired twice, one of the bullets piercing the conductor's heart.

HOLD SECRET SESSION ON FARM RELIEF BILL

Washington, Jan. 11 (A.P.).—The House agricultural committee today voted to consider the new McNary-Haugen farm relief bill in secret session. Chairman Haugen denied a request by Representative Aswell of Louisiana, ranking Democrat on the committee, that consideration of farm relief measures be postponed long enough to give various agricultural organizations time to agree on one measure. "That would be after March 4," Haugen said. "We had better tackle this thing now."

16 FAMILIES HOMELESS BY $300,000 NEWBURGH FIRE

Newburgh, N. Y., Jan. 11 (A.P.).—Fire that swept through a business block in Newburg's downtown district early today did $300,000 damage before it was checked by firemen who battled for hours in zero weather.

Sixteen families were made homeless, more than a score of firemen were injured and nine buildings were destroyed. Help was called from Walden, Highland Falls, Cornwall, Marlboro and Beacon. A special ferryboat brought Beacon's apparatus across the Hudson.

SEVERE QUAKE CAUSES PANIC IN PORTUGAL

Lisbon, Portugal, Jan. 11 (A.P.).—The population of the city of Coimbra and smaller towns in the Province of Beira today fled into the streets and fields panic-stricken by earthquake and subterranean rumbles which lasted for three minutes.

The quake was felt with special severity about Coimbra.

CLEAR WEATHER FOR TONIGHT PREDICTED

Continued from First Page.

Mosset road, Quincy, was operator of the car.

The girl was taken to the Relief Hospital, where she was found to have suffered contusions of the left arm and left thigh.

In the early hours of the storm 1,000 city workers were put into the streets to start the battle against clogged traffic.

In the event that the storm continued with any degree of lustiness into the evening 2,000 more city and contractor's men, together with 70 trucks, 7 plows, six tractors and five snow loaders were ready to tackle the wintry deposit.

With storm signals set from Block Island to Eastport, Me., and with the storm centred off Nantucket, the weatherman said just before noon that the snow probably would peter out by nightfall, when cold and clear weather was on the official schedule.

He gave an official forecast:

"Snow this afternoon, followed by fair tonight and Wednesday. Colder tonight. Strong north to northwest winds, diminishing late tonight."

The Boston Elevated and the railroads were confident of easily coping with whatever emergency might arise from the storm's duration.

ELEVATED PREPARED.

General Manager Dana said that the Elevated system is "prepared for three times the expected snowfall at short notice. There are ten plows ready for service. The weather man's prediction of six to eight inches will not bother us at all."

Mr. Dana had made his plans for today's storm last night he said.

No delays of any kind were reported by the steam railroads in getting the commuter army to its work. The storm had hardly begun in time to interfere with the morning train schedules, but the officials agreed that there need be no fear for the evening service as the usual emergency organization had been mobilized against the anticipated snowfall.

The flakes began to flutter down at midnight, but because the storm, which was off Cape Hatteras yesterday, was due to take an ocean trip, nothing was thought of the first few star-shaped arrivals.

TEMPERATURE ERRATIC.

By 10 o'clock in the forenoon, two inches of the wet, sticky snow had fallen, and automobile windshields were plastered thickly where the wipers did not operate. Car tracks were slippery.

Meanwhile the temperature had been doing gymnastics in the Hub. At 4 A.M. the mercury reading was 25, but an hour later it had soared ten degrees and shimmied opposite the 35 mark.

Experiencing a change of heart between 7 and 8 o'clock, the mercury column shrunk itself down a degree to 34, then became reckless altogether and slid down to 24, where it remained for a time.

COLDER UP STATE.

Remaining true to New England freakishness, the temperature at Springfield during all this time was but a breath or two over the zero mark.

Thousands of commuters walked part way to work when slippery rails caused a halt-hour trolley tieup over the entire system feeding the East Boston tunnel terminal at Maverick square, East Boston.

More than sixty cars were stalled in Meridian and Bennington streets and for half an hour not a wheel turned on the inbound tracks.

The jam was caused when slippery rails on the incline entering Maverick square station forced a motorman to slam on the brakes of his car. They locked.

A heavy snow storm also swept over New York today. At noon the snow had begun to interfere with street traffic while large numbers of homeless and other poor persons sought shelter and food from charitable organizations. The Aquitania is delayed by heavy seas. Premier Coates of New Zealand is aboard.

Bostonians were all broken up today and vastly perturbed when they heard that Pensacola, Fla., and New Orleans were suffering a frost.

Overcoats Today in Florida; Heavy Damage to Truck Crop

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 11 (A.P.).—Temperatures ranging from 22 degrees at Tallahassee to 37 at Miami were reported overnight from throughout Florida and overcoats were the rule today. Detailed reports of truck crop damages were not available here, but it was believed to be heavy, as Orlando, in the heart of the truck growing belt, reported 26 degrees last night.

Winter Haven, centre of the citrus fruit section, reported a minimum temperature of 29 degrees, a record for the Winter but it was said that it was not enough to damage citrus fruit.

Pastor Ends His Life

Carney's Point, N. J., Jan. 11 (A.P.).—Despondency, caused by ill health was blamed for the suicide of the Rev. Nelson Nathaniel Calhoun, 33, pastor of Union Presbyterian Church.

Nothing Surpasses Pleasant-Tasting
SCOTT'S EMULSION
For Those Who Need The Health-Giving Benefits Of Cod-liver Oil Vitamins
Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J. 26-34

GILCHRIST'S SELF-ACTING BARGAIN REDUCTIONS BASEMENT

From a Well-known Retail Store--See Their Prices On the Tickets
Wednesday---148
Men's New SUITS
Conservative, Young Men's and Youths' Models
---Variety of Patterns
---Double or Single Breasteds
The Quantity Is So Limited--You'll Have To Be Here Early $36
A few suits slightly shopworn. There's styles and patterns to fit most every type—and the price—well, it's been many a day since you've seen good clothing at such a low price.

All Well Lined
Many Interlined
Big Girls' Coats
$3.99
—Polaires
—Chinchilla Cloth (wool & cotton)
—Sport Coats
Every coat fur trimmed, in a variety of smart girlish models—good colors, tots' sizes 7 to 10 years in lot.
Girls' Chinchilla Cloth Coat

Large or Small Headsizes in Lot
Unusual Lot of Hats
$1.99

Look!—small close-fitting shapes, tam effects, turbans, in fact every style that's in demand. Big variety of new colors.

Vacancies In ALL Directions

Rooms-Apartments-Homes

EVERY day in the Rental Columns of the American and Advertiser Classified Pages you will find attractive offerings in all sections of Boston and vicinity. They are alphabetically arranged and grouped by districts to enable you to make a quick selection.

CLASSIFIED ADS
ON THE NEXT-TO-THE-LAST-PAGES

WILGUS TELLS OF 'BUTTERFLY' ROMANCE

By UNIVERSAL SERVICE.

(Copyright, 1927, by Universal Service. Reproduction in Whole or in Part Expressly Prohibited.)

New York, Jan. 11.—Reared in luxury as the son of a wealthy and distinguished father, builder of the Grand Central terminal, William J. (Jack) Wilgus, Jr., looked lightly at life. Suddenly estranged, he faced life bravely, but ineffectually.

He met and fell madly in love with the beautiful Vivienne Minor, also a girl of wealthy family. Neither could cope with the adversities of poverty.

She committed suicide. He took poison. In his clothing a most remarkable document was found, and herewith is presented in full by Universal Service. It is written in the third person, as though Jack Wilgus, in a detached, retrospective way was wondering how he could have failed so miserably.

Following an introductory page, praising Godwin, his lawyer, young Wilgus describes in narrative form, as if he were telling a story about someone else, his tragic romance with Vivienne Minor:

VIVIENNE.

By JACK WILGUS.

The woman he met and wanted to speak to, softly, alone, by firelight before the hearth. The woman in sables, who laughed and drank and smiled so provokingly. The woman with a part as enigmatic as her smile of dare.

• • •

He lived like a pauper and worked for a pittance. What a weak, ineffectual failure he proved to be!

• • •

Then he met her—and she met him. Flint on steel, and the powder flared up.

• • •

She shook her head and smiled and called him a silly, mad youth. So many had begged her to marry, but she was a woman of laughter, wit and pleasure, and to be a chain was the less inviting of prospects. She said no to fortune when it smiled. And she said no to fortune when at last it frowned. And at last she had her way.

• • •

An heiress, the wife of a hero of the World War, a woman of blue blood, she left it all for the dance, the flame and the wine. Where others walked in sedate lock-step she denied the aristocracy of fees on earth and played to the end of the golden chain.

• • •

Her fortune flickered, and was spent. Still the ineffectual youth knelt and begged her to come back to him.

• • •

The smile vanished. She held his head in both hands. She peered long into his eyes. His swam with tears. She turned her back on the dance, the toast, and the mad white ways—to come to the ineffectual, love-sick youth.

Together they sat across the board from fortune, side by side; each wore a poker face, and each played the game for the other—man and his mate who wore a smile, but suddenly grew serious at heart.

• • •

The ineffectual youth worked all day, and all evening he worked again, to pay for their dinner, their shelter, and a bottle of gin, to forget when night grew into darkest and the outcome of it seemed fiercest, most relentless, most eager to point to failure.

He worked in a fury of despair.

And she! She waited evening after evening for him to come back to her. She sought to be true to her vow, and she tried to forget the crowd, the show, the dance and the scorching flame of life.

She had so many friends, so many admirers, those who begged her to come back and forget so silly an infatuation for so impotent a youth, the fool who worked day and night, then drank with her to the future and fell into bed, sick with certainty that in the end all would be in vain.

And together they laughed, drank, forgot—forgot all but that they loved and cared not a 99/100 for a thing, but that love—the butterfly and the man who had made a mess of his life.

Second installment tomorrow.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON SOCIETY EVENTS

Jane Bancroft and Chum Given Debutante Ball

MR. AND MRS. HUGH BANCROFT gave a gorgeous affair last evening, a debutante ball at the Hotel Somerset, in honor of their daughter, Miss Jessie Bancroft, and her sister-bud and girlhood chum, Miss Virginia Ayres. Designed primarily for the Young Set, and carried out to the nth degree of brilliant beauty by doting parents, its lavishness immensely delighted the bright-eyed youthful guests.

AND FOR THE MANY friends and contemporaries of the senior Bancrofts, the ball was a red letter event—and the practically endless line that passed before the receiving group had a goodly sprinkling also of the white-haired contingent that adores getting into its "black velvet" and "clawhammer" and tripping a measure.

COLLEGE YOUTH, in its formal black and white that is always so distinctive, did usher duties with Sherwin C. Badger (the debutante's brother-in-law) to direct them. But these young men, having served frequently, have their duties down to a fine point of perfection and really need no directing. Their names have long since become familiar in usher lists—Robert Bullard, Robert Leeson, Richard Chute, Joseph Wheelwright, Moses Williams, Jr., J. Dudley Clark and Forrester Clark, Volney Righter, Francis Hill, Ward Ayres, Maynard Canfield, Clarence Postley, Glover Bremer, Charles Pratt, John Bishop, Charles Raymond, Guilford Stewart, William and Gardner Cox, Nathaniel Saltonstall, Norman Vaughan and Gardner Emmons.

TWO FAVORITE BOSTON orchestras (now the vogue) furnished music without a break—and guests danced or sat out amid scenes of rare beauty—for once again had a gifted decorator, with an eye to lovely floral effects, achieved that "something different" for the debutante, so desired by every girl for her big party. The sitting-out room was a bit of old Spain—wrought-iron grilles—striped awnings over casement windows, and gorgeous red and pink poinsettias, to say nothing of real oranges gleaming from their green trees. For the ballroom yellow acacias, white lilacs and bright pink Briarcliff roses were stacked in tall wrought-iron standards—and for the piece de resistance, slenderly tall stalks of Chinese lilies that added its delicate odor to the perfumed ballroom.

LOVELIER FROCKS for a debutante's ball than those worn by Miss Bancroft and Miss Ayres would be difficult to find, even if one searched the whole of Paris. They were exactly similar (to the large huckles of brilliants that held their bodices), and breathed the chic and simplicity of "peach inspiration in every silver-lined head. The frocks were all beads, gleaming in delicate pattern on the bodices, and fringed to form the skirts. Smart little shoes were silver brocade, and each girl, the one a brunette, the other a blonde, caught a cluster of bright red roses at the shoulder of her frock. Not in a long time have debutantes looked more charming.

MRS. BANCROFT and the two girls stood to receive in a perfect bower of blossoms, mainly of shades of pink that enhanced the rose and gilt of Mrs. Bancroft's handsome gown, that had a sleeker swinging train and a tulle sash banded with sables to give it formality. The off-the-shoulder decolletage followed the new slanting line on which Paris smiles approval, and there was a single strand of brilliants at the shoulder. Young Mrs. Sherwin C. Badger (who was Miss Mary Bancroft) wore a simple frock of palest tea rose crepe sequined in silver, having as one smart touch the panels of the skirt and for another the cavalier cape effect of the bodice.

LITTLE MISS JANE BANCROFT, who has her brilliant coming out still to look forward to, came to her sister's party in a little-girl frock of pale yellowish pink. The lovely young matron who was Miss Priscilla Maxwell of Maxwell Court and is now Mrs. H. Wendell Endicott, and of the Bancroft family circle, was the essence of chic in white crepe that flaunted a smart cerise streamer held with enormous brilliant cabochons.

MRS. RALPH MENARD, one of the Cohasset set coming up for the Bancroft ball, wore one of the lovely heavy black shawls brilliantly embroidered in enormous roses. Mrs. Matthew Luce wore black velvet. Mrs. James Lawrence's black velvet was very distinctive, with its cut steel design. Her daughter, Miss Dorothy Lawrence, wore a white crepe hand painted. Mrs. James Jackson's gown was a rose and gold affair, and Miss Rachel Jackson's was deeply fringed with the beads that swing so gracefully as their wearer dances.

LOVELY GIRLS in fetching frocks, girls of the two buds' own age, came to dance and make merry. Miss Anne Ayer wore the smart French frock that was her own presentation ball gown. Miss Eloise Lawrence was in pale green crepe. Both girls are blondes, both dress charmingly, and are quite inseparable always. Miss Margaret Leland's gown was of white taffeta, with a Watteau-like bow of rose pink. Miss Betty Moulton's black velvet frock had a shower of huge white blossoms from shoulder to hem. Miss Elizabeth Hubbard's frock was blue with tulle overdress all sequins. Tiny slippers with brilliants set in their heels glimmered beneath the period frock of black velvet Miss Betty Mathews wore. Miss Mary Mathews was in black velvet also, and Miss Nancy Vose in gay red moire a cunning frock all ruffles, with which she wore a gossamer lace scarf.

MISS HENRIETTA SEDGWICK'S orchid gown and slippers with diamente heels were distinct adjuncts to the gorgeous kaleidoscope of life and color. Also Miss Helen Walker's bright rose frock and Miss Ruth Walker's gold lame with black velvet. Miss Natalie Potter's airy-fairy lace frock set off marvellously the great good looks and chic of this smart young girl. Young Mrs. Henry C. Everett, Jr., in a frilly tulle of orange that was pretty as well as chic. Mrs. Elizabeth Sprague was in black, as favorite mode of hers, and vastly becoming to her carefully-thought complexion.

(Boston Evening American Photos)

MISS VIRGINIA AYRES

Society girl shared honors with Miss Bancroft in the Hotel Somerset ball.

DEBUTANTE

Miss Jessie Bancroft was honored by her parents, the Hugh Bancrofts, by a ball in Hotel Somerset.

PRETTY MISS HOPE PATTERSON'S orchid crepe, smartly pleated; Miss Eleanor Gibson's white moire with green bands; Miss Mary Margaret Loring's black moire banded in gilt sequins; Miss Theodora Ayer's rose velvet; Miss Virginia Hayden's white llama with green velvet; Miss Anne Tudor's tea-rose yellow frock; Miss Nancy Morison's ruffled pink tulle; Miss Sally Parker's beaded crepe; Miss Helen Swann's Frenchily combined black taffeta and rose pink mull; Miss Ellen Frothingham's green chiffon and Miss Dora Frothingham's white moire were each a bright spot in the pretty-girl picture.

MRS. VALENTINE HOLLINGSWORTH wore green; Mrs. Ralph Bradley sage crepe; Mrs. Arthur Beale (now immersed in the Titania Palace exhibition) wore ruby velvet; Mrs. Horace Morison a French gown of sequins; Mrs. Malcolm Seymour black velvet; Mrs. John Swann metal cloth; Mrs. George Swift white crepe; Mrs. Edwin U. Curtis was in the handsome dowager, in purple crepe and lace, and a pearl dog collar about her throat. Mrs. Channing Frothingham wore rose velvet.

PUT A PRETTY GIRL into a pictorial velvet frock with a priceless lace cape collar for its sole adornment and the effect is most satisfactory. So it was with Miss Grace Cushing's black velvet and old lace, and the deep blue velvet of Miss Virginia Gardner which matched exactly her dancing deep blue carrings. Another girl whose frocks are pictorial and becoming is Miss Barbara Forbes. Last evening she wore a cerise satin and tulle, and looked extremely charming. Miss Eleanor Frothingham wore a clear white moire taffeta without a touch of color. Miss Evelyn Royce was in moire and tulle, silvery white and airily bouffant. Miss Mary Ames flashed through the dance in a vivid red velvet. Miss Helen Rust was in rose taffeta. Miss Emily Coolidge wore a panier gown of silver lace. Miss Jane Tucker's gown was silver cloth.

OTHERS NOTED in the large and important company were Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Leeson, Mrs. Horace Drinkwater, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gray and their daughter, Miss Helga Gray; Mrs. Lindley Loring, Mrs. Francis Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. William Dana Orcutt (Mrs. Orcutt in a gold metal lace), Mrs. Guy Murchie, in a gorgeous sequined costume.

Brilliant Array of Young Set at Affair

TOMORROW MR. AND MRS. BANCROFT are off, bag and baggage, for a swing of three weeks or so in nearby sunny semi-tropical resorts, before they return just prior to the opera season. Bermuda, I believe, is their destination, and Miss Ayres goes with them. The ball last evening was the culmination of debutante affairs begun for the two young girls last Autumn when Mr. and Mrs. Bancroft gave a tea, a dinner and a dance at their beautiful seashore home down in Cohasset. Both Miss Ayres and Miss Bancroft are Junior Leaguers, and both have been youthful leaders in that much feted and extremely lively debutante set.

Betty Alden

GRANDMA RICH, 104, CELEBRATES IN MAINE

Biddeford, Me., Jan. 11 (A.P.)—Mrs. Elizabeth Rich, "Grandma" Rich of Biddeford pool, celebrated her 104th birthday here with her six surviving daughters, Mrs. Mary Haney and Mrs. Hannah Waters of her granddaughter, Mrs. Flora Hides. Her mental faculties are well preserved, especially her memory, and she recites poems and sates passages from the Bible which she learned nearly a century ago.

Mrs. Rich was the mother of seven children, three living. She has 33 living grandchildren, 24 great grandchildren, and one great great grandchild, George Rich of Norfolk Downs, Mass., five years old.

HYDE PARK MINSTRELS WILL APPEAR AS "GOBS"

An old-time minstrel show will be staged Friday evening by Troop No. 4 Boy Scouts of America, who reside in the Rugby section of Hyde Park, in the Prescott School Hall. Among those who have prominent parts are Wes Foran and Gus Farm.

The stage will be arranged to represent a ship and the boys, all dressed as "gobs," will appear under the direction of William J. Boutou, assisted by Miss Bessie Beaton.

Honored by Phi Alpha

Joseph G. Brin, managing editor of the Jewish Advocate, has been appointed chairman of the Committee of Education of Phi Alpha, one of the largest Jewish college fraternities in the United States. Headquarters are in Baltimore.

Choice of 40 Different Routes to California Given in This Free Book. "40 ways and more to California and the North Pacific Coast." Select the one best suited for this season of the year. Detail maps indicating these routes from Chicago together with fares and other information sent free on application to R. H. Miller, General Agent Santa Fe, North Western Ry. 210 Old South Bldg., Phones Liberty 9640-1, Boston, Mass.—Adv.

GAILY-TINTED SHOES FOR MEN THIS SPRING!

As pretty models parade in the latest designs and tints of footwear at two Boston style shows, more than 3,000 buyers are deciding what the American girl and her escort will wear this Spring.

Revelations of the Shoe Style Show at the Elks' Hotel and the Shoe Buyers' Show at the Copley-Plaza show that feminine footwear is due to ruin hosiery a close race in the development of new hues.

Men will be in the running, too, with gay colors that manufacturers of men's shoes have heretofore carefully avoided. Alligator calf, fantastically trimmed, is among the styles for men and on most all of the men's shoes the heels are noticeably higher.

Popular among the new shades for women and girls are "parchment" and "rose blush." The latter is a pink kid creation. There are many pastel shades in pearl pink, "wine," "blonde" and gray.

Manufacturers are attempting to evolve a taste for ensemble effects in which the color of shoes, handbag and hat will be matched, and Boston girl models are displaying this feature of the new fashions.

The Copley Plaza exhibition will continue through tomorrow evening, while the show at the new Elks Hotel closes tonight.

FINDS WHISKEY FOR MEDICINE IMPURE

Washington, Jan. 11.—Much of the medicinal whiskey sold throughout the country is impure, L. C. Andrews, dry chief, told the House Ways and Means Committee today. He urged enactment of the bill creating a quasi-governmental medicinal whiskey corporation.

The attractions of the bootleg trade have become so great that medicinal liquor is "cut" at the warehouses, Andrews said. Only a few druggists, he added, are involved in diluting the whiskey.

Eighty per cent. of the medicinal liquor in government warehouses is owned by speculators, Representative Garner, Democrat, Texas, asserted today at a hearing before the House Ways and Means Committee on the proposal to form a corporation for manufacture of medicinal whiskey.

Declaring only 20 per cent. of the stored liquor is held by persons who owned it before prohibition, Garner said that since the others are gambling in it "I don't see that Congress owes them much."

He differed with the statement of Lincoln C. Andrews, enforcement chief, that under the proposed corporation, the price of medicinal liquor should remain unregulated so that holders of present supplies could make a profit.

THE HOME OF GROUND GRIPPER SHOES

17 West St. BURT'S 17 West St.

Trust the People to Know Which January Shoe Sale Means Most to Them

Women's Shoes Greatest Choice from $4.45 to $8.90

Men's Shoes $4.95 to $8.95

Children's Shoes Infants' to Growing Girls' $3.90 Pumps, Oxfords High Shoes

Our 29th Annual Sale and Our Greatest!

Free Cooking Classes!

By Miss Melinda Talcott of Our Modern Methods Kitchen

Every Wednesday at 2 P.M. In Our Assembly Hall

Please Use Front Elevators

The Subject this week will be:

Salads With "No-oil" Dressings and 'Royal' Gelatine Desserts

HOUGHTON & DUTTON Co.

LAMP SHADE FRAMES 91c

Seam Binding—10c per roll

Continued For One Week Only —Starting Tuesday at 9 A. M. Regularly sold for $1.98 and more.

Bridge Frames 59c

Any Lamp Shade Frame in stock, but not more than two to a customer. Thousands from which to choose. Every frame new this season.

FREE INSTRUCTION

In making shades, pillows and bedspreads. We pin, you sew. No extra charges on materials. Our regular prices, the lowest in Boston, always in effect.

⅓ Off On Sample Lamp Shades

BOSTON'S BEST VALUES IN MATERIALS

Georgettes, yard $1.45 | Embroidered Georgette, yard $5.75
Ombre Georgettes, yard $1.85 | Jap Silk, heavy quality, yard $1.10

Glass Fringes, 98c to $1.98

More than 40 patterns to choose from.

Special 6-Inch Glass Fringe, per yard....$1.49

Remember: Direct from Importer to You

Feine Swimming 2024

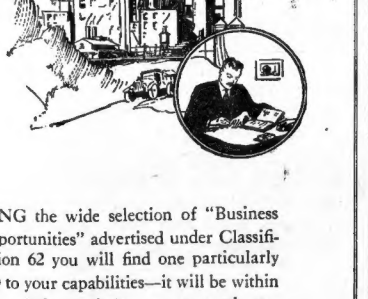
453 Washington St. Dexter Bldg., 4th Floor

Open Evenings Till 9:30

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

if

You can make money for others—why not make it for yourself?



AMONG the wide selection of "Business Opportunities" advertised under Classification 62 you will find one particularly SUITED to your capabilities—it will be within the range of the capital you command, too. Look for it now!

Classified Ads

Australia Sees Peace in Hearst English-Speaking Pact

Chicago, Jan. 11.—Stanley Melbourne Bruce, Premier of Australia, advocates an unwritten alliance among the English-speaking peoples of the world to preserve its peace, along the lines set down in the plan of William Randolph Hearst.

The Australian statesman's only reservation was in reference to the British adherence to the League of Nations, which he said was an empire problem rather than one for the opinion of an individual.

In his address, before the English-Speaking Union at its luncheon at the Hotel La Salle, Bruce said:

"The one hope of insuring the peace of the world is that the nations of the world shall know that the United States and Great Britain stand firmly for one principle of justice and peace, and that we are ready to see that these ideas are not outraged."

NO ENTANGLEMENTS.

In an interview after the luncheon address Premier Bruce added that this, he believed, was the spirit of the Hearst plan. He continued:

"I am not suggesting that this take the form of a treaty, alliance or written obligation. Our people in Australia do not want it written, any more than you do, because we do not believe it necessary to set so high an ideal down in writing to make it binding.

"It is not necessary for the United States to swerve one jot from the letter and spirit of Washington's admonition against foreign entanglements, to accomplish this purpose.

BULWARK OF CIVILIZATION.

"In the Pacific we look out upon the problem in the same way you do—not to join in the ancient animosities of the Old World. We, too, are isolated, but we know we cannot live entirely to ourselves.

"A union of English-speaking peoples in the great purpose of peace would seem a common ground, for it stands as a bulwark of civilization. But one thing remains to accomplish it, and that is the promotion of mutual understanding between the British Empire and the United States."

This is being done, Bruce said, with the realization in the United States that the old conception of the British Empire as grasping for world power, regardless of the rights of its component members to autonomy, has passed away. He went on:

U. S. GAVE LESSON.

"The United States taught the British Empire a never to be forgotten lesson in the matter of its colonies having a voice in its affairs, when these colonies reached the Estate of Manhood.

"The recognition of the Irish Free State did much to remove the existing animosity against Great Britain in the United States.

"The recognition by Great Britain in the imperial conference of 1923 of the change from a three-mile to a twelve-mile limit to permit the United States to enforce a policy it believed to be for the welfare of America was a gesture of friendship, respect and desire to co-operate with you.

"I think this new British Empire is one your people can cooperate with, for we're all democratic."

Lord Robert Cecil Gives Views on Hearst Plan

London, Jan. 11.—Lord Robert Cecil is the first Cabinet Minister to publicly comment on Mr. Hearst's proposal. He is one of Britain's foremost champions of the League of Nations, and in addressing a meeting of headmasters in the Guild Hall, he said:

"Mr. Hearst is an able and influential man, well known to the world as a fervent opponent of the League of Nations. In his manifesto he has tried to show that the League as it exists is impracticable and ineffective.

"There never was a charge less deserved than that against the League. You may think it is a dangerous institution, or indeed, all sorts of things, but no one who understands anything of the subject can dispute the immense lot it has done during the period it has existed.

GREAT TESTIMONIAL.

"In his manifesto Mr. Hearst has made a curious kind of proposal for the establishment of a league of English-speaking peoples.

"It is not clearly defined what he means. Nor do I see much prospect of its success; but it is none the less a great testimonial from the mouth of one who is a bitter opponent of the League in all its forms to find that he thinks that it is necessary to put forward a scheme in order to satisfy the great popular and passionate demand for some alternative to war."

Golden brown Biscuit

delicious meaty figs

(At your grocer's)

Crispo Fig Bars

MAYER BISCUIT CO., Inc., New York

'UN-AMERICAN,' SAYS MURPHY, OF FIN. COM.

Calling the Boston Finance Commission un-American, George A. Murphy, lowest bidder for the contract to equip the new Dorchester courthouse with furniture, caustically assailed that body today in a letter of protest.

The commission has recommended that all bids for the contract be rejected because, it claims, the architect, J. Edward Holmes, aided the lowest and successful bidder, Murphy, in his estimates.

"The treatment accorded me (at the Finance Commission hearing) enlightened me to the extent that there was at least one absolutely un-American institution, publicly founded, which was entitled to presume guilt and compel him summoned to disprove the same," wrote Murphy.

HIGHEST REFERENCES.

"Every question regarding myself, my work and this specific contract was answered fully and completely. References of an unquestionable nature were offered, unquestionable from the standpoint of industrial, financial and professional character.

"And those references were unsatisfactory proves either the word of other firms superior in every way and contrary to mine was accepted, or a sinister force, unnamed and known only to the members of this commission, was at work.

"Information given the newspapers was such as to intimate my sin was in being $6,000 lower than the next bidder.

"Is it my obligation to learn the manner of advantageously disposing of four or five thousands dollars of the taxpayers' money to obtain a contract?

DEFEND CORRESPONDENCE.

"This correspondence (with the firm of architects) is typical of that which is daily carried on between architects and contractors. It is legitimate and ethical. I would suggest the guardians of public moneys recommend its practice if it can result in a saving of the taxpayers of more than 5c per cent.

"I suspected to find myself treated courteously and intelligently. The absence of the former was only more noticeable in the impossibility of the latter."

FOUND UNCONSCIOUS BY MOTHER, YOUTH DIES

Hearing her son, Edward, groaning in the front room of their home in Highland Park avenue, Roxbury, Mrs. Emma Smith went in and found the young man unconscious. She telephoned the police of the Roxbury Crossing division and the unconscious man was taken to the City Hospital, where the physicians pronounced him dead. Medical Examiner Leary will hold an autopsy. Smith was 23 years old. There were no signs of violence on his body.

1 A. M. DANCE CURFEW FOR NIGHT CLUBS IN PHILLY

Philadelphia, Jan. 11 (A.P.).—Curfew will ring at 1 a. m. for dancing in Philadelphia night clubs and there will be no more drinking from hip pocket flasks, if a plan outlined today by Public Safety Commissioner George W. Elliott is successful. The issued orders to the police to arrest anyone found with a flask or drinking, from one in clubs and other public places.

3 CHILDREN AND YOUNG WOMAN DEAD IN FIRE

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 11 (A.P.).—Three children and a young woman met death and the children's mother was injured, probably fatally, in a fire which destroyed the home of Charles Hill, street car conductor.

The dead are the three Hill children, Roy, four; Lois, eight, and Clifford, seven, and Miss Mildred Morrison, twenty, a roomer in the house. Mrs. Hill, rescued from the burning building by firemen, was taken to a hospital. Mr. Hill collapsed and also was removed to a hospital.

FATHER DARES DEATH TO SAVE NEW-BORN TWINS

Springfield, Jan. 11 (A.P.).—Trapped on the second floor of a four-tenement building by fire, Mrs. Leopold Couture and her new-born twins, less than a week old, were carried to safety by the woman's husband, who made two trips through a wall of flames. Three other children, ill in bed, also were rescued when W. C. Barcomb, their father, made two trips into the building with the temperature near zero.

Water from several lines of hose froze almost as fast as it was poured on the building and the firemen were coated with ice.

Dies by Garrote

Santiago, Cuba, Jan. 11 (A.P.).—Jose Correoso, convicted of murdering Manuel Salas, Mayor of Guantanamo, today died by the garrote, the fourth man to be executed in this way in recent months in the prison here.

A good word can be a friend in need and a friend indeed. See Autos for Sale in the Classified Ads. Classification 156.

1000 ARE SLAIN IN MASSACRE

London, Jan. 11 (A.P.).—A Reuter dispatch from Peking says messages were received today from Hantung saying that the inhabitants of Wangchihpao, totalling a thousand have been massacred by bandits.

The message adds the villagers actively opposed the bandits, who awaited reinforcements, after which they set fire to the village, slaughtering the inhabitants irrespective of age or sex.

Some persons are said to have been burned to death in their homes; others were shot attempting to escape, while young children literally were pulled to pieces.

Hile after mile of new grocery anywhere, any place in a good used car. Choose yours from the Classified Ads today. Classification 156.

NATIONAL ROAD SYSTEM URGED

Chicago, Jan. 11 (A.P.).—The demand for more improved highways and for widening and improvement of those already built was never greater in the history of the world, says H. G. Shirley of Richmond, Va., president of the American Road Builders' Association, here to attend its convention.

"When the United States has completed a system of modern highways connecting the various cities in each State with trans-continental trunk lines, a great era of prosperity will be in effect," said Mr. Shirley.

Mr. Shirley commended gasoline taxes levied in many States as the best system for raising highway funds.

that's what has made the A&P coffees so tremendously popular!

Fresh from the plantations to the A&P roasters . . . fresh from the roasters to your neighborhood A&P store . . . fresh from the package to your cup . . . that's why the aroma is so pungent . . . the flavor so satisfying . . . try an A&P coffee today.

Bokar Coffee Supreme lb. 45¢
AMERICA'S FINEST PACKAGE COFFEE

Red Circle Coffee lb. 39¢
A BLEND OF THE FINEST COFFEE GROWN

Eight O'Clock Coffee lb. 35¢ HIGHEST QUALITY SANTOS COFFEE

your A&P store sells them!

THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC TEA CO.

easiest way!

. . . to find a better room, in a more desirable location, and at a reasonable price is to look in the Rental Columns of the American and Advertiser Classified Pages.

AMERICAN-ADVERTISER CLASSIFIED ADS

Classifications 90-91

BLIND SLAYER BEGS FOR DEATH IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

Cherokee, Okla., Jan. 11 (A.P.)—Preferring death to spending his remaining days in blindness and behind prison bars, C. E. Marble, sixty-nine, today won a plea that he be sent to the electric chair for murder.

Marble shot and killed Gilbert Hutchinson, fourteen, and wounded the boy's brother and father.

Marble asked to make a statement. "A month ago or so," he said, "I lost the sight of one eye. The other is affected, and I will soon be totally blind. To be blind and in prison at the same time would be unbearable. I prefer to be sentenced to the chair."

After two physicians had found that Marble's mentality was normal, the death sentence was pronounced.

PAPERS CUT DEATH LIST ON HIGHWAYS

Newspapers were responsible for the 1926 decrease in highway fatalities, it was announced today in the annual report of the Association of Mutual Liability Insurance Companies. In the same report drunken drivers, jay walkers and the laxity of officials who fail to deal severely with reckless and liquor-loaded drivers were taken to task.

New York

By Noted Seaplane

$4 DAY and NIGHT

DAILY and SUNDAY

9 A. M.—10 P. M.

From HOTEL VICTORIA

171 Dartmouth St., at Copley Square

Telephone Back Bay 3236

Good men are hard to find. Employers constantly look for trained men to fill big jobs through the Help Wanted Columns of the Classified Advertisements.

A&P

WHERE ECONOMY RULES

CANNED VEGETABLE SALE

The savings you can make during this sale can be counted in dollars! Just one more example of the A & P policy of fair dealing. Your A & P store is the only store where you can be sure of the finest foods at lowest prices!

The finest selected Maine potatoes—none better!
Fancy Potatoes 15 LBS. 47¢

Fancy extra sifted selected sweet peas!
Peas A&P 3 CANS 55¢ CAN 19¢

Fancy, choice sweet and tender corn!
Corn A&P 6 CANS 73¢ 2 CANS 25¢

Standard table peas!
Peas IONA 6 CANS 57¢ 3 CANS 29¢

Fancy cut beets!
Beets IONA 6 CANS 73¢ 2 CANS 25¢

IONA. Choice vine-ripened fruit!
Tomatoes 6 CANS 50¢ NO. 2 CAN 9¢

MIXED. A fine soup or salad assortment!
Vegetables 6 CANS 69¢ CAN 12¢

Choice medium tender sweet peas!
Reliable Peas 6 CANS 85¢ 2 CANS 29¢

GOLDEN BANTAM. Young and tender!
Corn 6 CANS 85¢ 2 CANS 29¢

Fancy whole stringless beans!
String Beans A&P 3 CANS 73¢ CAN 25¢

Solid cabbage, shredded fine!
Sauerkraut IONA 6 CANS 73¢ 2 CANS 25¢

Made from sound fruit of splendid flavor!
Applesauce 6 CANS 59¢ CAN 10¢

Fancy large shrimp for salads!
Shrimp 6 CANS 85¢ 2 CANS 29¢

Fancy floating cannery pack!
Crab Meat 3 CANS $1.00 CAN 35¢

Selected cranberry cut Maine beans!
Beans CRANBERRY 6 CANS 73¢ 2 CANS 25¢

A very low price for this popular substitute!
Compound LB 12¢

SUNSHINE. A fancy frosted marshmallow cookie!
Sensation LB 29¢

Eat three cakes daily for your health!
Yeast FLEISCHMANN'S CAKE 3¢

The bread that tastes best of all—try it today!
Grandmother's Bread LARGE LOAF 9¢

Boston and vicinity

The A & P News, published weekly, contains many recipes and helpful household hints. Ask the store manager for your copy

THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC TEA CO.

Flu on Destroyers

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 11 (A.P.).—Ten more cases of influenza from the destroyers Lawrence and Reuben James, now tied up at the naval hospital here, have been reported by the hospital authorities. This brings the total from the two ships since they arrived here last week up to 31.

'EL' SERVICE IN CHARLESTOWN IS SCORED

Boston's future is threatened by failure of the Boston Elevated Company to advance with the times by providing adequate service to its patrons, according to former State Senator James H. Brennan of Charlestown.

Praising Governor Fuller for incorporating in his message to the Legislature a recommendation that a study be made of the transportation problem with a view to furnishing relief to car users, Brennan said that the service at the present time is the worst in the history of the road.

Jas. H. Brennan

"The residents of Charlestown are disgusted with the failure of the Elevated to render efficient service in their district," declared Brennan.

That the Elevated had its opportunity sixteen years ago to solve the transportation problem in Charlestown was revealed by former Senator Brennan.

"At that time," he said, "I filed a bill for the construction of a subway from Haymarket square to Sullivan square. It passed, 2 to 1, in the House and it was defeated in the Senate after the company's lobbyists invaded the State House."

TODAY

Continued from First Page.

on her back with its little legs wrapped around the mother's waist.

Prince William shot his mountain gorilla as it charged at him, only three yards away. The gorilla ran fifty yards and died. It weighed 400 pounds, knew nothing about any divinity being a king, and would have torn the plucky young Swede to pieces had it covered those last fatal yards.

AMERICAN YOUTH will want to know that Prince William has diamonds in his cuff buttons, wears a black coat with braid on the edges, but without any tails, long striped trousers and has a thin waist that would fill the stout American business man with envy.

IN ADDITION to the dull collection of "leading editors," with faces far less interesting than that of the gorilla killed on the Mountains of the Moon, Mr. Lasch had collected interesting people, including two Roosevelts, Theodore, Jr., and Kermit. It was their father's book on hunting in Africa that started the Prince in that direction.

THERE WAS also Ernest Thompson Seton, who could have told exactly what the gorilla was thinking about when the bullet hit him: Stefansson, who knows the North as well as the Prince knows the Equator, and Mr. MacRea, head of Dutton & Co., who makes good books. It was an interesting party.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE tells Congress that "rebels" in Nicaragua get assistance from President Calles of Mexico. The rebels are to be congratulated, assuming that they are on the right side, as were some American rebels in 1776.

On the other hand, the Nicaraguan government has the assistance of this country and its President, so it can probably afford to laugh at Mexico—although you never can tell.

THERE MAY NOT be any punishment for stage indecency, but there is for lying. Earl Carroll, according to sworn testimony, got a young woman half drunk, then caused her to appear naked in a bathtub filled with real or imitation champagne to amuse an intellectual gathering of friends.

Nobody took seriously the drunken-naked-bath-tub part of it. But Mr. Carroll was convicted of lying under oath, and the United States Court decides that he must spend a year and a day in prison. If you give a naked-wine-bath-tub party, don't lie about it.

ON FRIDAY the Chicago Civic Opera Company will broadcast its entire performance, an enlightened, public-spirited course.

The Metropolitan Opera in New York will do likewise some day and profit by it. Artists making talking machine records know that publicity is valuable.

MEANWHILE, Mr. Kahn and his associates in New York's Metropolitan Opera will make a good start in their new opera house-building, providing excellent seats at reasonable prices, from which the opera will be seen and heard, as good for seeing and hearing as those built for the exhibition of pearls and diamonds.

CHICAGO seeks to control crime by preventing sale of pistols. As well try to stop bootlegging by forbidding sale of bottles. You can keep honest men, not criminals, from getting deadly weapons.

Chicago bandits operate with gas bombs and machine guns, and it is ridiculous to talk about keeping little pistols from them. If necessary, pistol bootleggers would appear and supply the demand at higher prices.

To discourage crime, put those that have once used a pistol where they will never again use it, the side of the River Jordan.

U. S. ARMY AIR FLEET REACHES SAN SALVADOR

San Salvador, Salvador, Jan. 11 (A. P.).—The United States army "good will air fleet" arrived here today from Guatamala City.

Chair Stork Shop Burns

Cabot, Vt., Jan. 11 (A.P.).—The chair stock factory in this village was destroyed by fire early today. The loss, uncovered by insurance, exceeds $2,000. The cause is unknown.

BIRTHDAY SALE OF PROGRESS

1851 Every item in this Sale equals or surpasses the values of our 1927

Great Diamond Jubilee Sale of a year ago

The greatest value-giving achievement New England has ever known

On Sale WEDNESDAY—Read Each and Every Item

Women's Fur Trimmed Sports Coats, 22.50 Usually 35.00 to 42.50

Women's Fur Trimmed Coats 29.50 Usually 42.50

Women's High Grade Negligees 13.90 Usually 22.50

Women's Satin Quilted Robes 7.35 Usually 10.95

Women's Silk Negligees 5.75 Usually 10.00

Women's New Spring Hats 3.00 Usually 4.95

Women's Dress and Street Hats 7.95 Usually 12.50

Misses' Tweed Sports Skirts 4.50 Usually 5.75

Boys' Wash Suits, 3 to 10 years, 2.85 Usually 3.95 to 7.50

Boys' Fancy Mixture Suits 8-10 yrs., 16.95 Usually 20.00 to 25.00

Women's Lisle Sports Hose 1.10 Usually 1.95

Women's Extra Size Silk Hosiery, hole tops, 1.75 Usually 2.50

Misses' Crepe Satin Dresses 22.50 Usually 29.50

Misses' Georgette Evening Dresses, 17.95 Usually 22.50

Misses' Flat Crepe Dresses 13.90 Usually 16.50 to 19.75

Misses' Bolivia Fur-Trimmed Coats, 25.00 Usually 42.50

Misses' Sports Coats, Ringtail Opossum collars 25.00 Usually 42.50

Misses' New Fur Felt Hats 5.00 Usually 10.00

Girls' New Hats Silk and Straw Combinations 3.00 Usually 5.00

Women's Nightgowns and Pajamas, 2.85 ea. Usually 4.00

Women's Flannelette (cotton) Nightgowns Extra Size Slips 1.95 each Usually 3.00

Women's Pink Swami Cloth Corsettes, 6.00 Usually 12.00

Women's Avona Non-Lacing Brassiere Girdles, 5.00 Usually 7.50

Women's Sports Bloomers and Costume Slips, 2.95 ea. Usually 4.00

Large Turkish Bath Towels 3.60 doz. Usually 4.50

Hemstitched Linen Huckaback Towels, 38c Usually 50c

7-pc. Belgian Linen Luncheon Sets, 2.75 Usually 3.50

Maids' Afternoon and Morning Aprons, 59c to 3.00 Usually 75c to 4.50

Women's Percale Dress Aprons, 1.50 Usually 1.95

Organdy Boudoir Pillows Assorted Colors 1.25 Usually 2.00

Stamped Pillow Cases and Tubing, 89c Usually 1.25

6-Pc. Desk Sets Antique Finish 1.50 Usually 2.00

40-in. Brocaded Satin Faced Crepe, 2.50 Usually 3.50

36-in. Two-tone Silk and Cotton Brocades, 1.00 Usually 1.69

Men's Natural Wool and Cotton Union Suits 2.10 Usually 2.00

Men's Natural Wool and Cotton Union Suits 3.75 Usually 5.00

40-in. Flat Crepe 2.00 Usually 2.75

Imported Black Velvet Mercerized Back 3.55 Usually 4.50

40-in. Mallinson's Silk and Wool Bengaline, 2.85 Usually 5.00

Irish Linen Vestee Sets, White or Ecru, 1.00 Usually 2.00

Imported Checked and Striped Wool Scarfs 1.50 Usually 2.00 to 2.50

Men's 10-Rib Umbrellas, Mercerized Cotton, 2.10 Usually 3.00

Women's Colored Umbrellas All Silk or Silk and Cotton 3.90 Usually 5.00 to 6.50

Garment Covers 95c Usually 1.25

Eight-Pocket Shoe Bags 59c Usually 89c

Striped Laundry Bags 95c Usually 1.25

White Flannel (part cotton) 95c Usually 1.25

Boys' Blouses 1.00 Usually 1.50 and 2.00

Pearl Buttons Underwear Sizes 3 doz. for 15c Usually 10c doz.

Colored Pearl Buttons, Medium Size, 15c doz. Usually 30c to 40c

Machine Made Filet Curtains 2.15 pr. Usually 3.50

Silk Taffeta Pillows 2.85 Usually 5.00

Rayon and Cotton Drapery Material 1.10 Usually 2.00

Leather Writing Cases 1.50 Usually 2.50

Lavender Odor Yardley's Double Compacts, 65c Usually 1.50 (Discontinued)

French Lemon Soap Box of 6 Cakes 50c Usually 1.00

Face Powder With Puff Assorted Shades 4 for 1.00 Usually 4 for 2.00

Silver Plated Water Pitchers 4.50 Usually 6.50

Silver Plated Candlesticks 3.75 pr. Usually 6.00

Fancy Sports Flannel (part cotton), 2.25 Usually 3.00

Dependable Dresden Dinner Sets Service for 6 15.00 Usually 20.00

Imported Divided Grill Plates 8.00 doz. Usually 12.50

Decorated English Teapots 5 to 8 cup sizes. 75c Usually 1.00 to 1.25

Ivory Colored Jardinieres 1.00 Usually 1.50

Remnants Broadloom Axminster and Chenille Carpeting at One-Half Price

Oval Figured Wilton Rugs 7.50 and 9.50 Usually 10.50 to 12.50

Figured Velvet Carpeting 27 inches 2.25 yd. wide Usually 3.25

Figured Worsted Yarn Carpeting 27 inches 5.25 yd. wide Usually 7.75

White Enamel Hampers 3.75 Usually 4.50

Reed Plant Stands Mahogany Finish 5.75 Usually 7.50

Universal Food Choppers 1.35 Usually 1.85

Silver Plated Center Pieces 4.00 Usually 6.50

25 Water Colors in Gold Leaf Frames 10.00 to 32.00 Usually 20.00 to 65.00

Mahogany Mirrors, Colonial Shapes, 13.50 Usually 22.00 to 25.00

14x26 in. Mirrors in Carved Frames, 7.50 Usually 12.00

18-Piece Glass Service Sets 10.00 Usually 18.00

Colored Glass Flower Bowls 50c to 1.50 Usually 1.00 to 3.00

Colored Glass Console Sets 5.00 Usually 7.50

Assorted Mosaic Brooches 50c Usually 1.00

Flexible Stone-Set Bracelets 5.00 Usually 8.50 to 10.00

Novelty Festoon Necklaces 1.00 Usually 2.00

Blue Grass Cloth 1.95 Roll Usually 4.50

Living-Room Wall Papers 50c Roll Usually 1.00

Avona Shellac 1 qt. Size, 95c Usually 1.25

JORDAN MARSH COMPANY

R.H.White Co.

Mail Orders Filled—Boston 8 Telephone Orders Filled—Hancock 4100

Wednesday and Thursday

Girls' All-Wool Coat Sweaters $2.50

Sizes 8 to 14 years.

Infants' White Dresses hand made and hand embroidered, short only $1.08

2nd Floor

Wednesday and Thursday

Bon Ton Combinations $3.75

For the average and stout figures. Made in fancy brioche with under belt.

Sizes 36 to 42.

2nd Floor

Wednesday and Thursday

Plain Crepe de Chine Scarfs $1.25

Hemstitched ends. Assorted colors.

Street Floor

Wednesday and Thursday

Women's Mercerized (Cotton) Sport Bloomers 69c

Flat lock seams, single rayon cuffs, cut long and full. Colors are gray, henna, copen and beige,

Sizes 36 to 44.

Street Floor

Wednesday and Thursday

Wide Arm Reed Chair $12.14

High back reed chair or rocker with a wide flat braced arm. Spring cushion and back covered in a good grade of tapestry. The seat under cushion is also fitted with springs.

Settee or rocker may be had to match.

4th Floor

Wednesday and Thursday

Hand Made Cluny Picot Lace Edge 10 yds. 90c

Street Floor

Wednesday and Thursday

Hand-Tufted Candle-wick Spreads, $2.79 each

Pattern: Bow-knot and basket, bow-knot and daisy, wild rose. Colors are all cream, rose, blue gold, orchid, green. Sizes: choice of single or double bed sizes. Made extra long (separate sham not required), real hand-tufted designs on heavy crepe finish cream color sheeting that does not have to be ironed.

Heavy Pure Linen Cloths, $1.15 each

Imported all linen large luncheon cloths, 50x50 inches, with beautiful printed patterns in fast colors, hemsed ready for use.

"Colonial" Cot Sheets, 89c each

Famous "Colonial" brand full bleached sheets, torn size 54x90 inches, for cots and couch beds.

3rd Floor, South

Wednesday and Thursday

Boys' School Overcoats $8.44

Neat, serviceable shades. Wool-lined Venetian yoke. Convertible collars. Double breasted models.

Sizes 11 to 14 years.

"Boys' Own Store," 2nd Floor

Wednesday and Thursday

Men's Amoskeag Domet Flannel Night Shirts $1.65

Fancy stripes. V neck or with military collar.

Sizes 15 to 20.

Street Floor

Wednesday and Thursday

Men's and Young Men's Blue 2-Trouser Suits $28.00

Blue serges. Blue undressed worsteds.

New blue suits single breasted, double breasted. Regulars, stouts, long and shorts.

Sizes 34 to 44.

Men's Clothing, Mezzanine

Wednesday and Thursday

Pictures in Hand Carved Frames $1.57

Subjects include "Spring Song," "Lone Wolf," "Hope," "Innocence," "Boy and Rabbit," "Flower Girl," etc.

The frames are attractively carved in many different designs finished in tones to match pictures.

Size 13¾x17 inches outside.

4th Floor

Wednesday and Thursday

Dotted Flounce Marquisette Curtains $1.37 pr.

Double flounce ends, narrow flounce on length. Cluster dots, small block with dot, also medium size single dot as illustrated.

3rd Floor, North

Wednesday and Thursday

39-In. Black Crepe Satin $1.90 yd.

54-In. Novelty Cotton and Wool Mixed Jersey 86c yd.

In shades of tan, gardenia green, cedar-bark, pansy and Bokhara.

36-In. Black Sateen 32c yd. (cotton)

Lustrous satiny finish.

36-In. Fine White Nainsook 22c yd.

Soft finish for undergarments.

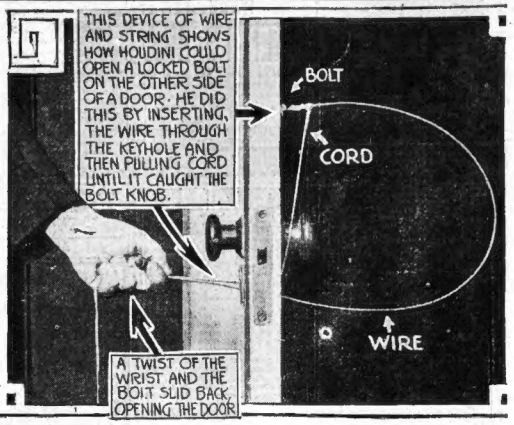
Street Floor

GOLDEN ROADS by Winifred Van Duzer

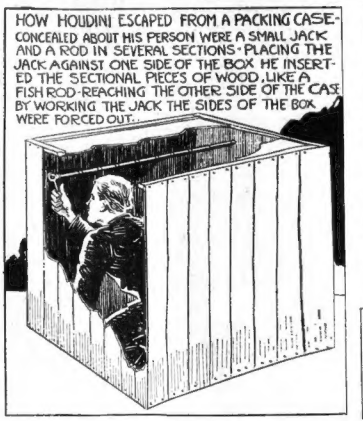
Author of "THE GOOD BAD GIRL"

Master Magician's Methods Revealed By Roxbury Doctor

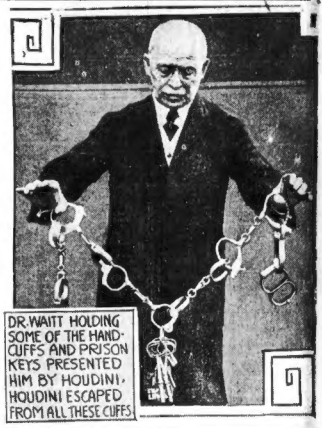
HARRY HOUDINI, THE MASTER MYSTIFIER



THIS DEVICE OF WIRE AND STRING SHOWS HOW HOUDINI COULD OPEN A LOCKED BOLT ON THE OTHER SIDE OF A DOOR. HE DID THIS BY INSERTING THE WIRE THROUGH THE KEYHOLE AND THEN PULLING CORD UNTIL IT CAUGHT THE BOLT KNOB.
BOLT
CORD
WIRE
A TWIST OF THE WRIST AND THE BOLT SLID BACK, OPENING THE DOOR



HOW HOUDINI ESCAPED FROM A PACKING CASE. CONCEALED ABOUT HIS PERSON WERE A SMALL JACK AND A ROD IN SEVERAL SECTIONS. PLACING THE JACK AGAINST ONE SIDE OF THE BOX HE INSERTED THE SECTIONAL PIECES OF WOOD, LIKE A FISH ROD, REACHING THE OTHER SIDE OF THE CASE. BY WORKING THE JACK THE SIDES OF THE BOX WERE FORCED OUT.



DR. WAITT HOLDING SOME OF THE HANDCUFFS AND PRISON KEYS PRESENTED HIM BY HOUDINI. HOUDINI ESCAPED FROM ALL THESE CUFFS.

GOLDEN ROADS

An Amazing Love Story of a Misunderstood Hub Working Girl

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Gay Moore and her cousin, Christine Noe, are employed in the State Street house of Johnstone Baird, Gay as a typist and Christine as a telephone operator. Christine is in love with Roger Pennington, called Penny by his intimates, whose wealth and social position appeal to her love of luxury. Stanley Baird, Penn's chum and son of Johnstone Baird, is in love with Gay. Gay returns his love, but knowing of the friendship existing between Johnstone Baird and a woman known as the "Lilac Lady," fears that Stanley will inherit his father's vices and grows doubtful of his love for her. Christine encourages the attention of Ivor Barclay to arouse Penny's jealousy. Gay fears that she has stirred the ire of Stanley's philandering parent and wonders what the consequences to the boy—and to herself—will be. On leaving the office next day she finds Stanley awaiting her. She hops into the motor and glancing back finds her sweetheart's father glaring after them from the curb. Meanwhile, Christine feels she is losing Penny's affections and schemes to turn his thoughts to her again. She takes him to a girl friend's apartment, and they spend the evening there.

CHAPTER 14.

Christine felt lifted up, all snapping electric brightness. She was sable, vivacious, sparkling, adorable — complete feminine enchantment. She made coffee; spread out her sandwiches like a picnic supper, cleared the dishes away, laughed, chattering merrily; tried new records on the phonograph, pinched Penny into a long story of his wanderings abroad. When he thought of the time it was midnight. A shadow of worry passed his face.

"You're a witch, Chris! May as well trek up home now. Let's do it again, though. Fun and frolic—well, I guess! Wonderful girl, you—"

She sent him away, happily. Combing her hair before the mirror, she leaned forward—kissed her reflection.

* * *

Christine lived it all over the next morning—let her dreams mount. Penny's warm, laughing gaze across the table; a moment when he caught her, held her in his arms, exultant; the lingering regret in his farewell.

Of course he cared. She'd have no more doubts, no more tantalizing suspicions. That was the way to lose a man; to worry—let him see that she didn't trust him.

She looked up through a rosy mist;

Please turn to Page 15, Column 3.

FRIEND TELLS HOW HOUDINI DID TRICKS

How Houdini, "the handcuff king," did some of the seemingly impossible stunts that made him one of the world's leading entertainers, were explained by Dr. J. E. Waitt, a retired Roxbury dentist who was an intimate friend of the magician for 24 years.

"Houdini never had a confederate in any of his acts and never allowed anyone within five feet of him while performing any of his stunts for fear the audience would think they were in collusion with him," said Dr. Waitt.

"He could slip out of any handcuff made, merely by the power of muscle control.

"His marvelous knowledge of locks was obtained when he was an apprentice to a locksmith in Wisconsin, between the ages of 8 and 15. He could even unlock the bolt of a door from the other side of the locked door. He did this by means of a piece of pliable wire about three feet long with a stout string attached to one end. After passing the wire through the keyhole he would pull the string so that the mechanism looked like a bow from which an arrow is shot. By twisting the wire back and forth he would catch hold of the knob of the bolt and then give it another twist to open it.

"The manner in which Houdini escaped from packing boxes was a simple one. He applied a small jack, about three inches long, to one side of the box, at the top. Then he inserted jointed bits of wood which he had concealed on his person. These were put together after the manner in which fishing rods are adjusted. One end of this rod would be put against the opposite side of the box. Then he would turn the little jack and it would push the boards off on both sides.

"Some handcuffs such as the old English 'darby' he could get off his wrists by striking them sharply against the floor or heel of his shoe.

BOSTON AMERICAN
BOSTON, TUESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1927

TOOK 7 DOCTORS AND ONE ORDERLY TO LIFT HER

WORLD'S HEAVIEST, 576 POUNDS

Mrs. Florence Carlson Schlumbchn is ill at the Mary Immaculate Hospital, Jamaica, L. I. The attendants had a hard struggle getting her from the operating table to the bed. In the Summer she is the fat woman freak at Coney Island.

DRUNK EVERY 10 YRS. TOO MUCH, JUDGE RULES

A man is not entitled to one drunk each week, nor even one drunk every ten years.

So ruled Judge Lloyd E. Chamberlain in Middlesex Probate Court today in the separate support suit brought by Mrs. Katherine Scott of Cambridge against her husband Robert.

Mrs. Scott contended that Robert was habitually intoxicated, and declared that he wasn't able to stand up on New Year's eve.

Attorney Patrick Delaney for her spouse retorted that the man felt he was entitled to at least one good drunk every week. This brought forth the comment of the court.

The couple have one minor child, Elisabeth M., who has taken turns in living with each parent and has also lived with friends.

"This little one was not born and brought into the world to be placed in institutions," said Judge Chamberlain. "She is to live with her father and mother. I am not going to hear this case because you would be farther apart when it was all over."

Scott told the judge that he was willing to turn over a new leaf, but Mrs. Scott was still doubtful. The court continued the case until March in order to allow the Scotts time to arrive at an understanding.

COST HIM $4,200 TO HAVE HIS FORTUNE TOLD

Luigi Bertorelli stepped into a "gypsy hut" in Hanover street to have his fortune told and it cost him $4,200, he told the police today.

Special Officer John Bresnahan of the Milk street station was assigned to investigate. A visit to the "hut" revealed that the girl who, it is alleged, stole Luigi's fortune, had departed for parts unknown. Luigi found consolation in the fact that the fortune teller forgot to take $600 that he carried in another pocket.

SHOTS AND ICE STOP BOYS IN STOLEN CAR

A policeman's barking revolver and an ice-coated street stopped two Charlestown boys today as they fled in an automobile which police charge was stolen in the South End.

As four shots rang through the air over their heads, the boys were suddenly tossed into the street when the automobile skidded and turned turtle while they were crossing the bridge leading from Boston into Chelsea.

Pounced upon by the policeman, they submitted meekly and gave their names as Richard Morris, 12, of High street, Charlestown, and Richard Gallagher, 14, of Russell street.

Patrolman Griffin, on duty in Charlestown, saw the boys speed past him and gave chase when he recognized the numbers of a car reported stolen a half-hour earlier. He commandeered another car and fired in the air to warn the boys to stop.

At the driver of the speeding car stepped on the brake at the sound of the shooting, the car skidded and overturned. Chelsea police took charge of the automobile, which was badly wrecked.

SENATOR UNDERWOOD ILL, BUT IMPROVING

Washington, Jan. 11 (A.P.).—Senator Underwood of Alabama is ill at his home here with pleurisy. At his office today it w as said his condition was improving rapidly.

Cold Weather Has Closed Schools In Florida

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Jan. 11 (A.P.).—All schools in Broward County were closed today on account of the cold weather. The lowest temperature reported during the last twelve hours was 33 degrees with a maximum yesterday of 70.

RESULTS

Board and Room 87

MALDEN—Infant boarded, priv. fam., excellent care, good local year. Mal. 2169-M.

The proper medium to acquaint the largest number of people with your needs is American and Advertiser Classified Ads.

Mrs. M. Solomon, of 52 Gordon street, Malden, inserted an ad. under Classification 87 and received very satisfactory results.

For results, phone your ads to Liberty 4000, "Classified Corner."

"Guilty" Father Defiant By Jean McDonough

"'BUT WHAT DID DAVIS SAY OR do, father,' I asked, 'that seems to trouble you so?' Father said: 'He walked into the office today fuming and raging. I sought to calm him, but he didn't give me the chance. He pointed at me threateningly. "Alton," he said, "I'm going to give you until tomorrow to decide what you are going to do about paying me. After that time if you don't decide in my favor I won't be responsible for what I do." With that he left me as quickly and as angrily.'

"'DURING THIS RECITAL FATHER hadn't touched his food. I tried to comfort him—to quiet the fears which disturbed him. I warned him. 'I don't know anything about this business,' I said, 'but I do know that Davis is dangerous. I think he means to do you harm. I wouldn't give him the chance, father. He's all excited now and he might do something rash. If I were you, father, I'd pay him whether he deserves it or not just to quiet him.'

"'NO, DAMN IT, DORIS, I WON'T.' Father was angry now—he pounded the table. 'No, I won't,' he shouted. 'I'm not going to be blackmailed into doing it. I'm not afraid of him—he wouldn't do anything to me—he wouldn't dare. He can't beat me legally and he won't beat me any other way.' Father got up from the table now and paced to and down the room, muttering under his breath. Then without a word he left the room. That was the last I heard about Davis from father.

"'THAT'S THE WHOLE STORY ABOUT Davis, Charles. Do you doubt now that he is the man who killed father?" Charles was deep in thought for a while and then he answered, "Somehow, Doris, I can't believe that Davis is guilty. Wasn't there someone else who threatened your father?" "Yes, Charles," I said, "Miller, the politician, did once or twice, but that was a month or two ago. Miller didn't do it, Charles—it was Davis. I'm certain of it now." (Continued tomorrow.

To Our Customers—

On account of Today's Storm

All Items Advertised for Tuesday

Will be on sale

WEDNESDAY

Also

JORDAN MARSH COMPANY

STAGE SCREEN MUSIC

MME. SOREL TRIUMPHS AS DU BARRY

By NICHOLAS YOUNG.

SINCE, in the very nature of things, there must be intervals of imported drama to distract the hardy playgoer from an overcharge of revue and such things, the solemn and faithful disciple of brighter things in the theatre should, at least, make a gesture of gratitude for the privilege of taking h i s special share from the Comedie Francaise of Paris, with the distinguished Cecile Sorel bestowing upon it her most brilliant and glowing expression.

Cecile Sorel

In the newest portraiture of the delightful, though, nevertheless, unbalanced DuBarry of Louis' heroic court. Mme. Sorel gave more than open evidence of the power which holds her so strongly to the ardent woosr of art over the seas.

As artistic events were disclosed at the Boston Opera House during the passage of "Maitresse de Roi," the difference in language lost its forbidding aspect as Sorel and her companions turned French history into drama and made it vibrate with even more than the usual theatrical ardor.

Possibly it was the restless Gallic temperament of the players, linked with a warm understanding of the play; it might have been the scintillating artistry of Sorel lifting her companions to concert pitch. In any event, the luckless Dubarry of Messrs. Aderer and Ephraim's historical drama ran true to form in the very best tradition of our own sturdy theatre. It was a vital story of the woman who sat at the elbow of the king during his reign and who faced the consequences with a calm eye when the revolution dragged her first into degradation and then to the guillotine.

If there were cheers for Sorel and praise for the more than adequate support given by Lorin Raynet, Rolla Norman and G. De Sax, also there was bewilderment and awe at the impressive production in which the play was presented. There are many homeland producers who pride themselves upon the perfection and bounty of their productions; to the most fastidious of them we might recommend a view of "Maitresse de Roi" as a good example of what makes the theatre worth its own box office value.

GLITTERING STARS IN BROADWAY'S BEST

"SUNNY" DISPOSITION

Jack Donahue and Marilyn Miller smile their prettiest in "Sunny," record-breaking Broadway hit, which opens tonight at the Colonial.

'TIN HATS' GOES OVER BIG AT THE STATE

By LEO GAFFNEY

"Tin Hats" at Loew's State takes up the war where "The Big Parade" left off.

It starts with a happy ending and continues in felicity through some six reels of doughboy comedy in which a new trio of buddies marches on with the Army of Occupation.

In the film Germany is invaded quite by accident and it is a thriving threesome whom an entire Teuton town turns out to honor. In an extravagant speech of welcome, the good Burgomaster, a large fattish person, tells the boys make themselves at home with the best in sight.

STEINS OVERFLOW.

Needless to say, the yearning Yanks are not at all slow to hop right to it, and the steins are flowed over with cool, frothy beer. While assembled at the sauerkraut, the company stands to sing the "Rousebaum Drinking Song" and at that point "Tin Hats" becomes as funny as George Sidney, its author and director, intended it to be.

Prior to this sequence, the comedy is labored, some of its gags are so overdone as to be distinctly unfunny. The continuity tripe itself is a struggle to connect with the "planted" comedy situations and the story is anything but logical. But it is so well fortified with energetic humor that the audience has a tremendous good time.

LATEST IN JAZZ.

The freshly revived three musketeers are Conrad Nagel, George Cooper and Bert Roach. As the comic D'Artagnan, Nagel has his best chance in a long while, Roach's grimaces are, as usual, hugely amusing, but Cooper turns in the best acting of the group.

Claire Windsor appears pictorially and perfunctorily as the German heroine, and Tom O'Brien has a bit as a relentless "top-kicker."

On the State stage, John Rea and his California Nighthawks Band play the newest things in jazz, with songs and dances on the side, to the great delight of all their hearers, while the house orchestra and organ and the customary quota of short films complete the bill.

In Heroine Role

AT ORPHEUM

Pauline Starke, seen in Elinor Glyn's "Love's Blindness" film at Loew's Orpheum.

ELINOR GLYN FILM HEADS LOEW'S ORPHEUM BILL

Elinor Glyn demonstrates by the picture, "Love's Blindness," at Loew's Orpheum, that she knows the public taste in photoplays as well as in fiction. The film by the way, was produced from Mme. Glyn's novel of the same name.

Most pictures end with a marriage, or with a gesture that would indicate impending matrimony, but "Love's Blindness" opens up with one. Pauline Starke, as Vanessa Levy the London money-lender's daughter, and Antonio Moreno, as Hubert Culverdale, the eighth Earl of St. Austel, who enters the match to save himself on bankruptcy, are the principals, and the elaborate wedding scene might easily be considered one of the features of the film.

Herbert Barnett and Jack Thomas, in their musical comedy revue, are the headliners on the Orpheum bill at vaudeville's premium. The Dell Sisters are featured members of the cast. Winchill and Briscoe in their skit, "Just For a Laugh," are another hit of the show.

IMPERSONATOR OF MAN TOPS KEITH'S BILL

Leading a show, any act of which could be billed as star, Ella Shields, London's own impersonator of man, met a responsive full house last night at Keith's Theatre.

Featuring the "Original Burlington Bertie" song, she moulded her act around a setting of character impersonations and placed them skillfully into tune, characterizing the male of the species in several roles.

Something different in terpsichore was the offering of Chaney and Fox in "Dance Visions of 1927." Assisted by the Zola sisters, Mary Jane Wright, Patsy Brooks and Catherine White, they scored heavily with the dainty steps set forth.

The Harrington Sisters, Helen and Agnes, billed, and rightfully so, as the little rosebuds in a garden of song, presented a combination of smooth harmony and rich comedy equal to any that has graced the Keith stage in many weeks. With voices that blend perfectly, they sang a number of special songs written by Mann Holiner and Albertina Nichols. With reluctance the audience allowed them to go.

Ernest Glendinning, always a drawing card at the popular vaudeville house, was roundly welcomed in his offering "Selfishness." He was assisted by Linda Ann Carlon and Booth Howard in the one-act comedy of home life.

Others on the bill, contributing to the comedy of the evening were Marty Collins and Harry Petersen, the collins carrying exceptionally good comedy lines and by Petersen as his straight man.

Elsie El Cleve in "A Bit Of Scotch," Manning and Class in a hair-raising tight-wire dancing act; The Three Sailors in a knockabout comedy and dance act and the Arena Brothers with their famous bounding dog rounded out an exceptional bill, in addition to the regular features of Pathe News, Topics of the Day and Aesop's Fables.

Piano Concerts

Mary Madden and Raymond Havens are the two pianists for the week booked for Jordan Hall. Miss Madden will play the rarely-heard F major Ballade of Chopin at her concert on Thursday afternoon, while Mr. Havens performs on Wednesday evening in what has come to be an annual appearance.

Continuing Shows

MAJESTIC—"A Night in Paris." Showing what they do in Paris after dark. Last times.

WILBUR—"Queen High." Musical comedy version of a popular farce, featuring Julia Sanderson, Frank Crumit and John E. Hazzard.

SHUBERT—"Princess Flavia." Romantic operetta based upon a popular Anthony Hope novel. Last times.

PLYMOUTH—Fay Bainter in "First Love." Brilliantly acted comedy with scenes laid in warm-hearted Paris. Last times.

TREMONT—"Old Ironsides," giving American history a taste of Mr. James Cruze's superlative direction.

COPLEY—"The Ghost Train." Mr Clive sticks to shocks and thrills, and throws in a little comedy.

Good jobs do not walk the streets—they are listed in the "Classified Columns." Read Help Wanted Classified.

CASTLE SQUARE CAST SEEN IN DOMESTIC COMEDY

"The Goose Hangs High," a home dramatic hit of a season or so ago, occupies the talents of the Castle Square Players for the week.

It is a comedy of domestic trials in which "flaming youth" breaks out with spontaneous combustion and very nearly destroys one perfectly good American home.

The conflagration lasts through two acts to the supreme annoyance of the older folks, and simmers down in the third when the ardors of the youngsters are dampened by a bit of bad news concerning father's fading finances.

At this juncture the precious youths cease their flaming and pitch right in to save the falling structure. Expensive habits are laid aside and united and industrious family hunt up wage-earning jobs to relieve the parental strain.

Gavin Gordon leads the youngest element together with Margaret George, and the supporting roles are capably handled by remaining members of the company.

FARCE SCORES AT ST. JAMES

Charles I. Schofield, director of Keith-Albee players at the St. James Theatre, scored heavily as A. B. "Hap" Hurley, trainer and manager of a "coming middleweight," in the first performance of "La Zat Go!"

The popular director of the players seemed cast in his element as the slangy, hard-boiled pilot of the disappointing pug, Eddie "Chicken" Cowan. Hurley and his proteges certainly mortified the smart set with their frequent lapses into the vernacular of the ring or gas house. But it all provided Mr. Schofield with a hero a line.

Edith Speare

Walter Gilbert proved a handsome footman and pugilist but it was in his best liked role of lovemaking with Florence Shirley as the nursemaid that he seemed the most appreciated.

The comedy was unusually long but Hurley's quips, especially his flowery efforts with Kathleen Wallace as the stenographer, poured up the barging action to make one unmindful of the hours.

FINE PLAY AT REPERTORY

Earnestly dedicated to the purpose of offering Boston the rarer gems of the drama, The Repertory presents "The World and His Wife" as an example of it's best standards. It is an intense and tragic play translated from the Spanish of Echegary and was first given in these regions by William Faversham. Though Spanish in idiom and setting, the creep and scope of the material take it far outside one country or one time.

The scandal set in motion by wagging tongues forms its theme, and its greatest ironic power lies in the fact that this same scandal, probably false at first is finally made a reality by the very force of whispered calumny. Those who in the beginning are merely accused of being sweethearts, have become sweethearts in earnest as the curtain falls.

Coming Events

Following a week of darkness, the Hollis will reopen next Monday with "Judy," a new musical comedy.

"Loose Ankles" will be the next attraction at the Plymouth, starting next Monday.

The succeeding film feature at the Metropolitan will be "New York," starting next Saturday.

"Silence" will be the attraction at the St. James next week.

"What Price Glory?" in cinema, will begin its local engagement at the Majestic, starting next Monday.

"Cousin in the Air," a musical comedy, starts at the Shubert January 24th.

Opportunity knocks daily in the Help Wanted Columns of the Classified Ads. Classifications 60 and 58.

Week's Features

SCOLLAY SQUARE—Shirley Mason in "Rose of the Tenements," with Johnny Harron, Vaudeville.

WALDRON'S—"Kongo," a dramatic offering, with Charles B. Middleton in the leading role. Vaudeville.

BOWDOIN SQUARE—"The Winning of Barbara Worth," "War Paint," "Masked Manias" and vaudeville, headlined by Wesley Eddy.

GAYETY—(Burlesque) "Uncle Tom and Eva in Burlesque," musical travesty, with Cliff Bates and the Bricel Sisters.

HOWARD—(Burlesque) "Smiles and Kisses" revue, with Kitty Warren and Charlie Goldie. Vaudeville.

Baby Movie Stars for 1927 Are Announced

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Universal Service Motion Picture Editor

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 11.—Fandom opened the box and trouble flew out. Someone opened the box containing the names of the baby stars to be chosen at the Wampas annual dance and a little bird flew out, bearing the official list. Now I may be wrong, but just this time I save a bunch my prophecy is correct.

So that all the readers of this column other than those who live in Hollywood will know what all this means, I must explain. The Wampas is no vicious form of man-eating beast but a group of the most representative press agents on the West Coast.

Once a year they choose thirteen promising young actresses and present them with the title of baby stars.

Just so you will know these boys are good pickers I want to mention that Mary Astor, Sally O'Neil, Marceline Day, Dolores Costello, Joan Crawford and Clara Bow have been among those chosen in previous years.

Now, unless I have been misinformed, the following potential stars will be decorated with the royal order of infant stardom: Helen Costello, Natalie Kingston, Martha Sleeper, Mary McAllister, Sally Rand, Sally Phippa, Patrician Avery, Iris Stewart, Gladys McConnell, Rita Carewe, Jean Navelle, Adamae Vaughan and Yola D'Avril.

Mary Astor

ONE YOUNGSTER WHO MADE FLAPPERISM somewhat prominent on the screen will change her plans this coming year. Alberta Vaughan, whose meteoric rise the last few years has been one of the unexpected happenings in filmland, is about to sever relations with F. B. O.

Miss Vaughan's contract is up in June and the separation is one of mutual consent. There is some talk of her going to Famous Players-Lasky but this seems hardly likely inasmuch as Clara Bow, the college boys' delight, does very much the same type of thing.

Amusements

LOEW'S STATE
Mass. Ave., at Norway St.
Continuous from 1:00 to 11 P. M.
CONRAD NAGEL CLAIRE WINDSOR ARE WONDERFUL IN "TIN HATS"
"IT'S A LITTLE BIG PARADE"
And a METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER Picture
THE STAGE OFFERS:
A Return Engagement of JOE LEA'S
CALIFORNIA NIGHTHAWKS
"THE BANNER BAND OF HANDS"
With Augmented Company of SINGERS, DANCERS and COMEDIANS
Mats. 30c—Eves. 40c-50c

LOEW'S ORPHEUM
"In the Heart of the Theatre District"
Continuous from 9:15 A. M. to 11 P. M.
FIRST BOSTON SHOWING OF ELINOR GLYN'S
GREATEST NOVEL PICTURIZATION
LOVE'S BLINDNESS
With Three Screen Sweethearts
ANTONIO PAULINE
MORENO & STARKE
BARNETT—THOMAS REVUE
HEADING SIX ACTS VAUDEVILLE
ORAN HECTOR'S — KARLY KOONEY'S
CHONERZ AT THE BIG ORGAN
AT THESE "LOEW" PRICES
Overture to 12:30 11:30 to 5:30 5:30 to Close
25c 35c 50c
CHARLESTON and BLACK BOTTOM DANCE CONTEST — TODAY NIGHTS
Cash Prizes Girls Only Enter Now

PLYMOUTH Evs. at 8:15 Mats. Tues. & Sat. at 2:15
LAST 5 DAYS
FAY BAINTER
In the Schnitzlehipp Farce Comedy
"FIRST LOVE"
with BRUCE McRAE
NEXT WEEK — SEATS NOW
YOU'LL LAUGH YOUR HEAD OFF AT LOOSE ANKLES
NEW YORK'S PRICE COMEDY HIT

SCOLLAY SQ. OLYMPIA
BIGGEST SHOW VALUE IN BOSTON
Now Playing—Five Acts—Photoplay
Love Is New York's Best Side
ROSE OF THE TENEMENTS with SHIRLEY MASON & JOHNNY HARRON
Glittering Drama of Amsterdamites
7 ALL STAR ACTS
Headed by
THE DARLING OF BROADWAY
EDITH CLASPER and BOYS
In "SWEETHEARTS TIME"
OTHER HEADLINE ATTRACTIONS
NEXT WEEK—EDDIE LEONARD
In "JUST ANOTHER BLONDE"

COLONIAL Evgs. at 8 MATS. at 2
TONIGHT at 8 P. M.
FIRST POP. MAT. TOM'W
CHARLES DILLINGHAM Presents
MARILYN MILLER
In the Artistic Triumph of Musical Comedies
"SUNNY" with JACK DONAHUE
And Featured CLIFTON WEBB
NEXT MONDAY NIGHT
at the HOLLIS for Only 2 Weeks
The JEWEL of Musical Comedies
"JUDY"
with PATSY KELLY SEATS NOW

B. F. KEITH'S
At 2 & 8 P. M.
MATINEES Daily 75c Orchestra 200 Seats Only 50c
NIGHTS 75c to $2.50
BIG BILL OF HITS!
ELLA SHIELDS
Chaney & Fox, "Vision"
Collins & Peterson
OTHER BIG ACTS
With Her BARNEY GLEEKMAN
NEXT WEEK—EDDIE LEONARD
COMING SOON! PAT ROONEY

KEITH-ALBEE
STOCK COMPANY
ST. JAMES THEATRE
Evgs. at 8:15—Regular Mat. Today at 2:15
"IZ ZAT SO"
With Walter Gilbert, Florence Shirley
SEATS RESERVED Phone KEN. 4800
(Ext. 226 to 31. Mats. (Ex. Sat.) 50c-75c-$1.
MATINEE TODAY—"IZ ZAT SO"
Seats on Sale at Jordan's, Filene's & Shepard's
NEXT ATTRACTION—COMEDY
3 VAUDEVILLE ACTS AND PHOTOPLAYS

THE REPERTORY
THEATRE OF BOSTON
Management The JEWETT Players of Theatre Road, Inc.
The Great Modern Drama, The WORLD and HIS WIFE
Evgs. 8:10. Mats. Thurs. and Sat. 2:10
Prices, 50c to $2. NO TAX

BOWDOIN SQ. THEATRE
CONTINUOUS
WESLEY BARRY (Freckles) Himself, in person, assisted by Franklin Ritter. Also "The Winning of Barbara Worth," with Ronald Colman and Vilma Banky. "War Paint" with Tim McCoy and Dorothy Sebastian. "Masked Maniacs," with 3 vaudeville Acts. Next Week, Harold Lloyd in "Speedy."

GAYETY 2 Shows Daily
UNCLE TOM and EVA
IN BURLESQUE

MODERN-BEACON
M. E. T. O. CO.
2 FIRST RUN FEATURES—Both Theatres
MARIE PREVOST in MAN BAIT
"GOING CROOKED"
BESSIE LOVE OSCAR SHAW

The SEASON'S RECORD-SMASHER
JAMES CRUZE'S Production
OLD IRONSIDES
A PARAMOUNT PICTURE
TREMONT THEATRE
2:15-TWICE DAILY-8:15
SUNDAYS AT 2:15
MATS. 50c & $1. EVES. 50c to $1.50

OLYMPIA WASH. ST. NOW PLAYING—3 HOUR SHOW OF VAUDEVILLE AND PICTURES
THRILLS / ACTION / ROMANCE
RICHARD BARTHELMESS in "THE WHITE BLACK SHEEP" with PATSY RUTH MILLER
BIG VAUDEVILLE BILL
Headed by LA FOYE-STANTON & CO.
"TEA FOR THREE"
OTHER ACTS—PICTURES—NEWS
NEXT WEEK COLLEEN MOORE in THUNDERBOLTS

TONIGHT and FRI. MAT.
SOREL World's Greatest Violinist
In "CAMILLE"
BOSTON OPERA HOUSE
MATS. WED., FRI. & SAT.
TOMORROW MAT. & EVE. "MAITRESSE DE ROI"

COPLEY MAT. TODAY at 2:30 Evs. at 8:30
Management S. J. Cline—Tel. Ken. 4677-4678
THE GHOST TRAIN
You'll Shiver with Thrills and Rock with Laughter.

FENWAY Betty Bronson in "Peter Pan"
"Everybody's Comedian in Everybody's Wife"

9:30 A. M. CONTINUOUS TO 11 P. M.
KEITH-ALBEE BOSTON
CECIL B. DeMILLE SENSATION!
THE FLAME OF YUKON
With BEERA GWENN and ARNOLD GRAY
MARCELLE CHAYNE & ALEXANDER GRAY REVUE, TULIP TIME, EDMUNDS & FARGO, LEONARD & VECCHITTI, HOWARD NICHOLS MORTON & DAYNE and Extra Features. "It's Sinful to Be Blase Days."

MAJESTIC—LAST WEEK
The FAMOUS CASINO DE PARIS REVUE
A NIGHT IN PARIS
JACK PEARL & 100 ARTISTS and BEAUTIES

CASTLE SQ. THEATRE PLAYERS IN
THE GOOSE HANGS HIGH
Evs. 8:15 MATS. TUES., THURS., SAT. 2:15

Howard "Bathe and Dress" Revue with Kitty Warren, Chas. Goldie, vaudeville and burlesque. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Wed., Thurs., Sat. 2:15.

Amusements

Metropolitan
ADOLPHE MENJOU
"Blonde or Brunette"
A Paramount Picture
Cambria's Original Stage Spectacle!
"PEARL OF DAMASCUS"
Direction of CASTILLA and the GRAND CONCERT ORCHESTRA
MIRIAM LAX—Superb Soprano
METROPOLITAN GRAND ORCHESTRA
TELEPHONE 4-6-8 FOR SEE ENTIRE EVENING SHOW STARTING NOON 9:00 P.M. 6-9 P.M.

Amusements

NEXT MON. NIGHT JAN. 17
MAJESTIC THEATRE
THE YEAR'S GREATEST MOTION PICTURE
WILLIAM FOX PRESENTS
WHAT PRICE GLORY
FUNNIEST FILM EVER MADE
PRESENTED WITH SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA ACCOMPANIMENT
TWICE DAILY—2:15 and 8:15
PRICES MATS.—50c, 75c, $1.00 NIGHTS—50c, 75c, $1, $1.50 NO HIGHER SEATS ON SALE THURSDAY

Amusements

ATTENTION!!!
Add Comfort to Your Theatre-Going by Reserving Your Seats in Advance, Insuring Location and Avoiding Waiting in Line.

NEIGHBORHOOD THEATRES TONIGHT

ALLSTON
CAPITOL COMEDY Ave.
Hilton Silk in "THE SILENT LOVER"
Doris Kenyon in "LADY SURRENDERS"
Sunday Vaudeville and Picture Sat. Mats. Daily at 2:00 10 A. M.
ALLSTON BRIGHTON Ave.
Lya De Putti, Ben Lyon in "THE PRICE OF TEMPTERS"
Alberta Vaughn in "Collegiate"
CAMBRIDGE
CENTRAL Sq.
Lya De Putti, Ben Lyon in "THE PRICE OF TEMPTERS"
Emmett O'Toole, the Comedy Juggler
5 Acts Vaudeville
HARVARD HARVARD Sq.
Carlene Griffith in "Syncopating Sue"
Ben Lyon in "Kentucky Handicap"
UNIVERSITY POTTER 4580 HARVARD SQ.
Vilma Banky, Ronald Colman in "THE WINNING OF BARBARA WORTH"
Prices 25c to 75c
"MY OFFICIAL WIFE"
Sunday Vaudeville, Mat. Cont. 2 to 10:30
CHELSEA
BROADWAY CHELSEA
Valentino-Terry in "The Four Horsemen"
Alberta Vaughn in "Gallopin' Through"
OLYMPIA CHELSEA
Doris Kenyon, Lloyd Hughes in "Ladies at Play"
Eugene O'Brien, Virginia Lee Corbin in "Flames"
DORCHESTER
DORCHESTER THEATRE
Viola Dana, Hal Cooley in "Kosher Kitty Kelly"
Stanley Durden, Jean Hersh in "Lost at Sea"
FRANKLIN PARK
Lambrin Joy in "Eve's Leaves"
Big Time Vaudeville
STRAND DORCHESTER
Milton Sills in "The Silent Lover"
Edith Roberts in "Shameful Behavior"
COMMONWEALTH
Lois Wilson in "The Great Gatsby"
Dual in Vodvil
FIELD'S CORNER
Owen Gorin, Antonio Moreno in "The Temptress" "The Night Cry"
NEPONSET NORTON THEATRE
Reginald Denkith Valentino in "The Four Horsemen"
Dan Coat in "Pals in Paradise"
EVERETT
RIALTO
Dan Hersh in "Tongues of Seconds" Dual
"The Night Cry"
GROVE HALL
NEW SHAWMUT METRO
Owen Gorin in "The Temptress"
JAMAICA PLAIN
JAMAICA
Rudolph Valentino in "The Four Horsemen"
Laurence Day, Vera Reynolds in "The Clinging Vine"
MALDEN
GRANADA MALDEN
Dorothy Knapp, Lloyd Hughes in "Ladies at Play"
5 High Class Acts Vaudeville
STRAND MALDEN
Owen Gorin, Antonio Moreno in "The Temptress"
Paramount Vaudeville Direct from B. F. K.
MYSTIC MALDEN
Dorothy Lyndell in "Obey the Law"
4 Big Acts Vodvil
MEDFORD
FELLSWAY MEDFORD
Virginia Valli in "The Family Upstairs"
Huntley Gordon, Vera Reynolds in "Lost at Sea"
Vaudeville—Mat. Night
ROSLINDALE
RIALTO ROSLINDALE
Rudolph Valentino in "The Four Horsemen"
Laurence Day, Vera Reynolds in "The Clinging Vine"
ROXBURY
DUDLEY DUDLEY Sq.
Allan Terry in "The Magician"
Keith Kiley's Musical Comedy 10 People
METRO RIVOLI THEATRE
Viola Dana in "Kosher Kitty Kelly"
Stuart Chatterton in "Dancing Days"
SOMERVILLE
STRAND THEATRE
Constance Talmadge in "The Duchess of Buffalo"
"SEA." The Storm, in "The Devil Horse"
DAVIS SQUARE DIMPLE
Claire Windsor in "Dance Madness"
Tom Tyler in "Wild to Go"
7 Amateur Vodvil Acts
WARD'S SOMERVILLE THEATRE
Herbert Ashton, Jr., in "Tempo"
With Lily Damita
(Herbert Ashton's Mother) Guest Star.

GAMBLER CAUSE OF HORNSBY TRADE

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS

SPEED, ACCURACY, INTEREST — NEWS THE DAY IT HAPPENS

TUESDAY, JANUARY 11, 1927

RUNYON SAYS:

IT looks as if I may have to go down into Mexico and trap a few wild Indian runners just to settle an argument that started in this column recently.

You may recall that I began by narrating the galloping exploits of the Tarahumara and Yaqui Indians, runners extraordinary. Then along came Mr. T. F. Lefforge a citizen of Atlanta, Ga., telling me of Dr. Seller, who warmed up an appetite for breakfast with a hundred mile spin afoot and thought nothing of it.

Damon Runyon

I thought that would hold the Tarahumaras and the Yaquis for a while, but the good doctor's feats were scarcely cold in type when Senor Lamberto Alvarez Gayon, a young Mexican sports writer, fell upon his trusty typewriter and on behalf of the Tarahumaras and the Yaquis issued a new proclamation.

He says:

Dear Mr Runyon:

I was greatly interested in your recent story about Mr. T. F. Lefforge's statements of the running prowess of the American long distance runner Dr. Seller, which I do not question at all, but avail myself of the opportunity to inform you that you still have to go away from home to get the news.

Marks Made by Mexican Indians

A group of the Yaqui Liberal forces operating in the State of Sonora, Mexico, against the Federal forces of General Manse—meaning "Tame" in the Spanish language—established a new and queer long distance running mark. The Indians, about 300 in number, heavily armed with 500 rounds of ammunition each, a requisition army rifle, a big knap-sack with "pinale" (Indian food made out of ground corn and sugar) and which, together with "tacanora" (Indian drink), constitutes their only food during battle), and some other military equipment, attacked a small Federal garrison about 300 miles from Vlo Rio Yaqui, Sonora.

The strong Federal garrison at Vicam was mobilized to the rescue of the small garrison being attacked by the Indians. Upon the mobilization of the Vicam Federals, the attacking Yaquis were advised by their scouts and started toward Vicam.

Indians Drive Off Federal Troops

THE Yaquis, on finding Vicam with a very short garrison, took the place by surprise and carried away with them a great quantity of war and food supplies and returned to attack the Federals 300 miles away.

Half of the troops on know that the Yaqui had made a courteous war visit to Vicam returned to the place hoping to find the Indians still busy with their looting and were anxious to pay them their compliments.

Before the Federal commander could solve the mystery the Indians had gathered in great numbers and driven away the Federals, whom they gave no rest, attacking once more at Potam, seriously defeating them. The Yaqui Indian mobilizations were all made on foot. The Federals used the Southern Pacific trains to transport their troops. All this took place within ten days.

It would be an interesting experiment for an American promoter to match Dr. Seller, the American Hopi and Zuni Indians, who recently ran a full marathon at New Mexico and the Tarahumara Indians (the Yaqui Indians are too busy at present with their war activities to participate).

Copyright, 1927, Int'l Feature Service, Inc

Low mileage—low price! Many unusual opportunities in used car bargains. Before you buy see the Autos for Sale Columns. Classification 120.

HIGH SCORE TEAM AT ARENA

Chicago Blackhawks, Who Lead League, Play Bruins in First Game Here

By BILL GRIMES.

THE Boston Bruins are in for another tough battle this evening when they meet the Chicago Blackhawks at the Boston Arena. The Windy City outfit has been the sensation of the American Division of the National Hockey League. They came into the league unheralded but from the start of the season they have been right up with the leaders. Chicago is now tied with the New York Rangers for first place, having amassed a total of 19 points, while the Bruins are two points behind.

The Chicago club is the highest scorer in the N. H. L. It has made 52 goals in 18 games; Dick Irvin, the same ice man being credited with an even fourth. Babe Dye, who was with St. Pat's of Toronto last season will be the right wing for the Blackhawks, was out of the game with a big injury for three weeks but the Chicago boys went right on winning, which is a fine indication of the strength of the spares.

Bill Grimes

There is no team in either division of the N. H. L. boasting of a better array of subs than the Chicago. Cully Wilson, McVeigh and Hay have been playing a brand of hockey equal to that of the first string line.

Fraser and Trapp will be on the outer defense, with Hughie Lehman in the nets. Fraser was with the Victorias, which won the Western League championship last season and lost in the playoff for the Stanley Cup to the Montreal Maroons.

The Bruins will look better against Chicago than they did against the Maroons last Saturday. Frank Fredrickson will make a noticeable difference in the all-around play of the Boston team. He is a strong offensive player, being an especially clever passer and checks back well, doing much of the work off the defense.

Dartmouth Ice Team Arrives

Coach Brainy Bower and his Dartmouth hockey squad arrived in town this morning for their game with B. U. tomorrow night at the Boston Arena.

The Big Green went directly to the Arena for practice. The squad was out through an hour of hard work during which they showed better all-around ability than last year's all-star outfit.

Bob Fitzsenger, Cuddy Gardner and Dick Bowers will start on the forward line against Harvard, with Capt. Hardy and Myles Lane on the defense and Mike Sherman in the nets.

The Dartmouth team has had but little practice since returning from the Christmas vacation. The ice at Hanover has been very poor but Coach Bower predicts that Dartmouth will make a creditable showing against the Crimson.

J. SHARKEY BUILDS UP HIS MILLION DOLLAR FISTS

Jack Sharkey, who fractured a hand on Homer Smith's brow, up in Syracuse, is training once more. He never misses a chance to exercise his fists and wrists. They softened up while he was resting. This shows Jack chinning himself on a tree in his yard out in Brookline. He hopes to chin Gene Tunney later on. Jack's hands are set once more, and he will start punching next week. That will give him a month before he fights some contender in New York. He says he needs the million.

SHARKEY AT WORK AGAIN

Starts Drive for Future Collisions With Maloney and Jack Delaney

By JACK CONWAY.

JACK SHARKEY today started his drive for Gene Tunney's heavyweight championship when he resumed training near his home at Chestnut Hill. The youthful Boston battler, who with his fists of iron crushed the fighting flame out of the gigantic Harry Wills, began getting fit for a strenuous ring program by going out on the road. He circled Chestnut Hill reservoir twice.

After breakfast Sharkey spent considerable time [illegible] upon branches of trees in his own grounds. Jack is anxious to strengthen his hands which he recently injured when he knocked out Homer Smith in a [illegible]

Sharkey is [illegible] with Tex Rickard to [illegible] Tunney on September [illegible] Sharkey took the [illegible] under the auspices of Rickard. With Tex [illegible] Years Wills [illegible] Dempsey. As soon as Tunney [illegible] champion, [illegible] Rickard [illegible] Brown Panther a chance at the title. Sharkey [illegible] and defeated Mike [illegible] any [illegible]

Sharkey considers Maloney, Delaney and Dempsey [illegible] ing rivals.

[illegible] Maloney [illegible] Jack [illegible] knocked [illegible] contender [illegible] as game [illegible] room [illegible] Jack [illegible] punches [illegible] Jack [illegible] Sharkey [illegible] Maloney [illegible]

SPEAKS OF MINOR BOUT.

"I shall then be ready for Dempsey in an outdoor show. In the event I conquer Dempsey, I don't believe anybody can question my right to battle Tunney for the title. I would not care to meet Gene if I had not eliminated all of the leading challengers."

In [illegible] Sharkey will [illegible] Jack Delaney, New York [illegible] Boston [illegible] Maloney [illegible] Sharkey [illegible] Maloney [illegible] Harry Wills [illegible] Dempsey [illegible] Tunney [illegible]

DEMPSEY MAY NOT BOX.

"Sharkey's confidence certainly has strongly impressed me. He told me to go out and get anyone for his opponent. He stands ready to sign for a meeting with either Delaney or Maloney right now. He is not asking all the percentage, either, for a fight with these men. He thinks he can take either of them, then beat Dempsey and follow this up by taking the title from Tunney.

"That chap is after the championship and it looks like he is nearly confident of accomplishing the trick. His confidence certainly makes a hit with me."

Edda Mussolini Honorary Head of Italian W. A. F.

MILAN, Italy, Jan. 11 (A.P.)—The Women's Athletic Federation has selected Edda Mussolini, daughter of the Premier, as their honorary president, considering her one of the best examples of Italian young womanhood in the sporting field.

DELANEY AND DEMPSEY TO BE HELD BACK

New York, Jan. 11 (A.P.)—[illegible] Dempsey and Jack Delaney [illegible] until the [illegible] Arlington Tex Rickard [illegible] paid $5 [illegible] to a office boxers [illegible] of the cards, it [illegible] dent that the [illegible] made by Maloney, Sharkey, Harry Wills and [illegible] Young Stribling.

Rickard already has decided to hold [illegible] in power. He [illegible] Arlington [illegible] Tunney and plans [illegible] Dempsey [illegible] to meet the winner of an elimination series.

Delaney [illegible] Dempsey [illegible] "Mild desire" of the [illegible] Pete Reilly, [illegible] Hummel [illegible] Dempsey [illegible] with [illegible] champion, [illegible] Rickard [illegible] Brown Panther a chance at the title. Sharkey [illegible] and defeated Mike [illegible] any [illegible]

Sharkey considers Maloney, Delaney and Dempsey [illegible] ing rivals.

[illegible] Maloney [illegible] Jack [illegible] knocked [illegible] contender [illegible] as game [illegible] room [illegible] Jack [illegible] punches [illegible] Jack [illegible] Sharkey [illegible] Maloney [illegible]

SPEAKS OF MINOR BOUT.

"I shall then be ready for Dempsey in an outdoor show. In the event I conquer Dempsey, I don't believe anybody can question my right to battle Tunney for the title. I would not care to meet Gene if I had not eliminated all of the leading challengers."

In [illegible] Sharkey will [illegible] Jack Delaney, New York [illegible] Boston [illegible] Maloney [illegible] Sharkey [illegible] Maloney [illegible] Harry Wills [illegible] Dempsey [illegible] Tunney [illegible]

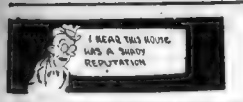
DEMPSEY MAY NOT BOX.

"Sharkey's confidence certainly has strongly impressed me. He told me to go out and get anyone for his opponent. He stands ready to sign for a meeting with either Delaney or Maloney right now. He is not asking all the percentage, either, for a fight with these men. He thinks he can take either of them, then beat Dempsey and follow this up by taking the title from Tunney.

"That chap is after the championship and it looks like he is nearly confident of accomplishing the trick. His confidence certainly makes a hit with me."

GRIFFITH IS DICKERING FOR SERVICES OF WHEAT

Washington, Jan. 11 (A.P.)—[illegible] president [illegible] Washington baseball club, is dickering [illegible] Zack Wheat, [illegible] Brooklyn outfielder [illegible] Griffith [illegible] Wheat [illegible] Brooklyn [illegible] Wheat



An All-Round Athlete Is One Who Can Serve a Home-Run on a Kickoff

EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS

LINK VETS NEED NEW COURSE

Veteran Golfers Have Little Opportunity to Enjoy Round at Franklin Park

By BILL GRIMES.

DURING the annual dinner of the Illinois Seniors Golf Association, held recently at the Chicago Athletic Association, which was attended by an even hundred of the 327 members, one member stated "half of the men seated around these tables would be dead today were it not for golf."

This is also true of all the United States Seniors' Golf Association bodies. The Seniors' Golf Association has done much to prolong the lives of its members. The national body was met and play for their respective championships. They have four classes into which the members are assigned according to their ages. Annually they gather at the Apawamis Country Club at Rye, N. Y., to play for the United States championship.

SHOOT GOOD GOLF.

Due to their years of golfing activities, the seniors from Class A to D are able to shoot good golf, and, without exception, belie their ages. The championship tournaments of this organization are heavily attended and carry considerable interest throughout the country.

Although few have taken advantage of it, veterans of public golf courses are eligible for membership in the United States Seniors' Golf Association.

The creation of a new golf course at Fowl Meadows by the Metropolitan District Commission, as proposed by the Bateman bill, which will come before the committee on Metropolitan Affairs next week at the State House, would offer an opportunity for the old timers to take up golf, the greatest of all outdoor recreations. Some veterans manage to get in their rounds of golf at Franklin Park, but many, who cannot afford to join private clubs, are given up the game owing to the overcrowded conditions at the park.

Naturally, the old-timers do not relish hurrying around a golf course. They are not physically able to keep the pace that the younger players set. At the park they are forced to race around or skip and allow the other players to pass.

NO PROVISIONS.

The veterans are unable to get in their rounds during the early hours, before the course is crowded, but during the afternoon. In fact there are no provisions for the old timers, who are in no need of the exercise and fresh air than the younger generation.

If the Fowl Meadows project meets with the approval of the voters at the State House it would be a wise matter to care for every class of golfers.

The present plans for an eighteen hole course, but this could be laid out so as to be two nine hole ones and another nine holes could be added at a small expense, which would give the thousands Boston golfers an ideal layout.

The seasonal golfers could be stationed in the clubhouse, while one nine hole hole lay in reserve for the members and women. Under these arrangements the veterans would have their choice of two courses, play would proceed without the delays which now accompany every round at Franklin Park, and every class of golfer would be able to enjoy his rounds.

WOMEN SIDETRACKED.

The Fowl Meadows course would be an incentive for more of the fair sex taking up the game. Only a very few of the women who play golf at present are well enough versed in the game to journey out on the regular course at Franklin Park, so they are forced to content themselves down on the practice links. They are entitled to as much consideration as the men golfers, but they have been all neglected since the City of Boston voted to abolish the six hole course in order to make room for the nine hole one.

For years the women golfers have been protesting against the Franklin Park arrangement, and now, if they will let the Senators and Representatives of the manner in which they have been discriminated against, or at least succeeded in the eyes of the public, even chance will be afforded a chance to use their golf.

GET STARTED RIGHT!
YMCA
BACK BAY 4400
316 HUNTINGTON AVENUE
BOSTON-MASS.

Indoor Sports By TAD

OH-I'M SO GLAD THAT EUSTACE HAS LEFT THE ROOM FOR A MOMENT HE MADE A SET FOR HIMSELF BUT WE CAN'T EVEN GET STATIC ON IT I DO WISH YOU'D LOOK AT IT AND SEE WHAT'S WRONG - HE CERTAINLY - YES - YES I LOVE TO TINKER AROUND HOME MADE SETS
OFFICE TO THE WIFE MEANING GREAT STUFF
DON'T FORGET TO ASK MR TWOWATTS ABOUT MY LEAKAGE TRAIN NA
WOMEN FUST NOTHIN I WAS IN HERE WAITIN' FUST
I'LL ONLY TAKE HIM A JIFFY TO FIX MINE
MY SETS FULLA WINISTLES HE CAN FIX IT ILL BET
I WANT TA ASK HIM 'BOUT THE COIL ON MY STILL THE NEIGHBORS CHILDREN
MOST OF ITS THE BUNK
I CALL MY SWEETIE ETHO - SHE ALWAYS COMES BACK TO ME
INDOOR SPORTS
INVITING THE RADIO ED OUT TO THE HOUSE FOR A PACKIN AND A NICE QUIET EVENING OF FUN
AD. 1-11

11 PLAYERS IN BASEBALL TRADE

New York, Jan. 11 (Universal).—Burleigh Grimes, one of the few surviving moist ball artists, and George Harper, outfielder, will play with the Giants next season.

They become members of the John McGraw clan in a four-cornered deal involving the Giants, Robins, Phillies and the Buffalo club of the International League.

Eleven players will be involved in the deal when it is completed, McGraw said, in making the announcement at the Giants' office.

Buffalo was brought into the transaction because the Phillies demanded Alex Ferguson, who formerly pitched for the Yankees.

The Phils insisted on Alex, and McGraw negotiated with Bill Clymer, Bisons' pilot, to have Ferguson turned over to the Bostonian aggregation. The Bisons are handsomely rewarded with players for their bit.

In the first part of the trade, the Giants turn over to the Phillies Jack Scott, pitcher, and Infielder Lafayette Thompson, who with Ferguson.

For these players the Quakerville crew surrenders Butch Henline, catcher, and Harper. The Giants retain Harper, but pass Henline on in the deal with the Robins.

Henline goes to the Brooklyn Club and Raleigh Gilmore is given by the Robins to the Giants. The Robins give and receive only one player, although they pass from the control of the Buffalo to the Spring.

The Phillies not only give up Henline and Harper, but they will turn over to the Buffalo team "Lefty" Spence and Infielder Hyatt. These two will be released outright to the Bisons.

U. S. CANNOT DEFEND OLYMPIC NET TITLES

New York, Jan. 11 (A.P.)—The United States, winner of all five Olympic tennis titles in 1924 at Paris, is not likely to defend any of them in the international games at Amsterdam in 1928 because of the dates selected for the next Olympic competition.

Under the schedule recently decided upon, the Olympic tennis championships next year will take place August 5 to 12. This would interfere with the national championships and Davis Cup schedule always well underway in the middle of August and prevent the sending of top-ranking players abroad.

Vincent Richards, now a professional and Helen Wills, won the women's and women's singles titles at Paris in 1924.

"SHAKING BOYS' FAITH" RICKEY SAYS TRAGEDY IS

Moline, Ills., Jan. 11 (A.P.)—"If there is scandal in baseball let's admit it, pay the price in a cleanup process and continue," said Branch Rickey, vice president of the St. Louis National League baseball club, in a talk here last night. The stark tragedy of these revelations which have jarred the baseball world lies not in the disgrace to the players involved," said Rickey, "but in the shame forced upon their families, but in the shaking of the faith of the twenty million boy hero worshipers."

THREE CITIES BIDDING FOR PRIZE BOUT SITE

New York, Jan. 11 (A.P.)—With Philadelphia, Chicago and Los Angeles officials all bidding for the heavyweight battle in defense of his title, Gene Tunney will not be allowed to leave the country if he decides not to use the Yankee Stadium.

Settle down in a home of your own—ideal location. Turn to Classified Ads and note the many substantial offerings. Investigate today.

With the PONIES

OPINION OF LEADING HANDICAPPERS AT NEW ORLEANS.

Best—Selection.	Points
Lady Lady	37
Flavete	19
Tryder	19
Jones Book	28
Oyrada	26
Old Fury	20
Super Frank	32
Rebuke	22
Dr. Glenn	27

At New Orleans

FIRST RACE.

Pgm	Horse	Jockey	Prob. Odds.
1	Eighth Sixty	E. Lopez	5-1
2	Sandy Lady	L. Canfield	9-1
3	Tryder	R. Clements	6-1
4	Elevate, W. Kelsay		3-1
5	Count, So Rich		10-1
6	Our Luck		10-1
7	Miss Dear, H. Richards		15-1
8	Lady In Wise		15-1
9	Gold Kid, W. Harvey		15-1
10	Emphatic		20-1
11	Fairy Babe		20-1
12	Teddy Lenihan, J. Chalmers		30-1

SECOND RACE.

1	Singing Cricket, G. Johnson	6-1
2	Fable, M. Church	4
3	Old Virginia, J. Finnerty	4
4	Coup, G. Arnold	10
5	Old Fox, D. Lynch	4
6	Neatly, F. Robbins	8
7	Margo	6
8	Curiela	12
9	Chancery, C. Eagan	8
10	Martha Caddy, J. Smith	20
11	Cloud Nine, D. Dubois	20
12	Red Harvey	20

THIRD RACE.

1	Ord, F. Whitaker	7-1
2	Goods, H. Richards	10-1
3	Doctor Glenn, D. Dubois	4-1
4	Prof Bolero, N. Mayer	4-1
5	Eighty W. Harvey	6
6	Jones	10
7	Flagger, G. Ellis	10
8	Virtual, L. McDermott	15
9	Forester	15
10	Gregg, Rose	15
11	Love Child	20
12	Jimmie Quinn	20

FOURTH RACE.

1	Shark	6-1
2	Peter Peter, G. Arnold	10-1
3	Napoleon, R. Finnerty	8-1
4	Rolling Gun, D. Dubois	4-1
5	Carlson	8
6	Pulpitmate	8
7	Devon, D. Lynch	10
8	Bernhard	15
9	Marsse	15

FIFTH RACE.

1	Guest of Honor, R. Finnerty	2-1
2	Little Dave, M. Mora	15-1
3	Opperman, D. Lynch	8-1
4	Sandy, L. Lagrian	8-1
5	Apple Cross, J. Leyland	8-1
6	Reverend, G. Johnson	6-1
7	Fat Calhoun, J. Smith	15-1
8	Fire Back, W. Crump	15-1
9	Roland, Reynes	30-1

SIXTH RACE.

1	Frightful	3-1
2	Lucy Kate, M. Horn	3
3	Jeanne	3
4	Xquerien, L. McDermott	6
5	Runaway, C. Eagan	6
6	Brander, G. Cooper	10-1
7	Overhead	15-1
8	Ramkin, G. Arnold	30-1

SEVENTH RACE.

1	Desert Gold, W. Crowell	8-5
2	Jackie, D. Dubois	3-1
3	Chesterette, M. McGonigle	3-1
4	Sandy Fetus	4-1
5	Sandy River, G. Johnson	8-1
6	Jovial, J. Wilkes	15-1
7	The A—	20-1

At Tia Juana

FIRST RACE.

1	Grecia Flower, H. Ritter	3-1
2	Red Cross Princess, J. Baker	8-1
3	Marcos L. Schaefer	8-1
4	Ruth	8-1
5	Rose Pet's, L. Jaeger	3-1
6	Sir Richard, J. Craigville	8-1
7	Treasure W. Rock	10
8	Tarzan, C. Eagan	10
9	Miss Wabasha, H. Watts	12-1
10	Miss Fashion, E. Hayward	15-1

SECOND RACE.

1	Miss Grace, M. Ritter	3-1
2	Lady Rose, G. Hunsmer	6-1
3	Dumbrook, L. Schaefer	3-1
4	Santa Eugene, J. Craigville	10-1
5	Jimmie, W. Roberts	10-1
6	Classman, M. Bartos	10-1
7	Gold Grafton, L. Rowe	10-1
8	Joel, R. Peternell	15-1
9	Betty Tarzo, W. Berry	20-1
10	Mason's Boy, G. Fulper	20-1
11	Hermosa, A. Gaylor	20-1
12	Virginia Redwood, G. Tatem	20-1
13	Lady Bradwater, J. Collins	20-1
14	Jean, T. Wilson	20-1
15	Crohmer, C. Long	20-1
16	Murphy, F. Smith	20-1
17	Good Pal, A. Simmons	20-1
18	Jean, T. Wilson	20-1
19	Love O Willingham	20-1
20	Collegian	30-1

THIRD RACE.

1	Vanuta, O. Bostick	6-1
2	Tuxedo Sam, W. Peterson	6-1
3	Love Cross, T. Dalton	3-1
4	Stampeline, M. Johnson	6-1
5	Smiling, W. Robertson	6-1
6	Louie A, O. Lesley	6-1
7	Yorkville Maid, E. Austin	6-1
8	Dumbfounder, J. Craigville	6-1
9	Wisconsin, G. Tatem	8-1
10	Bobbsy Sailors, R. Hayward	10-1
11	Jovian, J. Collins	10-1
12	Gay Lad, A. Snyder	10-1
13	Guest of Honor	20-1
14	Apple Cross	20-1
15	Opperman	15-1
16	Saturian, W. Peterson	20-1
17	Lucy Kate	15-1
18	Rebel Rogers	15-1
19	Desert Gold	20-1
20	Jeanne	20-1
21	Miracle	30-1

FOURTH RACE.

1	Sir Rat, E. Craigville	4-1
2	Sandy, G. Arnold	4-1
3	Miss Vira, O. Bostick	3-1
4	Sahara, R. Spink	4-1
5	Shepherd, E. Bolton	15-1
6	Gaskets, R. Jones	20-1
7	Arango, G. Fulper	15-1

FIFTH RACE.

1	Keller O Mason	8-1
2	Mamie Ida, L. Dalton	4-1
3	Natoma, J. Craigville	10-1
4	Mary Beth, G. Tatem	4-1
5	Commerce, J. Mavis	8-1
6	Calumet, R. Austin	6-1
7	Tyler, E. Gutierrez	10-1
8	Vaughn, W. L. Ivy	10-1
9	Wyreswood, G. Hunsmer	8-1
10	Pearl Madeline, F. J. Baker	12-1
11	Consolation, T. Peterson	15-1
12	Vrase, M. Elston	20-1

SIXTH RACE.

1	Rockhall, R. Peternell	15-1
2	Betty Ramsey, E. Dalton	4-1
3	Co Pasco, O Mason	3-1
4	Wells O Lesley	4-1
5	Celestial Carr, F. J. Baker	6-1
6	Panama, J. Craigville	10-1
7	Raymond Dale, T. Graham	10-1
8	Pronell, T. Burns	15-1
9	Extra Edition E. Hayward	20-1

SEVENTH RACE.

1	Rose Beyer, K. Corrigan	8-1
2	Singleton, J. Delgrande	6-1
3	Alaska Pine, H. Pelmut	6-1
4	Flying Cloud, W. Lilley	20-1
5	Tamarind, O. Bostick	4-1
6	Kit Carson, F. Gutierrez	8-1
7	The Sword, F. J. Baker	8-1
8	Captain, G. Eaton	8-1
9	Dee Thought, A. Dalton	10-1
10	John Johnson, Jr. H. Elston	12-1
11	Cheerful, O Leslie	15-1

EIGHTH RACE.

1	The Gaff, R. Peternell	6-1
2	Fellow Me, O Willingham	4-1
3	Garfield, G. Mason	4-1
4	Kinzee, R. Austin	6-1
5	Rebel Right, J. Logan	8-1
6	Idle Thoughts, T. Burns	8-1
7	Fantastic, J. Craigville	10-1
8	Queen Rose, H Elston	10-1
9	Jack Sharper, B Marshall	20-1
10	Aurania, R. Jones	20-1

SIXTH RACE.

1	Columbia Red, J. Craigville	8-1
2	Mars On Sath, H Pitts	8-1
3	Marvelous, C. Wilkes	4-1
4	My Daddy, R. Austin	4-1
5	Napoleon	20
6	Shark	20
7	Saved	20
8	Guest of Honor	20
9	Apple Cross	20
10	Opperman	15
11	Saturian	20
12	Lucy Kate	15
13	Rebel Rogers	15
14	Desert Gold	20
15	Jeanne	20
16	Miracle	30

COLLEGE EDS TRY TO HEAL H.-P. BREACH

Wallingford, Ct., Jan. 11 (A.P.).—Employment of the pen to revive what the pen helped to kill—the athletic relations between Princeton and Harvard—was the unofficial suggestion which came out of a conference yesterday at the Choate School here between representatives of the Yale Daily News, the Harvard Crimson and the Princetonian.

"A rapprochment between Princeton and Harvard with a view toward ultimate restoration of athletic relations is not beyond the realm of possibility," was the impression carried by Dana Bartholomew, chairman of the incoming board of the Yale Daily, from the "informal" discussion in which he said: "It was the consensus that natural rather than artificial means should be resorted to in order to heal the breach.

"For example," the Crimson would run articles and photographs of Princeton, and the Princetonian could return the compliment. In this way men of both institutions would gain better ideas about each other.

"Such methods would help to dispel the idea in some Harvard minds that Princeton is a country club and would show Princetonians that Harvard is not merely a Boston society group.

1	Darius, W. Barr	8-1
2	Soldier Bird, O. Mason	15-1
3	Bruschsader, E. Dalton	15-1
4	Gunsight, O. Laidley	15-1
5	Snappy Maid, G. Tatem	20-1
6	The Falconer, G. Willingham	20-1
7	Mentalis, L. Jaeger	20-1
8	Pearl Boots, W. Robertson	30-1

BEST BETS—Guest of Honor, 5th, New Orleans; Round Robin, 7th Orchard; Baker, 8th Havana; Rose, 7th Tia Juana.

ELEVENTH HOUR SPECIAL — Desert Gold, 7th, New Orleans.

TURF SUPER SPECIAL—Singing Cricket, 2d, New Orleans.

COLLYERS SELECTIONS—Most probable winner—Hopeful Bert, Lake Charles—Maimeidies. Parlay—Maimeidies, Sandy Lady and Dumbarrier, all to place.

ESS TURK—Old Fox, New Orleans—Could pay the limit. Guest of Honor, New Orleans—Seems like winner.

CLOCKERS REVIEW—Guest of Honor New Orleans.

GRAPHIC WEEKLY—Gee, Damar, New Orleans.

WEEKLY FLASH—Green Back, New Orleans.

STAR FLASH CODE—Dr. Glenn, New Orleans.

Skis
Skates
Snow Shoes and Boots
Sweater Coats
'n' everything for
WINTER SPORTS
IVER JOHNSON
Sporting Goods Co.
155-163 Washington St. at Combill
Fitchburg BOSTON Worcester

SCHOLASTIC CHATTER

By EDDIE DONDERO

THE M. I. T. interscholastic basketball tournament, scheduled on March 11 and 12 at the Hanger gymnasium, will in all probability be made a three-day carnival. Faculty Manager Smith and the committee in charge are in favor of opening festivities a day earlier so as to prevent a team being forced to play two games on the same day.

"Doc" Flemming, Commerce High track coach, has a good looking out fit under his wing. The number of candidates in uniform is close to the 100 mark. Captain Gumpright, Ryan, Dolan, Berliner, Murphy and Vosnicle are among the most promising senior ankiers.

* * *

Everything is serene in Newton. Hal Andree and Bill Procter, rugged hockey players, were declared eligible today, each passing the mid-year examinations. With this pair joining Guy Holbrook and Stubbs, the Garden City continent should not taste defeat for the rest of the season.

* * *

Charles Finn, Somerville High track and football luminary, will enroll at Princeton Prep next Fall.

Swim Stars Ready for Wrigley Race

Los Angeles, Jan. 11 (A.P.).—International reputations are held by many of the natators who will plunge into the frigid waters of the Catalana channel Saturday morning at the isthmus of Santa Catalina Island, in an attempt to cross that turbulent passage to the California mainland for prizes totaling $42,000.

Foremost of the entrants are Henry Sullivan and Charles Toth, both Massachusetts products, who were the first two Americans to swim the English Channel.

Norman Ross, former Stanford University giant and perhaps one of the greatest speed swimmers the world ever has known, is a favorite in the race.

Get Full Specifications on the
NEW 1927 CARS
36 pages of complete data on Engine, Chassis, Body, Standard Equipment in the Great 1927 Show Number of MOTOR
"The New York Motor Show in Print"

THE ANNUAL SHOW NUMBER of MoToR has been famous for years as the biggest and most complete automobile magazine published. It is recognized by the automotive industry and by every motorist as the authoritative Automobile Year Book.

This 4-pound, 400-page 1927 issue will bring you all the benefits, all the pleasure, of a visit to the New York Show. And you will use it all through the year as a standard reference guide to all that's new and worthwhile in motordom. It will save you a hundred times its price.

Gives full, authoritative news of every important development in COACH WORK
ACCESSORIES
CHASSIS DESIGN ENGINES
now on exhibition for the first time at the New York Show.

These Articles Are of Special Interest
Today's Cars and Tomorrow's
Tommy Milton Tells How to Become a Race Driver
Building Parts That Will Never Wear Out
An Electric Drive—No Gear Shift
How an Anti-Knock Works
Ruling Unsafe Cars Off the Road
New and Worthwhile Accessories
The Roll Call Has Begun

The Buyers' Guide
The Handbook of the Industry
400 Pages 400 Illustrations
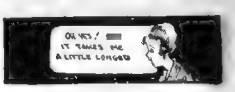
Just Out—Single-copy price $1.25

BUY IT AT ANY NEWSSTAND

Landis' Decision Tomorrow: 'Good Morning, Judge!' or 'Good Night?'

EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS



Entries Start Annual Parade for K. C. Track Meet

By STED CHANDLER

ONE week from Saturday the annual Knights of Columbus games in Mechanics Building will usher in the local track season. The fortnight until then will find intensive preparation going on among the various collegiate and amateur runners who will compete that evening.

The Bishop Chev[erus] mile, alway[s] a feature, will b[e] even more so this [year] owing to the presence at the mark of Lloyd Hahn. Hahn has been training steadily under Jack Ryder at Boston College for some weeks [and] has united much enthusiasm in [the] meeting. Ryder has made bold to claim that the Nebraska flash will eclipse all of his previous splendid performances this Winter, and will shatter plenty of records in the process.

Sted Chandler

The forty-yard dash has already drawn its share of talent. Frank Hussey of B. C. and George C. Daley of Holy Cross will vie with a quartet of Harvard sprinters, and although the battle may be between Hussey and Ivy Al Miller, the others are not to be left out of consideration. Eddie Farrell has not yet definitely entered his athletes, but indications point to Miller, Howard Burns, Art French and Dave Guarnaccia being among those at the mark.

Harvard and Holy Cross will provide one of the feature relay events, with the Crimson straights to avenge last year's defeat at the hands of the Crusaders. Brown and M. I. T. and Northeastern and R. P. I. are others who have been matched.

EVEN before the "Casey" meet, [on] January [15] this coming Saturday a new three-cornered meet [is] to be staged in the Boston College cage, when Boston [College] will perform in the Fordham track [cage] in competition with the Ford[ham] team. It comes to New York [with] a good team, and will make [its] first start, running against a field including Alan Helffrich, Pincus Sober, Coacher Judge, George Masters, McCloskey, Edwards and Gourley. Fordham is an indication of what is to follow from Hahn this year.

Leo Lermond, a brother of George Lermond, will run in the two-mile special for the Boston Athletic Association.

HARVARD has contributed 110 men to Eddie Farrell, from which he will select his 1927 track squad. These athletes have been working hard on the new board track and have enough to make Eddie unusually optimistic.

He feels that it is too early to say anything as yet, but the chances appear good for another Crimson hued indoor season.

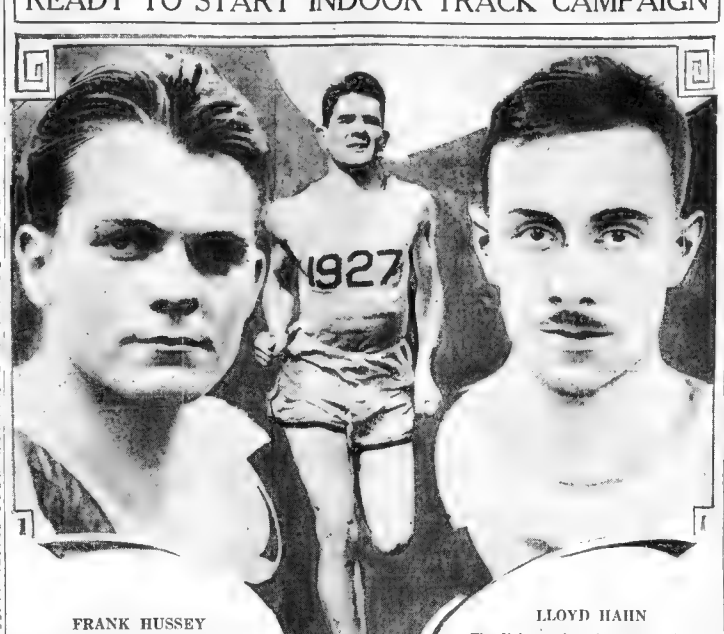
The Intercollegiate champions of last year have largely graduated, but a nucleus of Captain Red Haggerty, Al Miller, Howie Burns, Al O'Neil and Carl Lundell remains to bolster the untried but promising material.

O'Neil, who has run in hard luck throughout his college career, is in the best shape of his life, and feels that he will show something before he graduates.

Among the best of the newcomers are included Art French and Dave Guarnaccia, football halfbacks; Mack, basketball captain; David White and the Dunn brothers, Dick and Tom. Also a crop of cross-country grinders who may develop into valuable middle distance and long-distance men. Luke Novograd is probably the best of these, but Hull, Booth Mayhew, Kullman, Fiksman and Reid are also counted upon heavily.

In the social events Captain Janet Lindley Pratt of the football team is working in the ball room with his fellow-tackle, Carl Linder, and Burbank, Locke, Quirk and others of last year's squad. Pete Ballantyne is the leading timber-topper who is on hand, but there are many others who hope to back him up over both the low and high fliehts.

READY TO START INDOOR TRACK CAMPAIGN



FRANK HUSSEY

The Boston College flier will open his indoor campaign at the K. of C. games a week from Saturday night. He is in trim and out to set a new dash record this year. On right, Luke McCloskey, Eagles' track captain.

LLOYD HAHN

The Unicorn champion expects to clip some world records and is all ready to start. Few milers can stay with him. He will be seen in the Fordham games in New York.

SPORTS

By NICK FLATLEY

Baseball Trades Plenty of Offing Grimes Will Go Up

Hornsby's Gambling Hero Worship Rogers Has Out

BASEBALL TRADES HAVE ONLY STARTED

THIS is going to be a large Winter of baseball trading. The scandal ruined a dozen potential deals, or at least the announcement of the same. Half the clubs in both large leagues were getting ready to swap players when Dutch Leonard's sensational ukase, whatever that is, was promulgated, whatever that may be.

The magnates marked time and hoped that they wouldn't have to serve it. Now that matters have calmed down and baseball expects nothing except exoneration of the athletes accused by Risberg, the market begins to boil a bit.

Nick Flatley

Philadelphia announces that Catcher Henline has been handed over to Brooklyn. The Robins send Pitcher Burleigh Grimes to the Giants. New York also gets Harper, Philly outfielder, and Stuffy McInnis receives Pitcher Jack Scott and Infielder Lafayette Thompson from the Giants in return. Buffalo also figures prominently in the deal. That's the beginning. The present trade is merely a starter. Unless the dope is all wrong players will be flying around shortly like real estate agents in a land boom.

Mister Henline is a young man that every championship club has been paging for years. He can bust that apple. But he remained in Philly and got to be a bit sour on baseball.

Burleigh Grimes is one of the few remaining spitball pitchers. And he's still a great chucker. He will win fifteen games for any ball club that interests him. He will not be concerned with tail-enders, though. He turned on Brooklyn because he thought he was parked with a bush league club. He didn't break his neck there. He will work for McGraw.

HORNSBY JUST DUCKED BEING IN SCANDAL

ROGERS HORNSBY admits that his St. Louis contract, which he turned down, contained a clause which would have bound him to lay off the horses, and do no business whatever with the bookies. On top of that one of the leading commissioners, as the baseball like to call themselves, bawls loudly that Rogers owes him $87,000.

It is hard to figure how any bookie would lend anybody $87,000. Sentiment seldom sways the minds or pocketbooks of the chaps who quote the odds. Hero worship is a peculiar thing, none the less. Babe Ruth, actually broke, has been able to dig up huge sums. Hornsby might just have pulled the same stunt, but Rogers is different.

He watched his dollars through a long career. He had enough money to pick up more than 1,500 shares of Cardinal stock at something like $70 per share. That type of man doesn't get sewed up with gamblers, unless he's sure that he has an out.

What our chemists call, "an almost perfect seal for tobacco condition"—a heavy soft-foil package with an extra outside wrapper of glassine. . . .

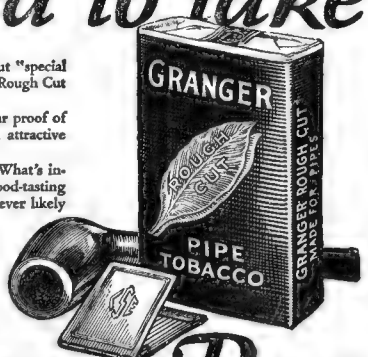
A COMMON-SENSE PACKAGE—AND A TOBACCO WORTHY OF ANY PIPE IN THE WORLD

—it was just bound to take hold!

INTRODUCED quietly, without advertising, without "special offers" of any kind, the steady growth of Granger Rough Cut has exceeded anything in our experience.

It had to sell itself, and it did; and therein lies clear proof of its goodness. A common-sense package, yes, and an attractive price—but it's what's inside that counts!

Quality where quality should be—in the tobacco! What's inside is just about as fragrant a piece of tobacco, as good-tasting and cool-smoking, as you and your favorite pipe are ever likely to meet!



10¢

GRANGER ROUGH CUT
PIPE TOBACCO

LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

DON'T miss Dr. Crane's meaty articles on the editorial page. They are comments on up-to-date topics for PEOPLE WHO THINK.

Magazine Page

A Mighty Church Organ

AT Liverpool a new organ in the cathedral is so large that tuning it necessitates the installation of seventeen telephones to enable the workers on the outlying parts of the instrument to keep in touch with the man at the keyboard.

Queen Marie Was Always Nice to Millionaires

Sarah Brown, Chicago girl reporter, who served as personal maid to Queen Marie of Rumania during her royal tour of the United States, today, in the last article of her series, tells what Queen Marie apparently thought of America.

By SARAH BROWN.

(Copyright, 1927, by the Boston Evening American. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

To jump from such frivolous observations as Her Majesty's permanent wave or her pet dog, to a subject which is still puzzling numerous people since she left our shores and plunged into the thick of affairs in her home kingdom, will I imagine, prick many an ear as I tell what I learned of an extremely practical side of her personality.

While other members of the press were and not a few outsiders, were storming the gates to learn about the financial end of her trip, I was busily helping pick up the royal bedroom slippers, sweep the litter from the royal bedroom and boudoir carpets—and learning that she is a shrewd and smart business lady in between the cheers and hullabaloo of her public appearances.

For instance, she kept daily issues of the Wall Street Journal constantly at hand, and they were always well filled with marginal notes. To those who might have thought she knew no king of practical finance, this circumstance may prove of significance.

SMILED ON WEALTH

Furthermore, she made carefully concealed but very determined efforts to keep on good terms with all whose possessions or standing spelled wealth, without once being snobbish or grasping in that respect.

"Aha! Millionaires?" said one of her closest intimates. "We in Rumania think you walk along and pick up gold from the ground" and he indicated his popular idea of how Americans earn money.

I happen to know that Her Majesty feels the same way about it now. Few I myself heard no other Bps than here say so.

"I have seen hundreds and hundreds of school children in your own schools," was the optimism she had on that subject, "and I was told that those schools were situated in the poorer districts of the city. But I have yet to find any trace of real poverty in all my visits to America."

Her son, Prince Nicholai, has an opinion just as decided, though perhaps not as much to the point.

"Gosh, what wonderful cars they have here," he signed a trifle wistfully. "At home, whenever there isn't just a foot of thick ice there's mud two feet. You can't drive a car very fast over them."

THE ICE BOX HABIT

To skip from that subject a bit to the more personal one of the Queen's "bedtime snack" custom if she were not a Queen you'd envy her had its ice box in her rather exclusive incident occurred one night when she entered the kitchen on the part of black tea, wafers and caviar sandwiches.

Three strong waiters and the maitre d' hotel marched up immediately, bearing among them one silver salver upon which reposed dainties like caviar sandwiches. They produced the tea pot and tea from the kitchenette just off her private dining room, and proceeded to serve the consummation with all ceremonies and dignity.

A good many onlookers, it might be added here, would have been struck with the way the mother-in-law of the Balkans eats. She took a few meals in the exquisite little dining room in her suite at the Lake Shore Drive Hotel, with its real decorations, and table service of gold and crystal and its decorations of orchids and flaming candles.

True to her inquisitive nature, she had to taste everything that was served her, also true to her ideals about her figure, she sternly forbore to eat much of any one thing. The dinner she enjoyed most during her stay consisted of supreme of persimmons, cream of chicken soup, wild duck with wild rice, a delicate slice of imported English sole with grapes, young potatoes, asparagus tips salad and a bombe of ice cream.

Whatever may be her mother's fears as to soiled hands, Ileana certainly has few qualms along that line. She did not hesitate to go through every dish on the list and "licked her platter clean" each time. Furthermore, she moved the maitre d'hotel to a feeding aisle to horror by consuming three large sized pots of coffee. The next morning she breakfasted in bed on California strawberries, cereal, omelette, bacon, toast and coffee.

However, such details, interesting as they may be, fade into comparative darkness compared with the two main questions raised wherever Her Majesty went:

"Why did she come? Did she have a good a time as she said she did?"

I think I may answer both by saying that Marie considered her entire trip a job to be done as thoroughly and effectively as possible for reasons which she considers vital, and that she "had a good time" where she thought she had succeeded, despite her weariness, boredom and annoyance at numerous minor incidents.

In a certain little linen-bound book, its cover gaily printed with red and blue flowers, Her Majesty confided these facts in no uncertain

A WRITTEN RECORD

It was that book, by the way, so zealously guarded that not many people knew of more than the fact that it existed, that she "sat up nights" to leave as a written record of her real opinion of everything that happened during her historic hegira. Probably no eyes but her own will see its complete contents for many years to come, though certain portions may be printed at some future date. It may be that "The Memoirs of Marie of Rumania" will be an eagerly sought prize volume when published ten or fifteen years in the future.

At any rate, it is there that her honest, impressions are recorded, as for instance, when she says, after one triumph at tour, that she "was taken among other places, to a ball filled with horrible people."

At another time her sole comment after one of the most elaborate parties was "Mama Regina Elizabeth is worried at last. Why? Because, they say, it may, I don't believe the Queen herself had any more fun making speeches and bows, receiving tribute and maneuvering intrigues, than I did in bringing her boat from the cleaners, picking up her belongings and clearing the confusion left behind by Her Majesty and her chic drop-and-scramble, the inner rites of how royalty lives.

ILLUSIONS LOST

And not even the fact that I found out that Her Majesty feels more at home when they don't sweep under the beds, to put it figuratively, and that Nikky won't walk through a crowded room without putting his hands in his pockets, and that Ileana parks her flowers in the washbowl as do most American debutantes and coeds when they haven't time to hunt up a vase—do to all these things I'm still filled with admiration for the princesses and princes and queens.

In fact, I'm still so thrilled about all of them that I am indeed going with Queen Marie's unspoken wish. Wouldn't it be nice if we had a Queen and could see two kings around in America. And if we did, what a Queen for us Marie would make!

The End.

"You Said It, Marceline!"

On "The Oil of Flattery"

By Marceline d'Alroy

THE ALLURE OF WOMAN IS AS A PERFUME—
SOME MEN PLUCK THE FLOWER TO OBTAIN THE PERFUME
AND SOME MEN DESIRE THE PERFUME WITHOUT THE FLOWER.
WOMEN DRIFT CONTINUALLY ACROSS THE LIVES OF MEN, TEMPTING OR INSPIRING.

© 1927 Premier Syndicate, Inc. Great Britain rights reserved

The ALLURE of woman is as a PERFUME Of compound essences. An ILLUSIVE Something that keeps MEN busy SEEKING The SECRET that lies behind it. SOME MEN pluck the FLOWER to obtain the PERFUME, yet, when they hold the blossom to Their HEARTS, they find the perfume has GONE. It was only an ILLUSION. SOME MEN desire the PERFUME without The flower. SOMETIMES they get it. Sometimes The PERFUME is STRONG and intoxicating And Makes the man so DIZZY that he falls . . . . SOMETIMES it is so FRAGRANT and sweet that It makes him desire to be BETTER. As WOMEN DRIFT continually across the Lives of men, TEMPTING or INSPIRING.

Copyright, 1927, by Premier Syndicate, Inc.

Dutch Women Don't Bob Hair

By WINIFRED BLACKE.

A MAN who had just returned from Europe was talking to me about hair.

"When I left England for the Continent," he said, "I was surrounded with bobs. The girl who sold me sandwiches in the station had an Eton bob, and very ugly she looked in it, too. The woman who sold me a magazine at the kiosk had a boyish bob. The girl in the car with me had a shingle bob. The woman who got out at Dieppe had a shaved bob, sided back like the hair on a seal's sleek head.

"Then I arrive in Holland and after getting my baggage through the customs I settled down to enjoy myself. The landscape was rushing by like something in the pictures—broad canals, clear and smooth, quaint little houses with great roofs. There were boats by the hundreds and stout, ruddy men and WOMEN WITH HAIR, waves of it, rivers of it, braided, curled, straight brown hair, red hair, yellow hair, black hair shining like satin, real hair such as mother used to wear.

"Some wore it in braids around their heads and some parted it in the middle and looked like rosy Madonnas, some did it on top of their head and made a crown of it. It shone and glistened and I fell in love with it even more than before I'd been in the country an hour.

"They all looked such darlings, tall and short ones, chubby girls and slender girls and none of them looked alike and no two wore their hair the same. Dresses or hats or shoes are one kind of hats or the same sort of hair.

"All at once I could tell one woman from another the minute I looked at her. I haven't been able to do that for two or three years at home. They all dress alike and look alike and wear the same little pulled on hats. Then I began to realize how homely I've been for three or four years for the kind of woman who looks like somebody's daughter or somebody's sweetheart and not like a caricature of a fashion plate cut out of a book.

"These women all looked kind, good humored, gentle and forgiving I don't suppose they were always really, but somehow they did look so different. They looked as if they might like you even if you didn't have an automobile. They looked as if they'd wait for a man until he got his business start. They looked as if they loved children and knew how to make cookies.

"They even looked as if they would wear old clothes. Of course, they may have been gold-diggers and party-rushers—every one of them—but they didn't look it, anyhow. It gave you a kind of queer feeling in your throat—sort of warmed your heart up and made you feel that there was something in this life beside 'success' and money, after all.

"Home and bread browning in the oven and a fire on the hearth and somebody singing a tired baby to sleep. Gosh, it made me homesick for the kind of woman I used to know four or five years ago.

"I wonder if she'll ever come back again to America? I wish I thought so. It wouldn't seem quite such a lonesome, every-one-for-himself world, if our women just would not look so much like handsome boys. What do you think—is there any chance?"

Copyright, 1927, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Reed Explains Causes of Deafness

By Charles A. L. Reed, M. D., Former President of the American Medical Association.

IF you are engaged in any one of a number of occupations you may be incurring a special liability to deafness.

It is generally thought that the noisy occupations are most productive of this accident, and it is true that many of the cases do occur under such circumstances.

But, as pointed out by Ranken, occupational deafness is sometimes due to other causes. Thus, workers in caissons and others who undergo changes in atmospheric pressure may become deaf through having their eardrums ruptured or through bleeding in the middle ear.

Poisons such as lead, mercury, arsenic, phosphorous, sulphur, coal gas products and amyline chromats may affect the hearing through intoxicating the whole system.

Dust and noxious gases, together with an abnormally damp atmosphere and insufficient ventilation may cause diseases of the upper part of the breathing passages, from which the ear may become infected. miners, fur and felt hat workers, cordage makers and metal workers are liable to these conditions.

Where two or more of the foregoing causes are combined the risk is correspondingly increased.

The craftsmen whose deafness is due to noise are, chiefly, locksmiths, blacksmiths, boilermakers, mechanics, engineers and stokers.

The noises which cause deafness, apart from those of single or repeated explosions, are sounds of prolonged duration and intensive sounds of high pitch and full of overtones. These overstimulate the nerves of hearing and cause them to degenerate.

Loss of hearing for high notes often occurs, but is not the inevitable sequel, as has often been said. The loss of hearing is most marked for noises of about the pitch of those responsible for the deafness, and sensibility to high notes is impaired later.

Disease of the middle ear generally affects the hearing for low tones at first and later that for high tones.

Explosions, especially in confined spaces, may burst the ear drum. These ruptures, when left alone, without interference or syringing, usually heal quickly if they become infected, the middle ear may become diseased and the hearing permanently impaired. Gun deafness due to long exposure to detonation, and not caused by rupture, also clears up with time.

It is obvious that the most important question in this connection is that of prevention.

Copyright, 1927, King Features Synd., Inc.

For Church Suppers

By MARTHA LEE

MORE and more frequently harried committee women chairmen of church, community and club supper committees drop into the Martha Lee Kitchen in search of "something new and reasonable" to serve at the gatherings.

Perhaps the supper menus I have suggested for them may be helpful for you, too:

CHURCH SUPPERS.

Grapefruit	Fish Chowder	Hot Rolls
Cranberry Olives	Tongue Jelly	Salad
Gingerbread	Whipped Cream
Roast Beef	Tomato Aspic
Scalloped Potatoes	Pole Slaw
Bread Butter	Baked Apples	Cream
Sandwiches	Buttered Carrots
Grapefruit and Celery Salad
Ice Cream	Assorted Cake
Fruit Cocktail
Baked Ham	Glazed Sweet Potatoes
Applesauce	Creamed Cabbage
Pumpkin Pie
Celery Soup	Crackers
Parsley Buttered Potatoes	Creamed Onions
Cranberry Jelly	Hot Rolls	Lettuce Salad
Orange Cake	Cheese Ball Cake
Assorted Cold Meats
Creamed Potatoes	Hot Rolls	Olives
	Relishes
Vegetable Salad	Apple Pie
Roast Beef	Mashed Potatoes
Buttered Beets	Apple and Celery Salad
Coconut Custard Pie

And here is a guide that I hope will be helpful in figuring the quantity of food necessary to serve certain standard dishes. For boiled or urn coffee, two and one-half pounds of medium ground coffee and twenty-four quarts of water serve one hundred and fifty people. For lemonade, fruit punch, etc., served in paper cups, allow ten quarts for every fifty people.

For hot chocolate, allow one gallon of milk for twenty-five to twenty-seven cups of chocolate. This amount takes about one and one-half cups of grated chocolate or about one half pound. For ice cream allow one quart for six to eight people. For sherbet, allow one quart for six to eight people, varying with the manner of serving on account of melting.

For cake, a round loaf or layer serves eight if cut in triangles from the center. It ser as sixteen if cut in fourths and then sliced from center outward toward the edge. For pie, allow six to eight servings from one large pie.

One quart of cream unwhipped makes 60 rounding tablespoons whipped. A one-quart bottle of medium sized olives contains one hundred to two hundred olives. Allow three olives to a person. For sandwiches, a sandwich loaf makes thirty-six to forty-eight slices of bread, or eighteen to twenty-four sandwiches, depending upon the thickness of the bread. Allow two dozen sliced sandwiches to each person If cut in two or in triangles, allow four to a person. Three pounds of boneless meat serve fifty people.

For chicken salad, a four-pound fowl combined with celery and other trimmings should make two quarts of salad. Two quarts will serve twelve people; twenty-five and one-half quarts of chicken salad serves one hundred and fifty people, calling for fifty-one pounds of chicken.

For chicken, fowl or turkey served hot, allow twenty-five pounds of raw dressed poultry for fifty people. Allow twenty-five pounds of raw dressed poultry for sixty people if sliced cold.

In serving one hundred and fifty people, allow the following quantities of meat served cold: Roast beef, thirty to forty pounds; baked ham, two and one-half twelve-pound hams.

If you've a church supper problem on your hands, just let me know how many you must plan for, about what you think you want to serve, and I'll be glad to send you the recipes and necessary quantities.

Tomorrow from two to four o'clock, there'll be a fudge party for the women readers of the Boston Evening American and Boston Advertiser held in the Martha Lee Kitchen at No. 93 Summer street. There'll be refreshments and samples of interesting food products and a welcome for all.

To take care of our many friends, there'll be a repetition of this party on Friday, January 14, from two to four P. M.

Martha Lee

Good Advice to the Lovelorn

By Beatrice Fairfax

OCCASIONALLY it happens that a very young girl marries an elderly man and seemingly lives happily with him ever after. But this occurs so rarely that it may be called the exception proving the rule.

You will stand as greater chance of married happiness, girls, if you wed one of your own generation than if you try to adjust your point of view and your natural, youthful impulses to the maturity and settled stolidity of a middle-aged fiance.

R. M. H. discovered this fact in time, even though at the cost of heartache. But such a mistake is better found out before than after marriage.

"Dear Miss Fairfax," her letter reads. "I am eighteen years old. I am suffering the heartache of knowing that because youth calls to youth I have sent a fine man to his ruination I was very foolish to imagine that I could love a man of forty—a man older than my father. But I did think so, and I am sorry.

"Because I talked to friends of my school days and certain persons thought it their duty to tell my affianced that I had been seen 'carrying on,' he became furiously jealous. My conscience is clear, but there was a scene. Since then he has been drinking disgracefully and declares that all women are the same.

"Lately a man wrote to your column asking whether he should marry a woman twenty-five years younger than himself. I hope he will consider the folly of both the woman and himself and save heart aches while there is still time.

"I couldn't—and I don't believe any young girl can—'stick' to a man old enough to be her father. I thought I could, but I'm heartbroken. You are right in saying that youth calls to youth."

"R. M. H."

R. M. H. has discovered a universal truth through her own experience.

Don't mistake your friendly and daughterly affection for girls for congenial love and suitability which give marriage a chance to succeed You will run far happier in a cozy bungalow working and economizing to help the young husband you love than you can ever be as an old man's darling, though you may be surrounded by every luxury.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

We are two girls, eighteen years old. We have been going about steadily with two young men for three months. We truly love these young men and we are sure they love us.

Our problem is this: We work every day until 5:30, and these young men, who also work, are not able to see us until 7 o'clock.

Our mothers insist we shall be home by half-past nine. Do you think this is fair? We are girls who can be trusted and we would be satisfied if we could stay out until eleven o'clock. Your advice would be greatly appreciated.

VIOLET AND ROSE.

HALF-PAST nine is a little early, isn't it? Perhaps, if you talk things over affectionately with your mothers, they will consent to your remaining out until 10 o'clock, provided you get home punctuality at that hour. No doubt they will be willing to let you remain away from home until an even later hour now and then, on special occasions.

But your mothers are quite right, girls, in insisting that you get in bed in time for a good eight or nine hours' sleep. You should plan to stay at home at least four evenings out of the week and to be in bed those four nights by 10 o'clock.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am nineteen years old. This is my senior year at school. I am in love with a girl of sixteen, who is also a senior.

We are great pals and have gone steadily together for nearly a year We are entirely satisfied with each other and our love is true.

It seems as though we can't wait two years before getting married We want to get married soon after school closes, but are afraid to suggest this to our parents for fear they will not let us go together at all. Shall we get married without our parents' consent? We have both been in love before, so we feel that our days of puppy love are over.

TRUE LOVER

IF you are truly in love, my friend, and your days of puppy love are over, you may be sure that your affection will stand the test of waiting two years before becoming engaged, until you and your sweetheart are older and better able to take on the heavy responsibilities of marriage.

If you marry now both you and she will miss the good times of youth, which will never come back again. Marriage will tie you down to hard work and grave problems. True love stands the test of time. So wait until you are earning a steady salary and until you are of age before you decide to be married and happiness and success to you both 4725 Infant's Carriage Robe Cut in One Size—For infants to 6 months of age. It will require 2¼ yards if made in Wrap style. In Coat style 1⅞ yards is required. Price 12c.

5692. Ladies' Dress.

Cut in 7 Sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size requires 3¾ yards of 40 inch material. The width of the dress at the lower edge with plaits extended is 1¾ yards. Price 13c

FASHION BOOK NOTICE

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE FALL AND WINTER 1926-27 BOOK OF FASHIONS showing color plates, and containing 500 designs of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Patterns, a CONCISE and COMPREHENSIVE ARTICLE ON DRESSMAKING, ALSO SOME POINTS FOR THE NEEDLE illustrating 20 of the various, simple stitches, all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

Boston Evening American Pattern Coupon

IMPORTANT—Many orders come without name and address. Write your name and address, size and number of pattern, on coupon

Pattern No.

Size

Name

Street

City

State

Print CAREFULLY and mail (enclosing 12 cents—stamps or coin) to Boston Evening American Pattern Dept., Box 150, Times Plaza Station, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Household Hints

To waterproof boots melt and mix together half a pound of mutton fat, four ounces of beeswax, two ounces of resin, one ounce of mastafoot oil and one ounce of glycerine. Remove every particle of mud and dust from the boots before the mixture is applied and rub it in well, especially at the seams.

To prevent fat from splashing on the stove when frying, sprinkle a little salt into the pan before melting the fat.

To remove dirty marks on white paint, wash it over with hot water which has one teaspoonful of salts of tartar mixed with it. When the marks are removed, polish with chamois leather which has been wrung out in cold water.

Salt and vinegar will remove stains from discolored teacups and dishes that have become burned and blackened in the oven.

Do You Know That---

Only 42 per cent of the lost property turned in annually to Scotland Yard ever finds it way back home.

According to the annual report of the Metropolitan Police of London. The total number of articles found and turned in to the police during 1926 was 263,879. Among the deposits last year were a ferret, two human leg bones, a glass eye, two white mice and a parrot.

The national game of Canada is lacrosse.

Tokio has five automatic telephone exchanges in operation.

Locusts travel 200 miles in a day and night.

Fresh milk is seven-eighths water

Head Colds
Snuff Vicks up nose or melt in cup of hot water, i hale healing vapors.
VICKS VAPORUB
OVER 21 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY

MOST FRAGRANT OF TEAS
FOR SMART FUNCTIONS
Do you know "the different tea"? It comes from far-away Formosa. It is prized by connoisseurs for its amber hue, subtle aroma and matchless flavor.
Serve always the finest tea grown.
TEA LOVERS Try Formosa Oolong Tea at Home
FORMOSA OOLONG TEA
IN BOSTON Ask for Formosa Oolong Tea in Lunch Rooms Kennedy's Fortune Tea and Tea Shop Boston Store Schrafft's

Clear The Pores Of Impurities With Cuticura Soap
Soap, Ointment, Talcum sold everywhere neuralgia

The shooting and agonizing pains from Neuralgia or Neuritis can be relieved if you stimulate a fresh flow of blood to the congested part. BAUME BENGUÉ brings quick relief.
Its stimulating effect on the circulation promptly relieves congestion and brings new fresh blood to the afflicted nerves. The powerful soothing ingredients of Baume also help to quiet the cutting, burning pain. The inflammation subsides, the throbbing is relieved and the pain quickly disappears.
BAUME BENGUÉ
ANALGESIQUE
ASK FOR FREE SAMPLE

"Cold" Headaches
Stop sneezing, and head heavy with pain? Get a "grippy" cold? Quickly relieve it with ORANGEINE POWDERS—TABLETS

The Where-Can-I-Buy Service
LIBERTY 4000
A general shopping information service.
If far, far away, phone LIBerty 4000.
If in Boston, come in FREE ACCURATE
TIME-SAVING
Send Your Inquiry to
The Where-Can-I-Buy Service
"Information Headquarters"
Room 100
Boston Evening American
8 Winthrop Sq., Boston
PHONE
WRITE VISIT

Movies a Hazardous Occupation

CAMERA men for motion picture concerns are now to b classed among those who have precarious occupation when applying for a certain type of insurance. Many me employed in such work have lost their lives because of th risk involved.

Fiction Page

This Day in Our History

ON January 11, 1864, the thirteenth amendment to the Constitution was offered in the United States Senate. This amendment, which proposed the abolition of slavery in the United States, was presented by Senator Brooks of Missouri.

The Love Wrecker

by BEATRICE BURTON

Author of "Gilded Kisses"

Thrilling Romance of Youth in Boston

CHAPTER XXXVI

ANGELA spoke into the telephone.

"Hello, Tim. This is Angela Allen," she said. "Wait just a minute."

She laid one of her long white hands over the little black mouthpiece and turned her dove's eyes to Honey Lou.

"Dear," she half whispered, "there is no reason why Tim shouldn't come over here. You can tell Jack that he came with me—that I brought him. You're just the chaperon for us. See?"

Honey Lou only shrugged her shoulders and turned back to the living room to set up the card table.

As she went she heard Angela ask Donegal if he'd like to come over to the flat to play cards with "some lonesome women who don't know what to do to amuse themselves."

"I know Jack will be furious when he hears about it," Honey Lou said while they waited for Donegal to come. "The last time he saw Tim was that night when he threatened to throw him out of the limousine, you know."

"Don't be silly," Angela told her with a soft laugh. "He and Tim Donegal have been friends ever since they were little boys. There's no ill-feeling between them. Of course, Tim does a lot of things that aren't exactly straight, but—"

Before Honey Lou had time to ask her what those things were, there was the sound of a car stopping down in the street, and Donegal rang the bell in the vestibule below and that was how it happened that he came back into Honey Lou Wallack's life.

• • •

It was less than a week afterward that she saw him again.

She and Angela were having chocolates in a Tremont street shop when he came through the revolving doors with a broad smile of greeting on his very good-looking face.

"Isn't this lucky?" he boomed at them. "I saw you two through the window as I was passing. Sit down and I'll buy you some tea or whatever it is that women eat at this time of day."

"Oh, I can't stay—I've just got to go! You two have tea, here!" said Honey Lou almost in one breath, be cheerful, noisy, glittering place, leaving them behind her. She just couldn't have tea with Tim Donegal. If Jack heard about it—

She drew a deep breath when she was safely outside the shop.

That night she showed Jack the bills, when they were together in their bedroom before dinner.

Jack raised home from the factory every night in his overalls and changed at home, so as not to taste a prominent new hotel. He watched him tonight, as he sat in a deep chair and pulled off his old shoes with long, well-manicured fingers and hands.

"What's old Angela up to?" he said to him suddenly, thinking that he was worth a dozen Donegals and Stephen Mayhews—actually a dozen! She went across the room and dropped a kiss on the back of his neck.

He grinned as he glanced up at her. "What are you getting ready to spring on me now, Vamp?" he chaffed her. "I'll bet you've got a whole raft of bills behind your back."

Honey Lou's lashes fluttered down and then flashed up again. She giggled.

"Well, I have some, now that you remind me of it," she lilted, and ran to get the bills from the drawer of her little desk.

Jack's face was very grave as he went through them with her.

"Holy Mackinaw, Honey Lou! How did you spend all this?" he asked, shaking his head. "You owe these stores almost as much as I'm earning this year."

Honey Lou, curled up on the rose-colored silk cover of the carved bed, looked very small and helpless.

"We had to have furniture and things for this house," she said in a little voice. "And Angela helped me pick it out, at the places where your mothers buy things. Haven't you any money in the bank?"

Jack nodded, still scowling down at the sheaf of bills—bills for very nearly four thousand dollars.

"Your automobile must have cost a lot of money, too," Honey Lou went on wistfully. "And having a nice house is so much more important than having a grand automobile. And—and I did so want to give you a lovely, comfortable, restful home——" She could feel tears welling up into her throat and eyes, and she stopped, afraid they would spill over.

"Tea, but——" Jack began, and then as he looked at his wife's forlorn little figure he got up and came across the room to her.

"It's all right, dearest," he said, and the overwhelming tenderness that he felt for her was in his face and his voice as he bent over her. "The house is worth every nickel you spent on it. Only next time you go shopping take my mother or yours with you, instead of Angela, will you? She has so much money that she doesn't know the meaning of a dollar bill."

An hour later they walked around the block to spend the evening with the Head and Grumpy.

"We ought to have a gate in our back fence so that we could just run out of our backyard into your mother's," Honey Lou remarked as they went along, her arm locked and their feet keeping step.

"Wait a minute—I want to dash in to see Angela for a jiffy," she added, and ran up the stone steps of the Allens' house.

Angela herself came to the door.

"I just stopped in to tell you," blurted Honey Lou, "that I showed Jack my bills and everything is all right. I knew you'd be glad to hear it."

Angela smiled.

"I told you everything would be all right, didn't I?" she asked.

Honey Lou nodded. "You did, and you sure know your groceries," she declared. and Angela frowned a little as she said it. But when Honey Lou used a slang phrase. "I'm awfully glad I made a clean breast of it. Now the bills will all be paid, and I feel like a free woman again. Everything's off my chest, thank goodness!"

"Did you remember to tell Jack that we'd seen Donegal a couple of times, too, while you were confessing to him?" Angela asked gently. "Or did you have nerve enough to keep that to yourself?"

They both laughed, and Honey Lou went out of the house to join Jack.

"I don't know why you aren't just crazy about Angela Allen," she told him, taking hold of his arm. "She's so perfectly beautiful, and she's the sweetest thing, that ever drew breath. I suppose I should be terribly jealous of her."

"Don't make me laugh," Jack answered. "You've known her long enough to know that she's like a sister to me. And anyway, you've got it all over her like a tent."

They went into the old white house. The Head was sitting alone in the parlor under a glass lamp reading.

"Jack, your father's up in bed with that pain in his back again. I think he'd like to see you," she told him, as they came into the room. Her sharp black eyes went to Honey Lou.

"And I want to talk to you, my dear girl," she went on in a severe tone. "You sit down here, and Jack, close the door when you go out."

Copyright, 1927, Johnson Features, Inc.

Read what The Head has to say to Honey Lou in tomorrow's instalment.

Popularity at a Price

Is It Worth While at Three O'Clock?

DRAWN BY Dorothy Flack

WHAT price popularity! Orchids, cigarettes pearls, furs, fans, champagne and social chatter who's dancing with whom and who's not—such are the requisites of popularity, and such are the things that every girl wishes for with all the feminine heart. Alluring smiles, enticing perfumes, painted cheeks and gilded souls—how the men adore them!

Everything has its price, and popularity is not an exception, no matter how much we try to fool ourselves. There always comes that awful "I don't feel like it this morning" feeling when physically and mentally an exhausted wreck, the poor young thing falls upon a cushion and hastily removes the offending slipper, shakes her throbbing head and wonders and wonders whether the sport is worth the price.

'Golden Roads'; Christine Reads Emily's Note

Continued from Page 9.

saw Stanley Baird regarding her gloomily.

"Your dad wants to see you, Big Boy. Wait—I'll find out if he's busy."

She spoke to Johnstone Baird over the wire, and giggled. "He's mad about something. Have a care, Jack Dalton!" Stanley looked back at Gay as he went through the gate.

Presently amusement spread slowly upon Christine's face. She leaned across the board; beckoned her cousin. "They're having a horrible row. He's left the receiver off—it's about you. Told Stan—here—she said the straps over the pale head; pressed down the ear-piece.

All a-quiver, Gay heard Stan's tense voice: "She's too good for me—for any of us. Of course I'd marry her—in a split second——"

Her fingers, like water, dragged the thing from her head. She groped for her chair, shrank down, tiny and forlorn.

Christine came over tenderly. "Don't bother about it, Gay darling. I'll get your hat. Go on home; I'll tell Isabel crabby highness that you're ill. Wouldn't have said anything if I'd thought you'd take it so hard."

Gay went slowly, doubtful of coming back. But she did come, a bit uncertainly. She didn't want to give up her position without a reason she could offer Jaimie.

Stanley sent her yellow flowers as if nothing had happened and waited for her with his roadster after work. Sometimes she slipped away from him; occasionally he drove her to the station.

She managed an air of lightness, laughing over trivial things. He never spoke of the quarrel with his father.

• • •

The note was written on incredibly heavy, gray paper and there was a crest at the top.

Gay kept reading it over. Her eyes would travel along the words, "...cup of tea... four o'clock ...hope it may be convenient ...."

Then the signature, "Emily Baird."

Stan's mother, inviting her to tea at four o'clock!

Christine was jubilant. "Guess they're coming around, Gay. Not to wonder for a prospective daughter-in-law."

"Oh, you're wild, Chris. But what's it about? I don't see—"

Christine glanced at the little blue dress, the white collar and cuffs. "Too bad you can't doll up a bit. Well, better be going—"

Gay pulled on her hat, gave a little shrug. "She knows I'm at work. I wouldn't make her laugh by dressing up. Oh, Chris, I'm scared—cold—"

Sitting alone with Mrs. Baird in the great house uptown, Gay felt a sense of pleasure—wondered why she had been afraid.

Stan's mother — Gray, - haired, rather plain, with tired eyes; white hands wearily pouring tea. They were in her own small sitting room, furnished simply, with old-fashioned things. A woman who thought overly much of the past might make such a room; a dead-pointed woman. The wood in her grasp and only the wan comfort of a room like this.

So Gay thought, looking very young, delicate as a flower in her gray-blue.

"We've planned such fine things for Stanley, my dear. These are trying years. He's not twenty-four yet, you know. A boy of that age —but—he—is—"

"Oh, yes! A boy twenty-four ought to work. You see? He wanders about, always playing—what is there ahead of him? He is capable of achievement—something high!"

All rosy eagerness she was saying that. They'd have gotten on together, the tired-eyed woman and the girl. They'd have built an understanding on this hour that might have waved confusion and pain.

But Johnstone Baird stamped in. "Everything settled, Emily?" No word of greeting to Gay; only a scowl.

Mrs. Baird began, coldly, "We're discussing—"

He hunched his shoulders with fine scorn. "Discussing! Look here, Miss Moore; you know why you're here. Things can't go on. You're determined to marry my son—"

Now Gay interrupted, jumpin - up, vibrating, eyes a-flare.

"Oh—marry your son! Indeed! You needn't fear—no, oh, no! You think I'd marry your son? A wastrel? Oh, it's not his fault. You reared him in idleness—to drift—to do nothing! I've got a job outside your office and earn as much as I do!

"You think I'd have a husband I couldn't respect? You think that? You think my father'd welcome a son who tries to buy life with someone else's money?

"No, thank you! When I marry I want a Man!"

She passed them, head high; turned about in the door. "I'm through with my position, now I'm resigned. You needn't fear from me —anything—"

• • •

Johnstone Baird gave her a quick, penetrating look and began to speak placatingly. "Oh, come, Miss Moore —there's no need of all that. A bit of misunderstanding—good want to be fair. Since you're so sensible! You work is good—exceptional in fact. I'll give you more money—a raise—"

"Money!" she flung out. "It's all you think of—all you know. Money —money! Poor rich man, you!"

She left him pulling at his collar. Mrs. Baird followed her into the hall; put out her hand. "Don't mind. Please—you won't? She's overwrought. You're fond of Stanley? But who wouldn't be?

"Don't you see what will happen if you leave us just now? He'll hear of this; there'll be a rift.

"He's all I've got—all that's left to me—" A terrible fear in the tired eyes. Gay felt her own eyes mist.

"Well—well, I'll stay. I'll stay. I'll stay for a time, then."

The woman murmured with tears running down her cheeks.

Copyright 1927, King Features Synd., Inc.

Gay and Stanley talk things over. There's a thrill in tomorrow's instalment.

Making of a Husband

By Ann Lisle

"IS that what you think of me? Is that how you see me?" I asked bitterly.

"That's the truth. It has nothing to do with how I see you or what I think of you."

"I can't account for your unkind attitude!"

"You've made me suffer the finest punishment," Betty said wearily. "I thought you were one based on honor in a world of tin-pots. But you can sacrifice all principles to a noble spirit of abstract justice. How can you be just or honest or fair when you're always thinking of principles and never of the people to whom they apply?

"I keep taking away my faith in myself. I protested. "You're not—no, I'm always at complete—I'm not when I try hardest to be right. You're making me so nervous—saying I have to be so honest—"

"I'm blaming you for the failure of your life," Betty said quietly. And I'm truly sorry. A promising girl, honors in college and Wilkins! I mean to tell Betty. I'm now officially over to speak to me again. But instead I was back into my chair and a voice I hardly knew for my own asked humbly:

"Betty—tell me—what do you think I ought to do. Even if I can't save myself, I'd like to help save the people who have trusted me. Can you see a way?"

Betty Winston stared at me with flashing eyes, which softened suddenly as she came to laugh. I gazed back at her in amazement, resentment and chagrin, wondering how she could conclude the scene as she had made here in the office of Stanley Grimsby with this old fashioned—

"Then you really are the same old Anne," she said at last.

"What do you mean by that?" I demanded. "You've just told me that I'm your fine, disillusionment, a failure a stubborn woman who is willing to destroy the people she ought to consider down to ruin in favor of unfounded ideas or right—"

"I'm not Jeanie told me about you," she said without a trace of malice. "Well! Don't see how—And Ralph sees only you."

To Be Continued Tomorrow.

Copyright, by King Features Synd., Inc.

Correct Manners

By Mrs. Cornelius Beeckman

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

The company for which I work is giving a dance for its employees. Each employee is allowed to bring a friend. I have asked my girl friend's brother to go, and I think I should pay for the tickets, inasmuch as I asked him to go, and I feel as though I were his hostess. My girl friend insists that he should pay for the tickets. Will you please settle this for us?

May I use compliment you on the helpful suggestions I have found in your column? I have found many answers to questions that had been puzzling me.

Thank you. E. T. C. O.

ENTHUSIASTICALLY agree with your point of view on this question of "complete hospitality." Since you are extending the invitation to the young man to be your guest, I think you should also buy the tickets, which is part of the hospitality.

Then, too, it saves all kinds of embarrassment on the part of the guest, and certainly this is the desire of any hostess. If the girl, when she extends the invitation, makes it quite clear about the tickets (either by what she is speaking with the guest, or, better, later in a note, she is showing distinct savoir faire, a sureness of social form. And I am always sorry for the man who are invited by girls to dances or any other form of entertainment and are left in the dark as to what they are supposed to do concerning the tickets. It isn't pleasant for the guest, and it is mighty poor form. So I strongly recommend that you get the tickets, send them to your guest "for safe keeping" (you might say in your note), and thereby give him a pleasant rather than a befuddled anticipation.

Thank you most heartily for the friendly and appreciative things that you said about my column. I wish that I could tell you how happy you made me! Such kindness as you thought to give me by your words shows that your manners are charming, for kindness is certainly the basis of manners.

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Would it be proper for the groom to wear a tuxedo suit and a derby hat at an evening wedding or is the silk hat and full dress more appropriate? READER.

A TUXEDO suit is never correct for an evening wedding. I realize that it is sometimes worn, but I repeat that it is never correct. And the reason why it is not correct is that a wedding is one of the most formal of occasions, and on a formal occasion one pays honor and respect to the hosts by wearing one's most formal clothes. Therefore, a gentleman pays honor to the family of the bride, and to the bride and groom, by wearing formal evening clothes—full dress.

Copyright, 1927, Premier Syndicate, Inc.

BALDNESS
CAN BE AVOIDED —
Lucky Tiger Hair-Tonic prevents Dandruff, Itching Scalp, Scurvy, Falling Hair, Baldness. Use Lucky Tiger for all skin eruptions. Barbers use Lucky Tiger.
LUCKY TIGER

Rhyming Optimist

By Aline Michaelis

I CAN'T tell why this happiness
I keep singing through the day
As joyously as a robin's notes that ring down aisles of May keep fluting ever through the hours their match less roundelay. It's not that I have much of gold or gifts the world would prize, indeed my treasures are but small in wise and worldly eyes; the things I hold most fair and dear the proud man would despise. Yet ever, as the days unfold, more glad seem greens my sight, more golden glories in the dawn, more stars strewn deeps by night, and well I know tomorrow holds new vistas still more bright! Ah, it must be this rosy hope of days and years ahead that casts the glamour over all the paths I hourly tread until across life's every scene the end less joy is shed!

Advertisement

How to Have Soft, Pretty White Hands

Many women will undoubtedly be glad to know how they may have beautiful white, soft pretty hands regardless of the work they have to do. The secret lies in rubbing a little lotion into the hands occasionally, preferably just before retiring at night. In the morning you will be agreeably surprised at the pleasant transformation that has been wrought by even a single application. Ice-Mint is made from a Japanese product that is simply marvelous for its beautifying properties whether used on the hands or face. Regardless of what kind of work a woman does she should have pretty hands, as they are really the true marks of refinement. A few applications of Ice-Mint will actually make any woman proud of her hands and skin. It costs little and is sold and recommended by good druggists everywhere.

Advertisement

MAKE MORE MONEY

Healthy, vigorous men land the best prizes. Buoyant step, bright eyes, clear complexion and exuberant vitality denote a system free from impurities. Constipation poisons the whole system, slows the step, saps energy, destroys confidence and cuts down the earning power

Rid your system of this foul and its poisons. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets remove them gently, tone up the system, clear the eyes and complexion and bring back normal vigor. A compound of vegetable ingredients, prescribed to patients for 20 years in place of calomel. They act easily and quickly on bowels and liver.

Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets and keep fit for the daily grind. Thousands of happy men and women use them regularly as an aid to success in their every day tasks. Know them by their olive color. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Advertisement

Powerful Skin Remedy Discovered

Dries Up Eczema, Barbers' Itch and Skin Eruptions

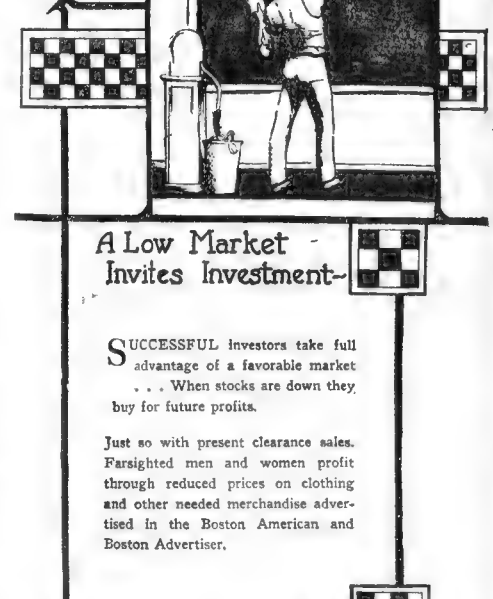
Must Give Results in 7 Days or Money Back

This wonderful surgeon's prescription now known all over America as Moone's Emerald Oil, is so efficient in the treatment of skin diseases that the itching of eczema often stops with one application.

A few applications and the most persistent cases of eczema often are healed never to return.

Moone's Emerald Oil is safe and pleasant to use and it is so powerfully antiseptic and deodorant that even odors arising from ulcers, gangrene and cancer are instantly killed.

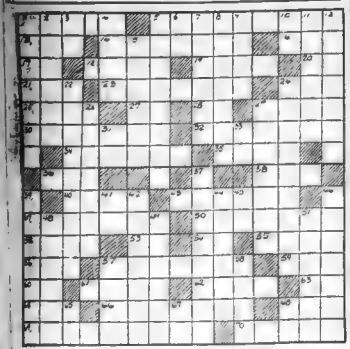
Moone's Emerald Oil in the original bottle is dispensed by pharmacists. All druggists always have Moone's Emerald Oil on hand.



A Low Market
Invites Investment—
SUCCESSFUL investors take full advantage of a favorable market . . . When stocks are down they buy for future profits.
Just so with present clearance sales. Farsighted men and women profit through reduced prices on clothing and other needed merchandise advertised in the Boston American and Boston Advertiser.
BUY NOW and Spend the difference

Today's Cross-Word Puzzle

NO. 392



HORIZONTAL

1—exclamation
8—All Hallows Eve
13—an Indian
14—growth in upper pharynx
16—1051 (Rom. num.)
17—mister (abbr.)
18—Malay boat
19—bikers
20—silver (chem. sym.)
21—energy (colloq.)
23—inters
24—a fruit tree
25—a northern sea
27—exclamation
28—early English (abbr.)
29—not crazy
30—mimic
32—teacher
34—citizens
35—speaks
36—pale
38—not old
40—tops
42—help
47—bearing spines
48—sense of reception
52—hinder
53—part of "to be"
54—toward
55—a mark
56—moved rapidly
57—piloted
59—do wrong
60—neuter pronoun
61—punishing
62—increase
63—depart
64—Turkish title
66—dullest
68—over (poet.)
69—uprightness
70—divides

VERTICAL

1—vine fruit
2—small river
3—himself
4—beware
5—heath flower (plu.)
6—one
7—spoke
8—makes plant
9—short poems
10—painter's term
11—"Thy maid of Astolat"
12—burns in two, as a log
15—give 22—went
24—mask
26—expiating
29—craftiness
31—by 33—noun suffix
37—does luck
39—impute
41—papa
42—depot
44—outcasts
45—within 46—frights
48—one who plates
49—rise out
51—practice mark
57—a seasoning
58—small spots
65—yes (Bib.)
67—estate
68—else

SOLUTION TO PUZZLE NO. 391

S	W	A	R	T	H	Y		B	A	T	H	S
M	A	N	U	R	E		M	A	R	O	O	N
O	F		G	O		F	O	R	M		L	A
K	E	Y		T	H	R	O	B		A	L	P
P	E	A	S		A	E	S		D	R	O	P
S	M	E	A	P	S		O	R		N	E
R		S	A	P	P	H	I	R	E	S		O
E	D		M	E		E	R	A	S	E	R
T	E	A	S		I	N	K		S	E	A	S
R	O	T		F	R	E	S	H		P	I	T
A	D		H	O	O	D		I	A	H		N	O
C	A	R	E	E	N		S	T	A	M	E	N
T	R	A	M		P	R	E	S	I	D	E

Copyright, 1927, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

THE THIMBLE THEATRE

Hard-Hearted Papa—By SEGAR

Copyright, 1927, King Features Service, Inc. Great Britain Rights Reserved

WIFEY—YOU SHOULD TELL YOUR OLD MAN—HE THINKS I'VE KIDNAPPED YOU AND HE'S GOT A FLOCK OF DETECTIVES ON MY TRAIL
CASTOR IF FATHER KNEW I LOVED YOU AND THAT WE'RE KEEPING HOUSE HE'D TAKE ME AWAY FROM YOU
ARCHIVES

DON'T BE AFRAID TO SAY IT; JUST BE HONEST

Because it is hard for you to bear criticism you endeavor in every way possible to avoid placing yourself in a position to be criticized.

Rather than be suspected of this attitude you drift along with the tide of opinion.

You know that your convictions do not coincide with theirs but you don't want to take a definite stand, for you fear their censure.

Evidently you have never learned the lesson that in order to amount to something you are bound to make enemies. Then, too, you will meet friends who will refer to you in a derogatory manner if you cross them.

The more important and fearless you become the more criticism you will receive.

If you would be a nonentity the remainder of your life be silent on the great issues that come up, reticent in giving your opinion when you are asked.

You don't have to be antagonistic, but you can be honest.

You should not be disagreeably frank and stubbornly obstinate but you can be loyal to right principles all the time—whether folk like it or not.

Copyright, 1926, Department Bureau, Inc.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Jiggs Finds He Isn't Boss

By George McManus

DON'T TALK BACK TO ME. DO AS I SAY. WHAT DO I CARE FOR YOUR APPOINTMENTS? YOU GO TO THE BUTCHER AND THE GROCER AND ORDER WHAT I TOLD YOU TO!
I'M GLAD I RAN INTO YOU, ALDERMAN JIGGS. YOU BE AT MY OFFICE AT TWO THIS AFTERNOON AND I'LL TELL YOU HOW TO VOTE WHEN YOU MEET THE COMMITTEE!
THE MAYOR JUST CALLED UP AND SAYS YOU MUST CALL AT THE CITY HALL AND RECEIVE THE VISITING FIREMEN!
GOOD MORNIN' BOSS!
GIT OUT OF HERE AN DON'T CALL ME BOSS!

GOLDBERG'S CARTOONS

Cartoon Follies of 1927

Copyrigh 1927, by R. L. Goldberg

By Rube Goldberg

THE BATTLING BROWNS
LISTEN, OBSTINATE—AS LONG AS YOU CAN'T FIND YOUR MOTH-EATEN OLD HAT, WHY DON'T YOU BUY A NEW ONE? GET A DERBY LIKE ALL THE REGULAR MEN ARE WEARING SO PEOPLE WON'T THINK YOU'RE A STRANGE BUM FOLLOWING ME AROUND!
WHAT, ME WEAR A DERBY! I'D JUST AS LEAVE WEAR A BEAN POT OR A CAN OF PRESERVES
LUKE AND HIS UKE
A BARBER TOOK ME FOR A RIDE AND NEARLY HIT A TRUCK—HE SAID, "I GAVE YOU ONE CLOSE SHAVE. SO I'LL HAVE TO CHARGE A BUCK!"
THERE'S A MAN AFTER MY OWN HEART
RHYME BY JOSEPH OLAKNOW JR PHIL. PA.
SENT IN A RHYME FOR LUKE
PHONEY BOLONIES
PER THOUGHTS
WHAT ARE YOU DOING TOMORROW NIGHT, BLANCHE?
I'M ALL DATED UP TILL TWO WEEKS FROM NEXT THURSDAY—MY ADMIRERS NEVER GIVE ME ANY REST
HE'S THE ONLY ONE THAT EVER ASKS ME OUT BUT I'VE GOT TO KEEP HIM GUESSING—IF HE'S JEALOUS I'LL BE ABLE TO WRAP HIM AROUND MY LITTLE FINGER
McNaught Syndicate, Inc., N. Y.

FILLUM FABLES

Jack Has Trouble With His Income Tax

By Chester Gould

A TAX TUSSLE
JACK STRONG IS STILL BUSY WORKING ON HIS INCOME TAX RETURNS. THE LAST 48 HOURS HIS FEVER HAS DROPPED 2 DEGREES, NOW REGISTERING 101° IN THE SHADE. HIS BLOOD PRESSURE IS STILL ABOVE NORMAL, HOWEVER AND THE DELIRIUM IS NOT ENTIRELY GONE.
BULLETIN
YES I'VE SEEN MANY AN INCOME TAX PATIENT, BUT THIS IS THE WORST CASE I'VE EVER SEEN.
HE'S JUST 3 QUESTIONAIRES AND 2 EXEMPTION CLAUSES AHEAD OF UN- CONSCIOUSNESS
ONE OF THE SPECIALISTS SUGGESTED JACK SHOULD GET MARRIED SO HE'D BE EXEMPT, BUT WITH MR. STRONG'S SALARY HE'D HAVE TO MARRY A WHOLE HAREM TO DO ANY GOOD.
IT IS REPORTED JACK MAY WORK FOR NOTHING NEXT YEAR JUST TO AVOID PAYING INCOME TAX.
COMPARE THESE PICTURES
BEFORE AFTER CHESTER GOULD

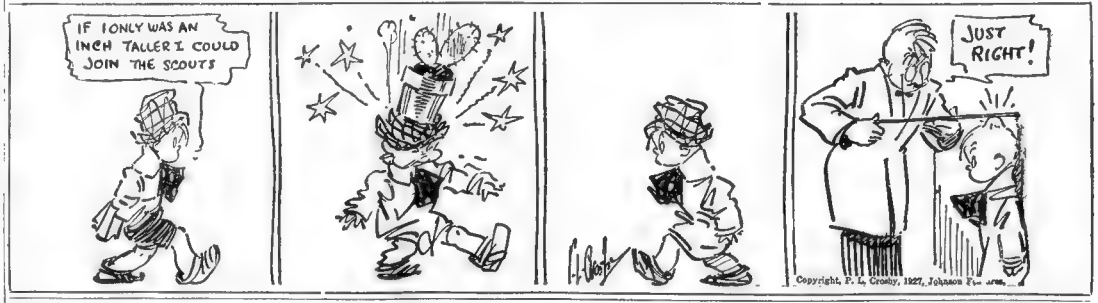
SKIPPY

Grows While You Wait

By Percy Crosby



DAILY SHORT STORY

"HOW much is this one, Mr. Muthford? It's a rare first edition I am told sure."

Peter Muthford hobbled out of the shadowy book-lined recess where he had been fingering a musty volume of Poe's Tales. He looked birdlike as the young man who stood beneath a smoky lamp, hugging a faded yellow tome as though he feared it would sprout wings and flit away.

"That one, Mr. Darylton? Why that one is very precious. It is a first and, I think, a unique copy of Ye Lover's Books. It is worth seven hundred dollars. There's a young lady after it."

"Yes, indeed?" A determined, quiet voice, putting the peculiar Washingtonian stress on the latter syllable of indeed, awakened the bookseller and his customer to the presence of a third patron. She had come out of the blue twilight of Pennsylvania avenue.

"I have an option on that book until Thursday," said the girl. She was a dark-eyed, capable-looking girl. Dark women always seemed a fascinating mixture of sweet Darylton thought, with a touch of Cleopatra must have had lips like this lady's, he felt sure.

"Yes?" It was old Muthford speaking. "Miss Wardman has till Thursday to claim it. You are both good customers and I don't know which of you I'd like more to have it. . . Miss Wardman or Mr. Darylton. Of course, if it's not gone by Thursday noon."

"I'll be here," promised Darylton reluctantly surrendering the book to the lovely option-holder. "I just won't be able to sleep for thinking of it."

"Isn't it wonderful!" observed Helen Wardman. "It seems to fascinate one. You feel that you would give anything to possess it. If I can't buy it Thursday . . ."

"Well, I must be off," said Darylton reluctantly. "Good evening. I wish you luck, miss."

But I'm very keen on Ye Lover's Books myself."

He left her with old Muthford and strolled up the avenue. Blossom Time was playing Polka. Not much fun going along. Now if he had someone like that Wardman girl. Dangerous musings for a not too loved rare first editions must be tremendously interesting. He would be on hand Thursday to see if she got the book.

Darylton did not find it lonesome at Poli's. Sitting next him was Ryan Gladen and his wife, old friend with whom he was very intimate.

"We hardly expected to get here," said Ryan. "In fact I was just going to give our tickets to Miss Wardman, my secretary, this afternoon when Grace called up and said the Spuller party was off. I'm very glad we came."

The Gladens admired George Darylton. He was humble and sincere for all his great wealth.

"Miss Wardman" repeated George. "Is she a black-eyed book lover?"

"By Jove, yes. How'd you know?"

"Met her at Muthford's on the Avenue. Tell me about her. And be careful: Grace is listening. She don't get too enthusiastic."

"There's not a great deal to tell," said Ryan. "Her father is a cotton broker down South. He thought so he sent her out to earn her own living for a while. Believe me, she's doing it. That girl knows more about the bond business than . . ."

Darylton listened with rapture. He was falling deeper in love with the seriously pretty Helen. Grace Gladen was delighted and Ryan began to feel uneasy at the prospect of losing a good secretary.

"Drop in to see us tomorrow night, George, won't you?" They asked him after the play. "It's ages since we've had you."

"I'll come," he promised, vaguely hoping that Helen might be there.

Late Wednesday night Darylton appeared at the Gladens. He had been to Muthford's several times to look at Ye Lover's Books. Miss Wardman had not come back since.

"I'm no end sorry, George," apologized Ryan Gladen. "But I have to leave for New York almost immediately. Will you and Grace come to the train with me?"

George was a bit chagrined. No mention of Helen after all his hopes. Well, he'd have to make the best of it.

"If I'm not the absent-minded brute!" said Gladen. They were saying good by at track 7. "Here's something I had to give Miss Wardman. Slipped my mind entirely. And I won't be around tomorrow noon when she gets back from Virginia. She went there yesterday. Now, what the deuce——?"

"I'll see her tomorrow at Muthford's," Darylton was eager. "May I not——?"

"Why, sure." Ryan gave him the letter. "So long, folks."

High noon on Pennsylvania avenue. Thousands of government clerks and dry goods clerks, best-dressed people in the world—so say those who have never seen them. An opulent Rolls at the curb in front of Muthford's dingy store. A handsome George Darylton in Muthford's shop facing a sad Helen and an uncomfortable bookseller.

"I—I'll have to surrender," said Helen. "I can't take it. You're very lucky, Mr. Darylton."

George possessed himself of Ye Lover's Books. The twain walked [illegible] together, Helen [illegible]

YE LOVER'S BOOKE

By Merlyn Swift

ing the ancient volume under his arm.

"Ye gods!" George stopped in his tracks . . . on the feet of a sleepy policeman. "Here's a letter Ryan Gladen gave me for you. He forgot. I forgot it . . . sorry . . ."

"Huh!" grunted the policeman and passed on.

With angry face she tore it open. A long yellow slip.

"My commission . . . what I was waiting for to buy my book. Oh you . . . you're cruel" There was a glisten of tears in the night-black eyes.

Gently he led her into his car.

"I'm sorry . . . Helen," he said contritely. "I really forgot. I was so eager to see you and so wrapped up in your beauty that I couldn't think of anything. I wanted to give you Ye Lover's Books as a present. Will you take it . . . and my love . . . my very keen admiration along with it?"

The cherry blossoms bordered a road through Paradise. Fair ladies, try to say no to a handsome lover in blossom-time, especially when all you want goes [illegible]

POLLY AND HER PALS

A Fixed Object

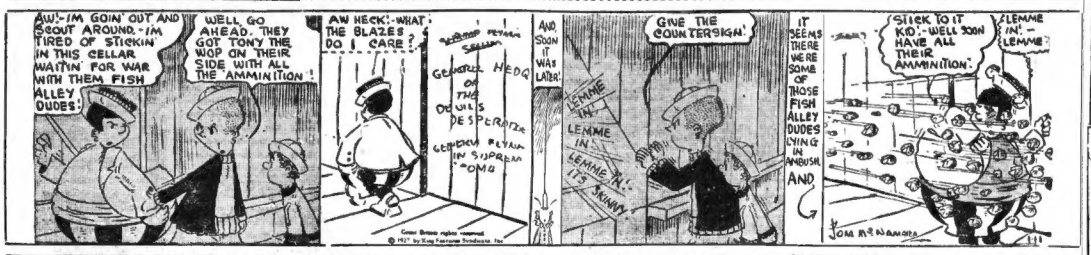
By Cliff Sterrett

IT'S A WONDER WILLIE WOULDN'T BRING HIS TRUNK, HE'S HERE MORNIN, NOON AN NIGHT!
HANK MOVER MAKES ME TIRED, WILLIE!
YEAH. HE'S FUNNY THAT WAY, POLLY.
S'MATTER WITH HANK, POLLY?
OH, HE'S MOVED AGAIN AND HE NEVER LEAVES ME HIS ADDRESS!
THAT'S BETTER'N WILLIE HERE. HE NEVER LEAVES OUR ADDRESS!
CLIFF STERRETT '27

US BOYS

Hero of the Day

By McNamara



AW!-I'M GOIN' OUT AND SCOUT AROUND.-I'M TIRED OF STICKIN' IN THIS CELLAR WAITIN' FOR WAR WITH THEM FISH ALLEY DUDES!
WELL GO AHEAD. THEY GOT TONY THE WOP ON THEIR SIDE WITH ALL THE 'AMMINITION!
AW HECK!-WHAT THE BLAZES DO I CARE?
GENERAL HEDQ OF THE DEVIL'S DESPERATE
GENERAL PLYAN OF SUPERMAN "OMA"
AND SOON IT WAS LATER.
GIVE THE COUNTERSIGN!
LEMME IN! LEMME IN! LEMME IN! IT'S SKINNY!
IT SEEMS THERE WERE SOME OF THOSE FISH ALLEY DUDES LYING IN AMBUSH AND SLICK TO IT KO!-WELL SOON HAVE ALL THEIR AMMINITION.
LEMME IN! LEMME
TOM McNAMARA

ABIE THE AGENT

Fair Play

By Hershfield

"AND I'M GOING BACK HOME FOR THE READING OF MY RICH UNCLE'S WILL WELL, A GOOD LUCK, SIGMUND- LET'S HEAR FROM YOU
AWHAW-LIKE I EXPECTED"
I HEAR SIGMUND'S UNCLE DIED
YES, A MONTH AGO-I JUST GOT A LETTER FROM HIM
HOW DID HE MAKE OUT IN HIS UNCLE'S WILL?
FINE-HIS UNCLE LEFT HIM EVERY CENT HE OWES HIM!!
HERSHFIELD

POTASH AND PERLMUTTER

Mazeltoff!

By Montague Glass

ABE AND MOSSES ARE ON THE POINT OF ADGUING MISS LOVABOND INTO MADDYING BEGINALD RICH FOR HIMSELF ALONE, WHEN I'D BE AWFULLY MERCENARY IF I LIVED ON BEGGIES EARNINGS AND LET HIM LOSE ALL HIS FATHER'S MONEY!
YOU MUSTN'T THINK OF ME, JUST MADDY ME AND I WON'T THINK YOU'RE SELFISH!
THAT'S THE IDEA! MADDY HIM FIRST, AND IF HE CAN'T EARN A LIVING, YOU CAN BUST THE WILL LATER!
ABE! THE PHONE'S RINGING! ANSWER IT AND ATTEND TO THE MATCH-MAKING!
WHAT!
WE'VE JUST FOUND A MINISTER WHO OFFERED TO MADDY US FOR $5, DOWN, AND $1 A MONTH FOR 6 MONTHS!
SO WE GAVE YOUR NAME AS A REFERENCE FOR THE BALANCE, AND SIG USED HIS LAST WIFE'S WEDDING RING—IT'S AN ELEGANT FIT!
JOE TOMING

KRAZY KAT

Can't Go Further—By HERRIMAN

Copyright, 1927, Int'l Feature Service, Inc. Great Britain Rights Reserved

AH-HAH - HERE COMES THAT MYSTERIOUS MISS KRAZY
I SHE
THERE'S A GREAT SECRET ABOUT HER, I'M AFRAID
DO YOU KNOW THE SECRET?
I SHOULD SAY I DO
DOES ANYONE ELSE KNOW IT?
ONLY EVERYBODY KNOWS IT SKINNY EVERY BODY-
THEN, HOW IS IT A SECRET?
IT'S A SECRET FROM HER
THERE'S AN OPEN, AND ABOVE BOARD BRICK DING
ZIP

MEDBURY SAYS---

By JOHN P. MEDBURY

SWIMMERS from all over the world are flocking to Catalina Island to take part in Mr. Wrigley's 1-20 contest this month.

THE water out there is so chilly that several of the contestants have been doing their rehearsing in goldfish bowls.

ALL the Los Angeles bathtubs are training quarters.

GERTRUDE EDERLE is in such good shape that she can swim the San Pedro Channel without getting her feet wet.

SHE swam over to Catalina Island last week and carried two passengers.

FRANCES COWELS followed right behind her with the luggage.

SHE carried a trunk in each hand.

EXPERTS claim that going across the harbor is nothing. It's like swimming through a hot water bag.

ONE fellow did it the other morning and then went bathing in the afternoon.

AND later in the evening he had his wife turn the hose on him.

THIS contest is going to be quite a society affair and one of the swimmers wanted to know if he'd be allowed to take his coat off in the water.

HE looked all through the book of etiquette to see if a gentleman was supposed to swim the channel in his shirt sleeves.

ONE man says he hopes the launches don't follow him too closely because the propellers always get in his ears.

THE last time he swam around Cape Gris Nez, the British navy parked one of their battleships on his chest.

MR. WRIGLEY is offering $25,000 to the winner. You can either have the cash or take it out in chewing gum.

ONE fellow says he's anxious to win this California prize because he wants to buy some Florida land.

Copyright, 1927, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

THE BEST JOKE I EVER HEARD

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for "Best Joke" published. Address "Best Joke," Boston Evening American.

The tramp paused outside the house.

"Clear out!" shouted the lady of the house. "I ain't got no wood to chop. There ain't nothin' you could do around here."

"But, madam, there is," retorted the wayfarer with dignity. "I could give you a few lessons in grammar."

MARJORIE J. BEMIS.
No. 40 Dwight street, Springfield

QUICK SAVOURY.

Make a sandwich with grated Cheddar cheese and a sprinkle of celery salt, between thin slices of bread and butter. Press firmly together and cut into squares somewhat bigger than postage stamps. Fry each small sandwich into a good, thick batter, and fry in boiling fat until golden brown.

SMART SAYINGS OF CLEVER CHILDREN

The Boston Evening American will pay $1 for published smart sayings. Address "Smart Sayings," Boston Evening American.

Little Girl—"Mother, may I please have some water to baptize my dolly?"

Mother—"No, dear."

Little Girl—"Then may I have some wax to waxinate her?"

MRS. H. GREENE,
No. 42 Grove street, Boston.

The world's highest automobile climb is up Pike's Peak, 14,109 feet above the sea level.

The Amazon River is estimated to be 870 feet deep at a point 1,000 miles from the sea.

The Funniest Book Ever Published

"ALL THE FUNNY FOLKS"

112 Pages—500 Illustrations
All in Color—On Fine Paper

A Real Story for Grown Ups and Children

Special Money-Saving Coupon
"ALL THE FUNNY FOLKS"

Bring your coupon to the Circulation Department of the Boston Evening American and Boston Advertiser and secure a copy for 98 cents. If you live out of the city mail the coupon and $1.08 to cover the cost of the book and the mailing to

"ALL THE FUNNY FOLKS"
Boston Evening American and Boston Advertiser, 5 Winthrop Square, Boston

Name .....
Address .....
City .....

MEDITATIONS OF A WIFE---BY HELEN ROWLAND

DARLING, do not turn away,
Though our love has run its course.
Keep your promise made that day—
Give, oh give me that divorce!

Surely, you remember how
Once, you said you loved me SO!!
Be not adamantine, now—

Advertisement

CORNS REMOVED ONLY 10 CENTS

Corns Come Out Without a Murmur; Pain Gone At Once—Guaranteed.

WAFERS THIN AS PAPER SHOES DON'T HURT

"I never saw their equal." Yank corns right out by the roots and never a pain or sting. It's a joy to stick an "O-Joy Corn Wafer" on a tender, achy corn. Away goes pain immediately and then later out comes callous, corn, roots and all. Slip shoes right on—they won't hurt. O-Joy Corn Wafers are thin as paper. Stop using ugly burning acids and doughnut plasters. Thousands of people tortured with corns have joyfully praised O-Joy Wafers. Results absolutely guaranteed. Six wafers for 10 cents. At leading druggists.

Darling, darling, let me GO!
Though we never meet, again,
Say not that your love was dross
With the alimony, then
Darling, darling, come across!

Judging from the evidence in the newspapers, most divorce cases might be better solved if they could be tried before a lunacy commission.

• • •

Somehow, it sort of cheers a wife up to discover how much more trouble some other woman is having with her husband.

• • •

The modern man's sweetest memories are of his first love, his first car, his first bootlegger—and his first divorce.

• • •

Nothing so annoys a man as to have things running so smoothly at home that they give him no excuse for going out and looking for "consolation."

• • •

Even when a husband is only "a cross," he makes such an effective background for a woman to drape herself on, that she hesitates to part with him.

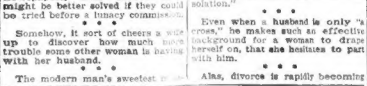
• • •

Alas, divorce is rapidly becoming one of these "modern conveniences"—which we expect to find in every up-to-date home.

• • •

Parting with a husband is like parting with a tooth; you may take an anaesthetic at the time, but the pain and the emptiness last a long while afterward.

Copyright, 1927, King Features Syndicate, Inc.



It begins immediately to take out the Inflammation and reduce all Swelling. The first application brings Great Relief.

Stops Itching Instantly and Quickly Relieves Irritation.

Recommended by Physicians and Druggists in United States and Foreign Countries. Remember PAZO OINTMENT is sold in tubes with Pile Pipe Attachment, 75c, and in tin boxes, 50c. PAZO OINTMENT is made to relieve you. Read carefully the circular enclosed with each tube and box containing facts about Piles which everyone should know.

PARIS MEDICINE COMPANY, Broadway and Pine Streets, St. Louis, Mo.

Since 1880

FOR Acid Stomach

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides it neutralizes acid fermentation in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips." Sixty five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drugstore. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

HER SON-IN-LAW HAD AWFUL COUGH

Hawked, Spit and Coughed Mornings—Began to Worry Family

SIMPLE HOME REMEDY QUICKLY STOPPED IT

"My daughter was worried about the hacking cough and phlegm in his throat and one night I stayed, he coughed all night, so I got a couple of bottles of Linonine which she promised to give him before each meal for a while.

"Linonine works like magic and sure enough, in a few days they both were tickled to death and they call me doctor. He looks, eats, sleeps and is so much better—like a new man, too, because Linonine builds up a man's strength and vitality in a wonderful way."

Any person may easily rid themselves of such coughs and colds with Linonine. It is a creamy emulsion of pure nature used by thousands of families. It contains Cascara, Beechwood Bark, Irish Moss and Oil of Tar-seed. Doctors prescribe it. Results are quick. Children with the croup find it an effective remedy for such troubles which is absolutely Cod Liver Oil. Even children love to take Linonine. Both bottle bears name and guarantee of the long established, nationally known, Kerr Chemical Co. which insures highest quality and merit.

At this time of year grave dangers lurk in a lingering cough and cold. Lead druggists sell Linonine in two sizes—50c and $1.00, or send dollar bill with name and address to Kerr Chemical Corp., Brentwood, Md., for large size. Agents wanted for Jamaica.

Why Nation Is Prosperous During Decline in Prices

By B. C. FORBES

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Even if you have had no change in your pay envelope, your wages have actually been going up a little.

How?

Because prices have been coming down. Therefore, your dollars can buy somewhat more.

Another thing. It used to be imagined that the country could not enjoy prosperity unless prices were rising, and that when prices began declining so did business accordingly. Well these notions have been exploded by what has happened during the last year.

B. C. Forbes.

We have witnessed the greatest activity the United States ever known, not while prices have been advancing, but while the trend has been the other way.

ACCORDING to Irving Fisher's compilation, prices averaged during the first quarter of last year 158.3, based on 100 as representing pre-war prices. There was a decline to 151.7 in the second quarter, to 146.1 in the last week of the year.

The average for 1926 was 151.3, compared with 153.2 in 1925, showing a drop for the year of 5 per cent. Dun's gives the decline from January 1 to the end of last year as practically the same amount.

WHY is experienced notable activity and prosperity under such circumstances?

There have been three main reasons, in my opinion.

FIRST, there has been extraordinary freedom from violent fluctuations. Month after month the change in average prices did not amount to as much as 1 per cent. The downward movement has been almost continuous but extremely mild.

SECOND, the increase in the productivity of American workers unquestionably has been a very important factor. If all the facts could be ascertained, it undoubtedly would be revealed that the increase in production per worker has reached a greater percentage than the decline in the price level.

THIRD, there has also been distinct improvement in management, in efficiency. This, supplemented by cheaper and better transportation, likewise has contributed to make it possible for business to prosper without marking up prices.

WHAT of the future?

It would strengthen the Nation's economic position were those agricultural prices which are unreasonably low to advance into line with other commodity prices. It is entirely possible that 1927 will witness such a movement on a moderate scale.

In manufactures, the trend this month, according to present indications, promises to be similar to the trend last year.

(Copyright, 1927, by B. C. Forbes.)

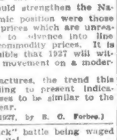
ELECTRIC RATE IN WORCESTER OFFERS TEST

By FRANK H. MELOON
Financial Editor

Worcester Electric Light Co. rate reduction case offers a test both interesting and important. Mayor Michael J. O'Hara was authorized by the City Council to hire "experts" to study the company's rates.

Michael J. O'Hara
(Photo by Bassett)

The gentlemen to whom the task would be assigned found that the rates are too high, if based on the capital actually invested. But they declared the rates to be the basis of present value of the company's property.



Frank A. Seiberling

Tomorrow Mayor O'Hara will ask the State Public Utilities Commission to reduce the rates. The decision will establish a precedent. It is contended by the companies in general that they are entitled to benefit by the appreciation in realty and other values, the same as citizens in general and the owners of manufacturing industries. This view may be upheld in cases where the companies are actual possessors of working properties. The writer does not see how it can be applied to those lighting companies which have shut down their own plants and are acting merely as middlemen between larger companies and former customers.

There are so many New England holders of Goodyear Tire issues that

INTERNATIONAL PAPER COMPANY
New York, December 29, 1926.

The Board of Directors have declared quarterly dividend of Fifty Cents (50c) a share on the Common Stock of this Company, payable February 15th, 1927, to Common stockholders of record at the close of business February 1st, 1927.

Checks will be mailed. Transfer Books will not close.
OWEN SHEPHERD, Treasurer.

Clippings From Today's Classified Pages

'22 Studebaker Sedan for Sale A real car for $235. 3 new tires. See Classification 150.

Furnished Rooms on Beacon St. Nicely furnished, sunny front rooms. Reasonable. All modern improvements. See Classification 90.

Wanted—A Salesman 25 years or older. Can average $60-$90 weekly. Only a reasonably energetic man need apply. See Classification 53.

Boston Toy Terrier Loot Beautifully marked, pedigr papers. This dog loves childre always playful. See Classificat tion 138.

(For the names and addresses of the above advertisers and scores of other opportunities, see today's American and Advertiser Classified Ads.)

RECORD YEARS FOR OIL PRODUCTION IS FORECAST

An 8 per cent. increase in demand for all petroleum products in 1927 over 1926 consumption is forecast by E. B. Reeser, president of Barnsdall Corporation, together with a new peak in oil production, which will nevertheless leave an excess of consumption over production of approximately 15,000,000 barrels, which will have to be drawn from existing stocks.

$5,000,000 CT. POWER PLAN IS PROJECTED

Northern Connecticut Power Co. applied to Federal Power Commission for permit to develop the Connecticut River. Plans call for building huge dam below Enfield Falls that will cost approximately 15,000,000.

New York Curb

New York, Jan. 11—Stock prices were firm in the curb market to-day. Hand-Kerden advanced 1 point to a new high of 61¼. Union-United was up ⅜ at 88, and Marmon gained ¼ at 38¾. Curtis featured the rise, rising rapidly to 27¾, against yesterday's closing of 23¾.

Foreign Exchange

Foreign exchange was irregular, being cables $4.85¾, unchanged; French francs .0396¾, off .0000¾; belgas .1391, off .0006½; German marks .2378, unchanged; lire .0426, off .0007.

Reichsbank Rate Cut

Reichsbank reduced discount rate 1 per cent. from 6 per cent. Lombard rate is unchanged.

Cotton Is Higher

New York, Jan. 11.—Cotton prices were higher today, up 3 to 6 points. March 18.36, May 18.14, up .031 May 13.15, up .06, and July 18.53, up .04.

NEW YORK STOCKS

	Jan. 12	Jan. 11			Jan. 11	Jan. 10
	High	Low	Latest	Close	High	Low	Latest Close
Ahumada L.....	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝	—
Ajax Rubber..	10	9⅞	9⅞	10⅛
All Ch & Dye	139	137⅞	138⅝	138⅞
Amerada	34	33⅜	33¾	34
Am Ag Chpf	61¼	49¾	49¾	49¾
Am Can	48	48	48	47⅞
Am Home Pr..	31⅞	31⅝	31⅞	32
Am Ice	120½	120½	120½	—
Am LaFrance..	8⅝	8⅝	8⅝	—
Am Safety R.	53	53	53	53¾
Am Smeltg ..141⅛		140⅝	140⅝	141⅛
Am Steel Fdr.	44⅝	44⅛	44⅛	44⅝
Am Tel & Tel.154⅞		154	154	154⅞
Am Water W	65	65	65	65
Am Woolen ..	31⅝	31⅜	31⅜	31⅝
Am Wool pf..	85	85	85	84⅜
Anaconda	43⅝	43⅜	43⅜	43⅝
Armour Ill A.	15⅞	15⅞	15⅞	15⅞
Armour Ill B.	15⅞	15⅞	15⅞	15⅞
Atch T & S F.	161½	160½	160½	161¼
All Gulf & WI	41⅛	41⅛	41	41
Baldwin Loco	119	118	118	118⅛
Balt & Ohio..	109⅛	108⅝	109⅛	108⅝
Barnsdall Cl A	31⅜	30⅞	31⅛	30⅝
Bayuk Cigars.	34	34	34	34
Beth Steel ..	47⅞	47⅜	47⅜	47⅝
Bklyn Man Ry	69	68⅝	68⅝	68⅝
Brunswick ..	31⅝	31⅜	31⅜	31⅝
Calif Packing	68⅝	68⅜	68⅜	68⅝
Chesbt Penbody	63¼	63	63	63¼
Chgo Gt West.	31⅝	31⅛	31⅛	31⅜
Can Dry Gals	39¼	39	39⅛	39
Can Leather..	10⅝	10⅛	10⅛	10⅝
Cerro dePasco	63⅛	62⅝	62⅝	63⅜
Ches & Ohio..	160¼	160	160¼	160¼
Chi M&StP pf.	20⅝	20⅝	20⅝	20⅝
Chi RI	73⅛	72⅝	72⅝	73⅛
Childs Co.....	29⅝	29⅜	29⅜	29⅝
Chile Copper..	33⅝	33	33	33⅛
Chrysler	42⅝	41⅝	41⅝	42⅜
Cocos Cola ..	171⅞	171	171	171⅞
Colum Gas & E	66⅛	66⅛	66⅛	66⅝
Colo Fuel & I	45⅝	45	45	45⅝
Columbian Car	65¾	65¾	65¾	65¾
Congoleum ..	19⅝	19⅜	19⅜	19⅝
Consol Gas ..	109	109	109	109
Continen Can	54¾	54¼	54¼	54¾
Cont Bakery A	71	70½	70½	70½
Con Bakery B	9⅝	9⅝	9⅝	9⅝
Cn Textile ..	8⅞	8⅞	8⅞	8⅞
Contl Can....	71¾	71¼	71¼	70⅞
Contl Motors.	10⅛	10⅛	10⅛	10⅛
Corn Prod....	47⅞	47⅝	47⅝	48
Crucible Steel	80½	80	80	80¾
Cuba Cane pf	49⅝	49⅝	49⅝	49⅝
Cuba Co.....	33⅛	33⅛	33⅜	33⅛
Cuban-Amer ..	27⅞	27⅞	27⅞	27⅞
Del & Hudson..	174½	174½	174½	174⅞
Del L & W..	142	142	142	142
Devoe & Ray..	40¾	40¾	40¾	40
Dodge Bros..	26¼	26¼	26¼	26⅜
Dodge Bros pf	83⅜	83⅜	83⅜	82⅝
Dome Mines ..	10	10	10	10¼
Dupont d N ..	175	174½	174½	176
Eastman Kod..	130½	130½	130½	130
Elec P & L ..	18⅝	18⅝	18⅝	18⅝
Elec Refrig ..	37⅛	36⅞	37	36⅝
Elec S Battery	79½	79½	79½	79½
Erie R R	40⅝	40⅜	40⅜	40⅝
Erie 1st pf..	54⅝	54⅜	54⅜	54⅝
Erie Stm Sh ..	54⅝	54⅜	54⅜	54⅝
Famous Plyrs..	113	112¼	112¾	113⅝
Federal L&T..	42	42	42	42⅛
Fed Trust pf..	115	115	115	115
Fisk Rubber..	17⅞	17⅜	17⅜	17
Fleischmann ..	44⅝	44⅜	44⅜	44¼
Fox Film—A ..	47	47	47	47
Freeport	38¾	37⅞	38	37⅞
Gen Asphalt..	86⅝	86⅛	86⅝	86⅝
Gen Electric..	84⅞	84⅝	84⅞	84⅝
Gen Motors..	154⅝	152½	153⅞	154⅝
Gen Outdoor..	54⅝	54⅛	54⅝	54⅝
Gen Ry Sig..	83	83	83	83¼
Gimbel Bros..	41⅝	41⅛	41⅛	41⅝
Glidden	20¾	20⅜	20⅜	20¾
Goodrich Tire.	48⅜	48⅛	48¼	47⅞
Goodyear	48⅝	47⅞	48⅛	48⅜
Gt Northn pf.	84⅞	84⅜	84⅜	84⅝
Household Pr	44¾	44¼	44¼	44⅝
Houston Oil..	38⅝	38⅛	38⅜	38⅝
Hudson Mtr..	85⅝	85¼	85⅝	85⅝
Hupp Mtr Car	24⅝	24⅜	24⅜	24⅝
Independ Oil..	31	30½	30½	30½
Intl Agr Corp	10	10	10	10¼
Intl Harvester	141⅝	141¼	141¼	141⅝
Intl Cement..	51⅝	51⅜	51⅜	51⅝
Intl Com Eng	48¾	47⅞	48⅝	48⅝
Intl Mer Mar	43⅝	42¾	42¾	43⅛
Intl Nickel...	43⅜	42⅝	42⅝	43⅛
Intl Tel & T..	125⅜	127⅜	128	128⅜
Jewel Tea Inc	87¼	87¼	87¼	87¼
Jordan Motor	21	20⅝	20⅝	21⅜
Kayser & Co..	50¾	50⅜	50⅜	50¾
Kelly Springfd	11¾	11¾	11¾	11¾
Kraft Cheese.	57	56⅞	56	56½
Kresge Co.....	34½	34⅜	34⅜	34⅝
Kimberly	68	67⅝	67⅝	68
Lehn & Fink..	37⅜	37⅛	37⅛	36⅝
Liq Carbonic..	53¾	53⅛	53⅛	53⅝
Loews Inc....	49¼	48⅞	49¼	49¼
Lorillard & Co	32½	32⅜	32⅜	32⅝
Louisiana Oil	23¾	23⅝	23⅝	23⅝
Mack Trucks..	94⅞	93⅝	94	94
Mariand Rock	28⅞	28⅝	28⅝	28⅞
Marshall Field	43⅝	43⅜	43⅜	43⅝
Marland Oil...	57⅞	57¾	57¾	57⅞
Mid Cont Pet..	36¼	36⅛	36⅛	36⅜
Middle States	30⅜	30⅛	30⅛	30⅜
Mo Kan & Tex	32⅝	32⅞	32⅞	32⅝
M K & T pf..	91¾	91¾	91¾	91¾
Mo Pacific ..	39¾	39¼	39¼	39¾
Mo Pacific pf.	91	91	91	91¾
Mohawk Carpet	77¾	77¾	77¾	77¾
Mother Lode..	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼
Nash Motors..	69⅝	67	69¾	70⅛
Nat Biscuit...	103¾	103¼	103¼	103¾
Nat Dairy Pr..	72¾	72¾	72¾	72⅝
New Cons Cop	14⅝	14⅜	14⅝	14⅝
N Y Central...	141¾	141¼	141¼	141¾
Nat Ten	11⅜	11⅛	11⅛	11⅜
North Am	46¾	46	46	46
Nor Pacific...	82¼	82	82⅛	82⅝
Omnibus Corp	13⅞	13⅜	13⅜	13⅝
Otis Elevator..	130⅛	130¼	130½	129⅝
Otis Steel	7¾	7¾	7¾	7¾
Packard Motor	36¾	36⅞	36⅞	36⅝
Palge Detroit.	31⅜	31⅜	31⅜	31⅜
Pan-Am Pet B	63¼	63	63	63⅜
Panh&Ste P&R	15	15	15	15
Park Utah....	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝
Pathe A.....	40	40	40	39⅝
Penn Dix Cem	28	28	28	28
Penn RR.....	57⅝	57⅝	57⅝	57⅞
Penn Mary....	116	116	116	116
Phila & R Co.	46	44¾	44¾	44⅝
Phillips Petrol	67	66¾	66¾	66⅝
Philip Morris	40¾	40	40	40⅝
Pierce Arrow..	22	22	22	22⅜
Pierce Petrol	7¾	7⅝	7⅝	7¾
Postum Cer....	98⅜	98¾	98¾	97⅝
Pub Serv NJ..	82⅜	82⅛	82⅛	82⅜
Radio Corp....	53⅝	53⅜	53⅜	53⅜
Reading	96⅝	96⅜	96⅜	96⅝
Replogle Steel	13⅝	13½	13½	13⅝
Rep Iron & S..	60	59⅝	60	59⅝
Royal Dutch..	53⅜	53⅛	53⅛	53⅜
Safety Cable..	53⅝	53½	53½	53⅝
Schulte Stores	48⅝	48¼	48¼	48
Seaid Air L..	26	25⅞	25⅞	26
Shell Union O.	29⅜	29¼	29¼	29⅜
Sinclair Oil...	19⅜	19⅛	19⅛	19⅜
Simms Petrol..	20¼	20¼	20¼	20¼
Skelly Oil	36⅝	36⅝	36⅛	36⅜
Sloss Sh S & I	131¾	130½	130⅝	131
South Pac....	109⅝	109¾	109⅝	109⅝
So Cal Edison	32⅞	32⅝	32⅝	33
So Dairy A....	44⅝	44⅝	44⅝	—
So Dairy B....	43½	43½	43½	—
So Pacific ...	109⅞	109⅝	109⅝	109⅞
Std Oil Calif.	58¼	58¼	58¼	58¼
Std Oil NJ....	38⅛	38⅛	38⅛	38⅜
Std NY.....	32⅜	32⅜	32⅜	32⅝
Stewart-W Sp.	65⅝	65⅜	65⅜	66
Studebaker ..	65¾	65¼	65¼	65¾
Submarine B..	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
Texas Co.....	56⅝	56⅜	56⅜	56⅝
Tex Gulf Sul..	52⅝	52⅜	52⅜	52⅝
Tex & PCaOil	16	16	16	16
Texas Co 8 p..	104	104	104	104
Third Avenue.	39½	39½	39½	39⅝
Timken R B..	81⅛	81⅛	81⅛	81⅜
Tobacco Prod	108⅛	108⅛	108⅛	108⅛
Transcontl Oil	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝	4⅝
Union Carb ..108⅛		103	103	103⅝
Un Oil Cal..	58⅛	57⅝	57⅝	58⅛
Union Pac ...162⅛		162⅛	162⅛	161⅝
Union Tank C	95⅞	95⅝	95⅝	—
Un Cigar	34⅝	34⅝	34⅝	—
Un Drug 170		170	170	169½
Un Pipe	81	81	81¼	81
U S C I Pipe.	219⅝	219⅛	219⅝	219⅝
U S Ind Alc..	81¾	80⅝	81¾	79½
U S Rubber..	44⅝	44⅛	44⅝	44⅝
U S Rubber..	62	61¾	61⅞	61⅝
U S Sm & Ref	34⅝	34⅜	34⅝	35
U S Steel ...159⅝		158⅝	159⅛	159⅝
U S Steel wi	116	115⅝	116	117⅜
U S Steel pf ...130		130	130	130½
Utah Copper..	97⅝	97¼	97¼	97⅝
Waldorf Sys..	22¾	22⅝	22⅝	22⅞
Warner Pic..	41⅜	41⅛	41⅛	41⅜
West Md 2 pf	23⅝	23⅝	23⅝	23⅝
West Pac pf..	73⅜	73⅜	73⅜	73⅜
Western Un T	148	148	148	147⅞
Westing El ..	70¾	69⅝	69⅝	70⅝
Wheel & L E	28	28	28	27⅞
White Eagle O	26	25⅞	25⅞	26
White Motor..	56⅞	56⅝	56⅝	56⅞
Willys-Over ..	23⅜	23¼	23⅜	23⅜
Willys-O pf 6%	66⅝	66⅝	66⅝	66⅝
White Rock ..	28⅝	28⅜	28⅝	28⅝
Woolworth 178		177	177½	178⅛
Wrigley Jr....	71¾	71¼	71¼	71¾
Yellow Truck.	28⅞	28⅝	28⅝	28⅝
*Ex-dividend.

Boston Stocks

	Jan. 11	Jan. 10
	High	Low	Latest	Close
Am Can	48	48	48	47⅞
Allied Chem..	138⅝	138	138	138⅝
Am Agricul..	27	27	27	27
Am Pneu l pf.	17	17	17	17⅛
Am Smeltg.....141⅛		140⅝	140⅝	140⅝
Am Sugar 153½		153½	153½	152
Am Wool.....	31⅝	31⅛	31⅛	31⅝
Amoskeag	115	115	115	115
Baldwin 153⅝		152⅝	153⅝	152⅝
Balt & Ohio..109⅝		108⅞	109⅛	109
Barnsdall A..	30	30	30	30⅛
Bingham	37⅝	37⅜	37⅜	37⅝
Bos Con G pf.107⅞		107⅞	107⅞	107⅞
B & M Rr....	88	88	88	—
B & M C.....	105	105	105	105
Can Pac.....	148⅝	147¾	147¾	148⅛
Cal & Hecla..	48⅝	47¾	47¾	48⅛
Chrysler	42¾	41⅝	41⅝	42
Cities Svc....	69⅝	69⅛	69⅛	69⅝
Edison	230	229½	230	—
Eastern Mfg..	37⅜	37⅜	37⅜	37⅝
Fairbanks 178		177½	178	177⅜
Gen El new...	85	84⅝	85	84⅝
Gen Motors...154⅜		152⅝	153⅝	155⅛
German	24	24	24	24
Gillette	94	94	94	94
Hancock	84	84	84	—
H. Nelson....	28	28	28	—
Hood Rubber..	46⅞	46⅝	46⅞	46⅝
Hudson	85⅝	85¼	85⅝	85⅝
Int Harvestr..	141¾	141¼	141¼	141⅝
Int Cement....	51⅜	51⅛	51⅜	51⅝
Gen El new...	85	84⅝	85	84⅝
Gen Motors...154⅜		152⅝	153⅝	155⅛
German	24	24	24	24
Gillette	94	94	94	94
Hancock	84	84	84	—
H. Nelson....	28	28	28	—
Hood Rubber..	46⅞	46⅝	46⅞	46⅝
Hudson	85⅝	85¼	85⅝	85⅝
Int Harvestr..	141¾	141¼	141¼	141⅝
Int Cement....	51⅜	51⅛	51⅜	51⅝
Kennecott	61⅞	61¾	61⅝	61⅞
Mack	94⅜	94¼	94¼	94⅜
Maine Central.	57⅞	57⅝	57⅝	57⅞
Mass Gas	89¼	89	89½	89¼
Mayflower	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜	3⅜
Mex Seaboard	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
Nash	69⅜	68¾	69¼	70⅜
N E Tel.....	117	117	117	117
N Y N H & H..	24½	24½	24½	24½
Olympia	18	18	18	—
Pan Am B....	62⅞	62⅜	62⅜	62⅝
Pond Creek..	32⅝	32⅜	32⅜	32⅝
Quincy.....	16⅛	16	16	16
Rand	28	28	28	28
Reading	96⅝	96⅜	96⅜	96⅝
St Mary's....	24	24	24	24
Shawmut	22½	22½	22½	—
So Pacific ...109⅞		109⅝	109⅝	109⅞
Swedish-A 109		109	109	108
Tamarack	22	22	22	22½
Tower	8⅝	8⅝	8⅝	8⅝
United Drug..170¼		170¼	170¼	—
U S Rubber..	62	61¾	61⅞	61⅝
United Shoe..	52	52	52	52
U S Smelt P..	45¾	45⅝	45⅝	45½
U S Steel ...159⅛		158⅝	158⅝	158⅛
Utah Apex	6⅝	6⅝	6⅝	6⅝
U Verde	11⅛	11⅛	11⅛	11⅛
Westinghouse.	70¾	70¼	70¼	70⅝
Yellow Truck.	28⅝	28⅝	28⅝	28⅝

State Street Notes

RAND KARDEX reports current business running at record volume and outlook for 1927 is favorable.

MOORE Drop Forging Company declared regular quarterly dividend of $1.50 a share on Class "A" stock, payable January 1.

NASH dividend declaration of $1 is interpreted as placing stock on regular $4 annual basis. Total of $4 a share was paid in 1926.

AGENT FREELY of Salmon Falls Manufacturing Co. announced mill will close tonight, in accordance with vote of stockholders to liquidate. Mill is only industry in Salmon Falls, N. H.

Wall Street Gossip

STEADINESS, with narrow price changes, characterized the stock market today.

ST. PAUL in first seven days of January handled 32,274 revenue freight cars, against 36,332 in same period of 1926.

SERVEL Corporation has just concluded a contract whereby the Southern California Edison Company will sell Servel refrigerators exclusively during 1927.

CALL money renewed at 4½.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN
Entered as second class matter at the postoffice at Boston, Mass. Also at the Postoffice Department, Canada.

Published daily (except Sunday) Winthrop Square, Boston 9, Mass., by NEW ENGLAND NEWSPAPERS PUBLISHING COMPANY.

Domestic rates (Subscription by Mail) Postpaid: One Month 65c; Six Months $3.75; One Year $7.50. Foreign rates: One Month, 85c; Six Months $4; One Year, $8. No mail subscriptions to be Postal Union rates; subscription payable strictly in advance.

The Boston Evening American assumes no financial responsibility for typographical errors in advertisements, but will reprint that part of an advertisement in which the typographical errors occur. Advertisers will please notify the management immediately of an error which may occur.

MEMBER ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein. All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are reserved.

Advice Is Free

Before you buy or sell any stocks or bonds, you should have expert advice. Send your investment inquiries with stamp to Frank H. Meloon, financial editor, Boston Evening American, No. 5 Winthrop square, Boston, Mass. No replies can be made except by mail.

BOSTON RADIO AMERICAN

VOICING THE GREAT DEMOCRACY OF THE AIR

LOCAL STATIONS

WNAC—Boston—430

THE SHEPARD STORES

6:00 P. M.—The Smiters, conducted by Clyde McArdle.
6:30 P. M.—Dinner dance, "Dok" Eisenhour and his Rinkonians.
6:50 P. M.—Health nurse.
7:00 P. M.—Movie news.
7:30 P. M.—Lost and found and missing persons' bureau.
7:35 P. M.—News flashes.
7:40 P. M.—Weather report.
7:50 P. M.—"Life of the Hair."
7:55 P. M.—"A Friend to Yourself."
7:45 P. M.—The Lady of the Ivories.
8:00 P. M.—Announcement.
8:01 P. M.—Newspaper Sidelights.
8:30 P. M.—Musical half hour.
8:30 P. M.—Maiden Cadet Band, Nicholas Mavro, conductor, assisted by Mrs. Mavro-Rogan, pianist; Jack Fay, tenor; S. G. Mavro, violinist.
9:00 P. M.—Crew of the "Flying Cloud," U. S. Coast Guard Cutter, Confidence of the Maiden Cadet Band concert.
10:00 P. M.—News flashes.
10:05 P. M.—Karle Rohde and his orchestra.
11:30 P. M.—Dance Marshall of the "Princess Flavia" concert.

WEDNESDAY A. M. PROGRAM

10:30 A. M.—WNAC Musicale: Miss Eva Clarice Hay, Swedenborgian Church, Boston; Miss Ina Bertrand, Massachusetts Federation of Women's Clubs; Eleanor Barrows, R. N., Massachusetts Department of Agriculture; baritone solos by Herbert Liversidge.
12:00 Noon—Luncheon concert, direction Edward Rosenwald.

WEEI—Boston—349

THE EDISON ELECTRIC ILLUMINATING COMPANY

FROM NOONTON & DUTTON STUDIO

12 M.—Dreamland Orchestra.
2:00 P. M.—Dr. Thomas H. Gaines, "Health Talk."
4:00 P. M.—WEEI Woman's Forum. The Woman Reader and Her Relation to the Home. Florence Miller, B. N., Consultant in School Nursing, Massachusetts Department of Health.
4:30 P. M.—Billy Moore and his Brown's pianist.
5:00 P. M.—Eddie Diggs and his Five Black Aces.

FROM WEEI MAIN STUDIO

6:00 P. M.—Events of the Day.
6:10 P. M.—Mary Bunnill and Harry O'Connor, popular songs.
6:45 P. M.—Big Brother Club—The Dixie Dandy Boys.
7:30 P. M.—Interollegiate broadcast. Ada Comstock, President of Radcliffe College.
7:45 P. M.—Masterpiece pianist.
8:00 P. M.—The Vikings.
8:30 P. M.—Henriette W. Boynton, soprano; Mrs. Dudley F. Pratt, accompanist.
8:45 P. M.—Bob Stevens, xylophone; Mrs. Alicia Hubbard, accompanist.
9:00 P. M.—Eveready hour.
10:00 P. M.—Auction Bridge game.
10:30 P. M.—Henry Ford's dance orchestra.
11:30 P. M.—What's on the air, by Bill Hamilton.
11:45 P. M.—Radio forecast and weather, S. S. Rideout.

WEDNESDAY A. M. PROGRAM

6:40 A. M.—Health exercises.
7:45 A. M.—Morning watch, Rev. Stephen H. Bobbitt, D.D., minister of the Redemption, Boston.
10:00 A. M.—From Houghton & Dutton Studio: Anne Bradford's half-hour for home makers; chorus, Slight Method of Instruction," Valley Flowers; "Are You Budgeting Your Time This Year?"
10:30 A. M.—Caroline Cabot Shopping Service.
10:45 A. M.—Betty Crocker's home service talk.
11:00 A. M.—Events of the day.

WBZ—Springfield—333

WBZA—BOSTON—333

8:00 P. M.—Organ recital from Elks Home by Arthur Clifford.
8:15 P. M.—Kenin Andrews and his Broadway Troubadours.
8:50 P. M.—News and the newspaper, by J. E. Dinneen.
9:00 P. M.—Continuation of organ program by Arthur Clifford.
9:10 P. M.—A. C. Radio Forum.

DX REPORT

By "BARNEY"

Last night was another good night with many stations to be found. On almost every notch from 0 on the dial to 100, some station, near or far, was heard. As we jumped from station to station rapidly, and the announcers were in league against us, we did not hear many sign. KDKA, Pittsburgh, was heard, WPG, Atlantic City; WBAC, WEAF, WJZ, WGY, New York; WRVA, Richmond, and

Announcements

New Year Greeting

A HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL
A SHOE WORKERS'
PROTECTIVE UNION
93 Atlantic Ave. JOHN D. NOLAN, Pres.
M. E. BOWMAN and family extend season's greetings to station dealer, South Boston, greetings.
ARMENIAN-American citizens extend season's greetings to Rathbury friends; season's greetings.
JOHN P. SWEENEY, M.D., and family, Worcester, extends season's greetings.
A. ARTEMISIAN & CO., Rugs, 382 Broadway, extend greetings for 1927.
WORCESTER-W. BALDAN CO., Tailors, 9 Pulton St., extends season's greetings.
MARY BENTLEY (mostly Perfect 10) extends season's greetings; sincerely yours.
GEO. W. BROWN AUTO REPAIRING, 10 Berkeley St., extends season's greetings.
CENTRE MEAT MARKET, 177 Centre St., Roslindale, Hgh. 3854, greetings.
COHN'S BOSTON TEA CO., LTD., 1-2 Scollay Sq., Boston, extends season's greetings.
CONVALESCENT HOME, 1035 Beacon, for Invalids of all ages, extends season's greetings.
MRS. J. M. COX, Chiropodist, 9 Falmouth Ave., Hyde Park, season's greetings.
JOHN J. DONOVAN, Jr., Inc., 1 Milk St., Boston, extends season's greetings.
F. J. DOWLING, Fore Mower, wishes everywhere, wishes me suits at miles. 1 Sterling St., Roxb. Sq., extends season's greetings.
EMERSON MARKET, 145 Emerson St., Lynn, extends season's greetings.
EAST BOSTON Public Market, 396 Bennington, cor. B. & M. R. R., Season's greetings.
ECONOMY Cash Market, 233 Pearl St., Cambridge, 5387-W, extends season's greetings.
DOLLEGAN'S, Public MARKET—900 Beacon, Inc., Cor. Gaston, Season's greetings.
ENJOY New Year and not forget Kenneally Rug mop. 290 Hanover St. Gen. 3004-3005.
FAMOUS MARKET, 1 Bennington St., East Boston, Res. 2730-M. Extends season's greetings to customers.
F. C. FISH ICE CREAM CO., Norman St., Everett, extends season's greetings.
FELTGROUND, INC., 80 Broad St., Boston.
39 Prentiss St., Hgh. 4774, greetings to all.
FRANK'S 365 Shoe Repairing, 365 Broadway, Newton, extends the season's greetings.
MISS MARY FROST, Hairdresser, 108 Arch St., extends the season's greetings.
GILLETTE Auto Co., 90 Clinton St., extend greetings for 1927.
REED'S HAAS CO., Roxbury, general advertising, extends season's greetings.
HALL & COLE, 100 Faneuil Hall Mkt., extends greetings to all for 1927.
S. HATCH CO., Coal and Coke, West Newton, extends season's greetings.
SIMON HEFFORD, Haberdasher, 262 Hwy., Chelsea, extends season's greetings.
HUNTER MARKET CO.—146 Huron Ave., Cambridge, Univ. 1435. Extends season's greetings.
HODGE AUTO SERVICE, 161 Hanoverway Inc., Tel. Hgh. 1194, extends greetings.
E. HUCLER, 66 Clinton St., exp. and motor cycle mechanic, extends greetings.
HUNNEWELL Market, Inc., 6004 Wash. ave., extends season's greetings.
JACK'S MARKET, 1093 Hyde Park Ave., Hyde Pk. 0220, extends season's greetings.

JAMES F. KENNA CO.
R. N. Market St. greetings to all
KEARNEY & TRACY TAXI SERVICE, 720 Cortes, Dor. 0044. Season's greetings.
LAWRENCE Engineering & Contracting Co., Contractors, 12.2 Wash St., W Newton extends greetings.
LINCOLN CASH MARKET—237 Dudley St., Roxbury, Dud. 0638, Inc. extends season's greetings.
L. W. Lindquist, delicious doughnuts, 2 Chapel St., Norwood, season's greetings.
LOCKE-MARKHAM HDW. Co., Inc., 1 Dover St., Boston, extends season's greetings.
MAGNOLIA CO. INC.
Sausage Mfrs. and Packers of North St., Hich. 3862. Season's Greetings to all.
M. MANGO & Sons, Fruit, 1 N. Market St., extends greetings to all for 1927.
MARTIN'S MUSIC SHOP, 675 Hanover, North Bradley, extends greetings.
MERCURY PRINTS & PHOTO SERVICE, 5 Clinton St., 4 N. Market St., Rio. 9337. 1928, greetings.
MONARCH MARKET, 241 Atlantic St., at Austin, Grun. 6014-R, extends greetings.
MORRIS Bros. Inc., 1 Canal St., Boston, Univ. 7124-W, extends season's greetings.
MORNINGSTAR Bros. Inc., 1 Canal St., Boston, Hay. 3887 Season's greetings to all.
MUTUAL MARKET CO., 1317 Dorchester, Boston, Liberty 8001, season's greetings.
NEW YORK Fish Co., 214 W. Broadway, Boston, extends greetings to all.
NEW Dietetic Shop, 1 Bennington St., East Boston, Res. 2-24, extend greetings to all.
NEWTON Auto Co., 1 Washington Park, Newtonville, extends season's greetings.
NORTH Packing & Provision Co., Boston, extends greetings for 1927.
O'BRIEN Bros., 1 Commercial St., extends greetings for 1927.
OWEN PARK MARKET, 466 Common St., Belmont 1-0, extends greetings to friends and customers.
C. M. PEASLEE CO., 70 North St., Boston, extends season's greetings to all.
PEARL CASH MARKET
188 The Fenway, Kenm. 2000, New Year
PEERLESS PROVISION CO., 208 W. New York St., Rox. Gen. 2902, extends season's greetings to all.
PARIS PUBLISHING CO., 1 Beacon St., Boston, Sec. 2305, season's greetings.
DAVID PARKER, Fruit Dealer, 1 Faneuil Hall Market, 2870, extends greetings.
PARKER HOUSE, Boston, Season's Greetings, Revere, 0000. Season's Greetings.
PLYMOUTH VARIETY THEATRE Bridge, Indian 1035. Sherwood, Blackbourn, Directors.
RATHEN-M. PRODMAN CO., wholesale Fruits, 60 Chatham St., extends greetings for 1927.
RAY'S, 36 Rothesay, Watertown, extends greetings.
Wishing a Happy New Year to all.
RUSSO'S Fruit Store, 1 Faneuil Hall Market, extends greetings for 1927.
SAMPSON'S Market, Reliable Hardware, 1320 Blue Hill Ave. Mil. 2035-3529
A. SILVERMAN, Fruit Dealers, 1 Faneuil Hall Market, extends greetings for 1927.
SMITH'S Electrical Shop, 2 Bennington St., East Boston, Res. Season's Greetings.
SOUTH BAY MARKET, 1 Dover St., Boston, extends season's greetings.
SOUND AND LIVE POULTRY CO., 322 Albany St., Boston, extends season's greetings.
STANDARD FRUIT CO.—1 Merrantile St., extends greetings to all for 1927.
STANLEY & JOHN, So. Boston, specialty body work, extends season's greetings.
STATE ELECTRIC CO., John Johnson, 1171 Wash. St., Boston, extend greetings.
E. STROCK & CO., Fruit Dealers, 28 Clinton St., extend greetings for 1927.
TRIANGLE MEAT MARKET, 840 Dor. Av. So. Boston, extends season's greetings.
TWERSKY LYNES & CO., Wholesale Fruit Dealers, 39 Clinton St., extend greetings.
UNION FRUIT CO., Wholesale Fruits, 16 N. Market St., extends greetings for 1927.
WINCHESTER TRUST CO., Winchester, Mass., Charles town, Season's Greetings to all.

Lost and Found

BURKE—In Winthrop, Jan. 9th, Annie E. Burke (nee Hughes). Funeral on her late residence, 1 Churchill Ave., Wednesday, 9:15 A. M. Requiem mass at St. John the Evangelist. Relatives and friends respectfully invited to attend.

Lost—on car, Scollay Sq. to Dudley St., Sunday, a pigeon. Div. 15. Glasses—Pair of shell rimmed glasses, Boston to Lynn car, near "Wilson Brothers." Div. 20 Call Liberty 6000, 9:00 A.M.
FOUND—Pocketbook, with money, on Dudley car, Dudley St. Call Hgh. 0000.
LOST—Pocketbook, containing money, between Dorchester and Brighton Seminary, new Col. Gate. Reward.
LOST—Lady's wrist watch, black strap, surrounded with pearls; lost Fri. or Saturday St. Reward to finder or Mrs. J. Read LOST—Gold pin, set with Norwegian buttercup, between Revere and Nantasket Beach. Finder please call Revere 0000.
LOST—Red, white & tan terrier, white marking, male, 2 years, children's pet; lost by yard. Call ——.
LOST—6-inch collie puppy with white ruff on neck, vicinity Hyde Park Ave. Reward. Telephone Rowland, Talbot 3402.
MONEY—Between Quincy & Medway Reward. Speakers 2178-J.
PATTERSON—Lost, in Boston St., Lynn, collar, tags and name. Reward. Return to 420 Eastern Ave., Malden.
PUREFOY—Tan, coat's mommy, head lost in Lynn or Boston car. Call or write Mrs. R. Valley Ave. reward. Sel. 0293-J.
"Revue"—lost between Rex, Dorchester and "Revue." lost between Rex, Dorchester and Mass. Ave. Reward. Commings, 90 Parker Ave.
SCOTCH COLLIE DOG LOST. Reward Call evenings. Call Waltham 1226-W or 60 Fern Ave., Waltham.
WATCH—Gliding, white gold, white bracelet, lost Boston-Worcester & o'clock train. Finder, $5; reward. Liberty 6000, Main Branch.

Lost and Found

WATCH—Wrist, white gold, lost Mon. p. m., between Melrose-Boston; initialed "M. L." Finder please call Melrose 1001.
WRIST WATCH—Initials "E. L. P." lost Thursday p. m. Call Hgh. 2000. Reward.

Special Notices

BENCKS BROS.
167 W St. South Boston 0530
High grade, Reliable Upholstering
SPECIALTY PRINTING
THE ANTHONY PRESS
215 Causeway St. Boston Kenm. 2000
FURS REMODELED, REPAIRED & DESIGNED LOWEST PRICES
Boston Fur Mfg. Co. Summer St. Inc.
FLASH SIGN, $7.50
ONLY SIGN WITH 3 DISPLAYS
170 Tremont St. Room 208 Hgh. 1837
MALDEN—PALACE OF SWEETS
Candies and Ice Cream 61 Pleasant St.: Malden 2315.
CANTON-BOSTON CARB MARKET—Fresh and salt meats, free del. Canton 0908
CASH for Your Feed of Quality 400 Watertown St. Canton 608-W
MAIN ST.—Boston and ranges, 15 Bolivar St. Canton 0293-M.

TRAVELER CAFE
AT HOTEL AVERY
Is AVERY PLACE TO EAT
SHOPPERS' ATTENTION
NOON-DAY LUNCH 11:30 to 2:30 P. M.
SPECIAL CHICKEN DINNER, 75c.
Table d'hote and a la carte service
ITALIAN DINNER, 2 TO 8:30.
EATING PLACE OF THE ENTIRE FAMILY
VINCENT MARIANO, MGR.

SYMPHONY RESTAURANT
251 HUNTINGTON AVE. BOSTON
SPECIAL LUNCH 11:30 TO 2:30
Crimson Sandwich Shop
30 COURT SQ. NEAR CITY HALL
HOT SANDWICHES, SPECIALTY OF THE TRY COURTROOM SERVICE HAROLD
M. Cavana, 886 Tremont St.
Hotel, dining room, with rooms for parties, lodges or clubs. Beach 6099.

Clairvoyants, Palmists, Etc.

MADAM DRIELLE
CLAIRVOYANT—CLAIRAUDIENCE
ALL AFFAIRS OF LIFE
Office hours 9 A.M. to 9 P.M. Sundays 2 to 6
1034 Washington St. City
MADAME LILLIAN
Lowers 9 sweets ..... until 9:00 so
Lowers 9 sweets ..... Revere.
MADAME SARAH—Famous" Hindu exper in love, business, 10-10 524 Columbus Ave., Opp. Symphony Hall.
MME. HARDING—Clairvoyant 40 readings daily, tel. Highland 3077.
MME. HOWARD—Clairvoyant, 307 Dudley St. Opposite 50 Dudley St., Rox. Hic. 9000.
MRS. EVELYN Clairvoyant, Readings daily 10 A.M. 9 P.M. 185 St. Botolph St.—Boston
MRS. HENDRICKS, 1000 Beacon St., Brookline Carre, 1270 H-ist, Av. Numerologist; 10 cards, palms, 50c. Hours 9 to 9. Sundays by Market. Lynn, Mass. Tel. Jackson 900

Business and Professional Services

Attorneys 18
ADVICE FREE—Everything handled in strict confidence, prompt and successful methods. Bulfinch Bldg., Room 1000, Cor. Court & Hanover Sts., Boston.
White's Law Office, 823 Washington St.

Beauty Aids 20
PERMANENT WAVE, $5
No kinks. Looks like a wave. Prof Tell, 6 Winter St., Room 1010.
MARCEL SO Shampoo and dress 75c
Curling, 5 Winter St., Rm. 1009
LANGIL PERMANENT WAVE, $5
5 private operators. Tel. Beach 9000
5 Winter St., Room 710, Liberty 8292.
PERMANENT WAVE, $5
Perm. $10, coloring $10, marcel 50c, shingle bob, 50c. Harriet, 314 W. Broadway, Boston, extends greetings to all.
Miss Christine, Permanent Waving Specialist, 24 Dalton St., Boston, Bac. 9-24, extend greetings to all.
RUSSO'S—The largest and best beauty parlor in Boston. 5 Winter St., Room 1009. Hgh. 6696. Branch 6000.
SCHOOL OF HAIRDRESSING, 6 Winter St., Connolly, 116 Tremont St., Room 420

Laundering 15
New Method Wet Wash Laundry, 10 Gay Hub Ave., Somerville. Somerville 3000.

Medical and Physicians 23

X-RAY

Examination, consultation, trial treatment and advice free—Everything handled in strict confidence since 1918 The wonderful power of the violet ray in treating disease in the home must be proved by the fact that they are recommended by leading doctors in the city and description — catarrh, bronchitis, deafness, stomach, liver and kidney trouble. Let us prove what your system may be remember Dental & Medical Co. 5 Boylston St. will make good the above offer

Business and Professional Services

Medical and Physicians 23
ELECTRIC HAIR NEEDLE SPECIALIST
HAIROS LADIES' FACES permanently
"Simplicity" Method. Best Results.
Physicians' references. Molly Rapport 12-
Tremont Row, Room 2, Tel. 2780

Detective Agencies 26
WHITE'S Est. established, over 25 years; patents, trade marks, foreign offices; confidential reports & exacting condition all; Washington St., Room 1000, Cor. Court St.

Building and Contracting 27
ELECTRIC WIRING
Don't start the job until you get our price; complete with specifications; DESIRES
GEORGE E. WALLACE ELECTRIC CO
Tel. Beach 2000 Res. Hgh. 3000
246 Main St., Everett Everett 2241

Heating, Plumbing and Roofing 28
Specialties in asphalt shingling Wigginsville Co., Cedar St., Framingham 1026. Chas. Lee of Commerce Bldg., Boston.

Painting, Papering, Decorating 29
FOR reliable work at a reasonable price call or address R. Safian, painters and paper hangers' headquarters, 1199 Blue Hill Ave., Roxbury. Tel. Milton 2000.
PAPERING—including paper, $5 per room; also painting. Call Hgh. 0000.
PAPER HANGING
84 Rixey, So. Boston 1800-J.

Educational

Dancing
For Latest Ball Room Dancing See
PROF. WISEMAN
230 TREMONT ST. BEACH 2072
Exhibition, Waltz, Argentine, Tango, Apache, Fox trot, Lesson daily. Class Wed. 8 o'clock is better than taking 10 lessons from any other school in Boston

STAGE DANCING
Buck and Wing, Soft Shoe Clog, Acrobatic
PROF. RITTER
260 TREMONT ST. BEACH 9072
Studio Open Daily 9 A.M. to 10 P.M.

State Conservatory OF DANCING
State Ballroom, State Theatre Bldg., Main ave. Stage, Ballet and Interpretative. Instruction and training by Adolph Harrold Hoffe, Master of Ballet, Metropolitan Opera House, Boston. Call or write 6 Beacon St. Kenmore 7842.

MABEL G. HALL
VALENCIA STRICTLY $1
PRIVATE
FOX TROT, WALTZ, TANGO, CLASS 25 HUNTINGTON AVE., BACK BAY SUBWAY
PARAMOUNT NEW 1926 STYLE
SCIENTIFIC SCHOOLS OF DANCING
EXPERTS LIMBERING, BALLROOM STRETCHING, STAGE
J. HUGHES, M. MORISSEAU
LOOMIS Tel. KENMORE 0788
PRIVATE LESSONS IN MODERN STAGE ANYTIME CLASSES Mon., Thurs., Sat.
W.H.O'Brien 295 Huntington Ave. Private and class lessons daily, 10 A. M. to 10:30 P. M. Write for circulars.
Paparone Exhibition and Stage Dancing. Class Mon., Thurs. Eve. Studio, 1 Boylston Pl., Mass. Ave. A. B. 0885.

Educational

ACROBATICS
FOR SENSATIONAL STAGE DANCING
Limbering, Stretching, Kicks and Splits to Music in Shortest Time
SEE LOUIS LERNER
"BOSTON'S LEADING DANCE MASTER"
AN OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME
BLACK BOTTOM 65c
TAPS Positively taught for graduates only now!
Ballroom WALTZ
COLLEGIATE
865 Mass Ave. (at Hunt.) Tel. B. B. 0383
Class Lessons Mon., Wed., Fri. 8 P.M.
10 A.M. to 10 P.M. Circulars
LEARN DANCE WELL
CLASS LESSONS 50c
PRIVATE LESSONS $1
Beginners no fee Here
Latest Steps VALENCIA Different Styles
Florence Kelly
School of Modern Dancing
240 HUNTINGTON AVE.
B. 7507
LATEST STEPS DEMONSTRATED EVERY DAY
Prof. LESLIE'S
850 Mass Ave Ken. 5672
BALLROOM
STAGE
Black-Bottom, Buck and Wing, Music, Comedy Acrobatic, Waltz, Clog, Tap, Comedy Etc.
Reasonable Rates Results Guaranteed

14 LESSONS $5
Valencia, Hat-Trot, Collegiate, Waltz
PRIVATE AND CLASS 10 A.M. TO 10 P.M.
FIFE AND CLARK SCHOOL
MODEL DANCING SCHOOL
Miss Fawcett—Miss Hoyt
177 HUNTINGTON AVE
Aut Huntington Ave. cars
Get off at Gainsborough St.
B. 5153

GraceDarling350 Huntington Ave
Private lessons anytime. Kenmore 8450
DANCE Learn the Latest Steps at Prof. Lewis' Studio
by priv. les. Hen 0435. 169 Dartmouth St.

Beauty Culture School 36
BOSTON SCHOOL of HAIRDRESSING evening classes Reduced rates now
Tremont St., Room 406
PRIVATE STUDIO—8 Worcester Sq. prf
Tel. B. 9 hours 9 to 5 daily
SELLING'S HAIRDRESSING SCHOOL—
We teach you money getting and beauty culture days. 149 Tremont St., room 712.

Trade Instruction 42
Hunt'n Auto School
3181 Washington St., Jamaica Pl. M. 2000
Full 12-hour Course $12. Course for ind-ividual car used Phone Ulverst 0-0-0-5-7-2

Business Schools 43
Learn barbering and shingle bobbing; points of practice; best instruction; call or write Old Reliable Barber College 902 Washington St., Boston, at corner of Kneeland.
ATTENTION! BOBBING
Expert instruction, the most modern system, guaranteed satisfaction, positions secured in Barber School, 1039 Washington St., Boston
BARBERING, BOBBING, SHAVING, HAIR CUTTING
BARBERING, BOBBING, STRAIGHT CUTTING
Trial Tel. Hancock 3859; entire building
BOSTON BARBER COLLEGE

Correspondence Schools 44
LEARN ACCEPTING, day or evening 948 Washington st. Boston HALL UNIVERSITY
LUNCHTIME TAUGHT—Day and evening classes, also special courses for beginners grads. Bunchard, 46 Portland St., Boston

Situations Wanted

Situations Wanted—Female 47
DRESSMAKING—Fancy work and alterations; high-class estab. Gra. 8022-W, after 6.

Help Wanted

Help Wanted—Female 50
REFINED WOMAN
as or over 35 years of age with established connections; no canvassing. Phone Hancock 1000.
GIRLS to color cards at home; super, help-ful. Send self-addressed envelope for particulars. The Betty Alden Studio 12 Eastern Ave., Gloucester, Mass.
YOUNG LADIES wanted for Musical Comedy Chorus. Apply 194 Dorleton St., Roxbury.
WANTED middle-aged housekeeper housework other than cooking. Call Hgh. 2000.

Help Wanted—Male 53
2 Men with Drivers License
To demonstrate and sell Maytag Washers, willing to work for $250 each week start. Splendid oppor. for advancement. Maiden Form Co., 41 Main St., Malden 0700.
WANTED—SALESMEN
25 years or older, for Arlington, Winchester, Woburn and vicinity. Car required. Will average $60-$70 weekly. Only a responsible, energetic man need apply. Mr. Dunbar, 246 Mass. Ave., Arlington.
BIG CHRISTMAS BONUS this sale wasted Steady work for experienced men. Write Hyde Park Ave. Boston. Apply 2 P.M. Marshall Co., Massachusetts, New York.
DEPENDABLE Man over 25, 6 hour; business; no selling; to advertise new air cushion shoe; to advertise. Apply Mr Streeter, 6 Beacon St., Room 1211.
MAN over 21, neat dresser, for permanent position. Apply Mr. Cohen, Boston Garment Ass'n 48 Piling St., Somerville.
WANTED—Experienced motor supplyman, must do hour, plenty of overtime. Must be married and of pleasing personality. Apply 18 Tremont St., Rm. 9?8, 8.5 a.m.
WANTED—Experienced man to sell cars on commission basis. Only those who can produce need apply. Apply 246 Main St., Everett.

Heating, Plumbing and Roofing 28
ATTENTION—Plumbers wanted to run of 5" to 10 Herrbrite 100 samples weekly and $5.00 per day. Apply Herrbrite Co., 1926, Chamber of Commerce Bldg., Boston.

YOUNG MEN—Steamship positions; Europe; Orient; good pay; exp. not necessary send self-addressed stamped envelope for list of positions Box 122 Mt Vernon, N. Y.

WANTED—An experienced man to sell coal to the retail coal yards in Boston and vicinity. Must have good record and reference. Address Box 11-71, this paper.
WANTED—Experienced salesman to handle-Adorable Shoe for baby dresses with velvet trimmings. Apply Room H-35, this paper.
Solicitors, Canvassers, Agents 35
DISTRICT MANAGER for Boston and district capable $7500 a year and expenses agents selling $24.50 all-wool made-to-measure guaranteed overcoats; Spring and Summer lines now ready; splendid proposition; exclusive territory. Write the Becker Tailoring Company, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Business Opportunities—62

BEAUTY PARLOR
Modern shop, best location in town, wonderful opportunity Phone Kenmore 1926.
FOR SALE—Confectionery and fruit store and flentile lunch. $525 weekly; 6 years lease; rent $50. Apply 1 Dover St., Room 1?7.
GENT'S haberdashery store, well everything; complete or reduce stock; good business; 2 floors; 2 and 10 cts. 38 Bromfield St.
GROCERY—Variety; corner store; doing business; $30 per week; sale or lease. 1 Dover St.
OPPORTUNITY to buy a flourishing bust-ness; Bowling alley; will exchange for lunch and poolroom adjoining illness-caused. Hoshory 4212-J.
PARTNERS WANTED—A meritous partner ship with a well established Massachusetts corporation; $2,000 to $5,000 cash required; $2,000 profit J. Stanley Wedlock, 124 Washington St., Room 1?7, Boston.
ROXBURY—Market, full line meats, grocery, fruit and vegetables; best location; near Mission Church; rent $40. Bra. 3054.
WANT $500 CASH—Will guarantee you $600 and 400 washes weekly; nearly all cash business; good for two. Good buy for quick sale. Myrtle 4781.
$6 to $18 Steam cleaning, finest, every-where. Call Patterson Corporation, 6 Union Park.
Business Opportunities Wanted 6
HOW Mr. a business of merit that needs capital, principals only. Hi.95. this paper
BALANCE MONEY IN BUYING THIS AMERICAN CLASSIFIED WAY

Financial

Money to Loan—On Chattels 71
Workingman's Loan Ass'n
STATE No. 2
Robert Treat Paine 2d, Pres. made on furniture and pianos at 1% per month also small charge for making of loan
LOANS PAID BACK AT RATE OF $4 PER MONTH ON $100
1 Beacon St., Room 303 Tel. Hay. 1?90
LOANS to Housekeepers
Reliable. Loans secretly. Prompt. Phone Hub 0?00. Hours 9 to 5. Licensed.
LIBERAL Loans on diamonds, watches, musical instruments, clothing, sewing and honest service solid gold rings, diamonds and hand goods for sale. 1 Hanover St., Boston, 2nd floor, rear. 1 Hanover St., Boston.
LOANS 3% to $300 to employed men and women on their personal notes at lowest rates. Personal Finance Co., 302 Tremont Building, Room 302. Hgh. 2?0?.
Loans up to $300 to salaried people; also on furniture, pianos, automobiles. Farm & Home Bldg. Davis Sq. Dr. Sq. Som. 3000.
LOANS to men in business; confidential; no other, no red tape, no delay Room 1002 40 Court St. Beach 1?00.

Real Estate

Business Property for Sale 72
GREENHOUSE—Modern, 10,000 feet; inventory City Hall; business best established 8 years; owner retiring. Apply Room 1?0?, 73 Austin St., Wor-ester Center 2?02-R.

Farms and Land for Sale 69
FARMS and country homes, COTTAGES and estates; up-to-date property, in the garden spot of New Hampshire. Write us what you want. Orris Farm Agency, Orris, N. H.
EQUIPPED FARMS, business chances Cata-log free. Strout Agency, 905-G, 150 South Bldg., Boston Mass.

Shore Property for Sale 81
NORTH Shore—Delightful house-garage, built on ocean fr., ideal bath., fireplaces, Colo. Sq. Atlas M. ——, Boston, Cop. 84.

Suburban for Sale 84
BARGAIN
Best way is Arlington; only $900 down, balance as rent; 6 rooms, all modern; 5-8 rooms, modern improvements, one suite; 2 rooms, unfinished; near Broadway; price $16,800. Call University 0883.
BRIGHTON—6 rooms, all improvements; hot water; reasonable. Con. 8815-W.
CLEARING SALE Owner must sell immediately Reverse 2502-J
DORCHESTER—Open Sun. 2-5 p.m. with 2 jobs land; mod., steam heat. Col. 8886, 1 Beacon St., Room 303. Tel. Hay. 1?90
DORCHESTER—Open Sun. 2-5 p.m. Owner always in our list of city and country properties; will be pleased to meet you at the market. Wm. B. Burgess, realtor, Ames Bldg., Boston. Tel. Hay. 1?90. 1 Beacon Chester, N. H.
DORCHESTER HEIGHTS—3 family, 5-5 rooms all baths; $2,000 down. Call Tel. B. 0?0?. Prospect 1?00, or 1498.
DORCHESTER—6 rooms, immts. 600 terrace this largest. Res. 4212-J.
SOUTH BOSTON—Open Sun. 2-5 p.m. at immts., $4,200 Tel. 0031; greatest 6-1.
WORCESTER—$3,000 for quick sale, mod-ern 6-room cottage; terms. Owner Cedar 7?65-W.

Real Estate Mortgages 83
See other advertisers first, then see me for 1st, 2nd, 3rd MORTGAGES AND CONSTRUCTION LOANS
See other advertisers first, then see me for Building Amount, 27 School St. Rm. 605.
BUILDING and mortgage loans, first and second loans, home owners only; low rates; easy payments. Co-operative Bank, 1 Beacon St., Room 1?0?.
LOANS, first, second mortgage money, no delay 53 State St.; Rm. 642, Conc. 2127.
LOANS, first mortgages, 5% to 6%. Ames Bldg., 73 Cornhill, Rm. 307. Hay. 0490.
MONEY to loan on first mortgages at low rates. Landa, 73 Cornhill, Rm. 307. Hay. 0490.
MONEY to loan on first mortgages at low rates. Tel. Hay. 1?90. 1 Beacon St., Room 303.
MORTGAGE loans at low rates. Room 42 Tremont St. Room 304; Hay. 1?98.

To Exchange—Real Estate 84
ST. PETERSBURG, FLA
Apartment house, beautifully furnished; deally located, wonderfully constructed, all hardwood floors; tile bathrooms; 2 baths; beautiful lawn and sandbeach. This is one of the finest and most attractive apartments in the "Sunshine City." Income about $28,000. Price $125,000. Will exchange for Boston or suburban city income property in Boston or suburbs. Owner has other large interests, reason for selling. Will pay commission. Location, price and terms to
H. E. BOWEN, Realtors,
714 Central Ave., St. Petersburg, Fla
EXCHANGE—for especially desirable Boston wood lots, anything. See H. C. Greene 38 Prince St., Tel. Hay. 2?00.

Rentals

Board and Rooms 87
PRIVATE SANITARIUM
Offers beautiful home on nearly residential street of Cambridge; 2 blocks from Harvard Sq.; trained attendants; sunny, warm rooms, spacious grounds; rates reasonable. Some table for 2?60-W.

A LADY
specializing in care of young children has a vacancy for one boy between the ages of two and six years. Tel. Malden 0367.

Specializing in care of elderly people or invalids; has vacancy for one person; pleasant home; cooking. Park 8423.
BARNES Hotel, 2 Boylston Pl., Board Room with Protestant family; suitable for gentleman; Ken. 2?00.
COMFORTABLE furnished heated room, next bath, for one or two gentlemen; also room for couple; no objection to children; board; reference. Hay. 2?0?-W.
DELL, school age, boarder. Also, elderly lady to board; Dell, 1 Beacon St., Room 303. Tel. Hay. 1?90.
ELEGANT room, suitable for one or 2; 40 to 45 Hartlett 100 samples weekly and $5.00 per day. Apply Herrbrite Co., 1926, Chamber of Commerce Bldg., Boston.
HEATED room, board; family; best care, good food; healthy environment. Newton North 0853.
INVALID—Room, board care, first class; nurse pleasant home. Talbot 2?76.
LARGE front room, suitable for elderly gentleman; quiet, refined neighborhood, every convenience; reasonable. Roxbury 0?0?-M.
LARGE heated sunny rooms, centrally located; home cooking; reasonable. Hay. 2?0?-W.
LARGE front room, for business man; bath; bath floor. Som. 3?73-J.
Large furnished front room near subway; breakfast optional; 2 gentlemen preferred. 30 Bennington St., East Boston.
NICELY furn heated rooms and board, bath; home cooking; reasonable. Hay. 2?0?-W.
Pleasant lrge. rm., Myrtle 1818-J.
PRIVATE family has room and board for part, 2 or 3; has pools or married couple. Call Hgh. 0000.
PRIVATE HOME—Adult family, has room and board for part; 2 or 3; has pools or married couple. Call Hgh. 0000.
PRIVATE HOME—Aged people, invalids; best care, good food; healthy environment. Newton North 0853.
WILL board children, over 3, in private place in Dorchester; reasonable rates; best care and clothing. 24 Belmont St. Dor. 0?0?-M.
WEST VIEW REST HOME—Convalescent and elderly people; excellent care and attention ideal location. Stone 0008-M.
Well loving girl over 3 to pleasant home; good opportunity to learn; 2 in family. Apply 1 Dover St., Room 1?11.
Will board baby; nurse; in good private home. Roxbury 4212-J.

Furnished Rooms 88
ALLSTON—Sunny room, next bath, steam heat; $5. Stu. 2?44.
BACK BAY—Sunny room, next bath, newly furnished, heated rooms; also single room; reasonable. Ken. 2?0?-W.
BACK BAY—99 Gainsboro St., suite of 2 rooms, with or without kitchen; also single room; hot water, heat. Ken. 2?0?-W.
BEACON ST., 770—Newly furn. sunny front room, private bath; suitable for gentleman. Ring after Kenmore. Copley 2?0?-R.
BEACON ST., 1?00—Sunny room, next floor; attractive rms; steam heat, $5 up.
BEACON—Exceptionally large, heated single and double 5 up. Kenmore 8?0?.
CAMBRIDGE—At Central sq.; large, sunny front room, private exit. Univ. 2?0?-J.
CHARLESTOWN—31 Warren St., newly furnished, well heated room, $3. 6 mins Bellings Sq. Som. 2?44-J.
CHARLESTOWN—Upstairs front, large front room; suitable for 2; gentlemen preferred; 2 minutes Sullivan Sq. Sta. Call 4?0?.
DORCHESTER—Furnished front room, steam heat, elec. 7 Bertram st. Talbot 2?0?-J.
DORCHESTER—Warm homelike room for gentleman; 2 windows; 2 closets; bath floor. Talbot 2?0?-W.
DORCHESTER—Heated, large, fure, front room; bath floor; 2 windows; 2 closets. Talbot 2?0?-W.
HUNTINGTON AVE., 902, Suite 2—Sunny, large bedroom and parlor; kitchen if desired.
JAMAICA PLAIN—Lovely heated rm. privy family; 2 windows; 2 closets; bath floor. Jamaica Plain 2?0?-W.
LEYLAND HOUSE—84 Warrenton St., 2 rooms $8 week; use of kitchenette; also steam heat. Dewey 4803-R.
MEDFORD—Large well furn. room well heated; priv. home. $4.50. Mys. 2?0?-M.
NORWOOD—Large, sunny, front room; connecting rooms; also single; all conveniences; reasonable. Norwood 0?0?-M.
ROXBURY—Furn. rm., bkf. rm., h. and c. water; 10 Court St. Roxbury 2?0?-M.
WINTHROP—Rms., kitchette, use elec., in modern home; $4 per week. Win. 2?0?-M.
W. NEWTON ST., 37—Rest. room & board; $7 per week. Ken. 2?0?-W. Also single room; every room. Private baths. Day $2.?2 up.
WEST END—Large, sunny, front room; well heated; elec. service; reasonable. Hay. 2?0?-W.

For Sale—Miscellaneous

Furniture and Household Goods 110
A FEW BARGAINS in Oriental rugs; Chinese rug, 9x12, $45; other rugs proportional small sizes, to a suit very reasonable. Call Mr. Hamilton, Beach 1?00.
STEAM and hot water boilers; pipe, radiators and fittings. Federal Pipe & Steam ing Supply Co., 130 Federal St. & Sons.

Sewing Machines 111
SOUND Machines, guaranteed, good as new, $5. 365A Somerville Ave., Somerville.

Typewriters 112
Corona Headquarters
E. A. BARNACLE, 37 Bromfield St. All makes, repairing. Hancock 0?0?.

Musical Instruments 114
NORRIS
181 Tremont St.
THE GREAT AUTOPIANO PLAYER
Actually gives perfect musical interpretation. Price $625. Kings, Queens and Emperors have used it. Come in and hear it. Take it home. Play safe and buy an Autopiano. We have a few good used pianos left. Take one of these. Liberal allowance for the old piano.

KRANICH & BACH GRAND PIANO
Hand made. Nothing round be finer. Made and guaranteed by Kranich & Bach. Kranich & Bach prices are not excessive. Liberal allowance for the old piano.

SMALL APARTMENT GRANDS 8?88
Beautiful and splendid 5 built. Very fine small grand in a wonderful mahogany case. Liberal allowance. Easy terms. Used upright piano

CHASE PLAYER PIANO $300 to $900
In fine playable condition, all good and guaranteed to please. Terms $5 down, $5 per week. One of these is an Angelus to mahogany case. $300. New Player Pianos $475. $625. $777

USED UPRIGHT PIANOS IN PERFECT playing condition $125.
Standard maker, all guaranteed. Full allowance for your old piano. Terms $5 down. All of these Pianos can be $400 now. Open evenings. Kenmore 1058.

CHAS. S. NORRIS
181 Tremont St.
100 Pianos—Victrolas—Records—Rolls
Brooks. 110 Summer St., over Marston's.

Radio and Equipment 115
75 Warren St. Roxbury High. 4818.

Miscellaneous for Sale 119
BOOKS of every description. Title cut in gold. Book Auction Co. 45 Court St Room 1?0?.
TWO-HORSE, double-runner sled for sale; good condition; used little. 12 Brown Ave., Revere, 2?-J.

Clothing 122
EVENING GOWN sized 40 to 44; new dress crepe satin. 19 Bangly, Winc. 1414-W.
REMEMBER—Good clothes for men and boys used for cash; pledged with us by fraternity members; we will exchange for cash $25. $45 up. Northern Loan Co. 172 Merrimac St., Boston.
WANTED To BUY—Hudson seal coat Lowest in city. Call Hawthorn 0?0?.

Specials at the Stores 125
CLEARANCE SALE—18 in parchment lamp shades, $2.?5 each. Open evenings. 1?0? Washington St., over Mass. Ave.
Office and Factory Equipment 131
COMPLETE line of coal and gas-pay stoves and office desks. Call Auction Co., 45 Court and Merrimac sts., Boston. Hay. 1?0?.

Machinery and Tools 131
FOUNDRY for sale; equip. new and second hand; will sell or rent. Inquire 1?0? Washington St., Room 1?0?.

Live Stock

Dogs, Cats, Other Pets 135
CLEARANCE SALE
of all my dogs and pups. Everything must

EDITORIAL PAGE OF THE BOSTON ~~EVENING~~ AMERICAN BOSTON JANUARY 11, 1927

Should Remodel Senate

National Law-Makers Should Be More Nearly Representative of the People

THE UNITED STATES SENATE should be made a representative body. Consider this:

The twenty-five States in the lower population bracket, ranging from Nevada up, have LESS THAN ONE-FIFTH OF THE COUNTRY'S POPULATION.

But they have A MAJORITY IN THE SENATE.

The representatives of one-fifth of the nation's inhabitants are in a position to dictate the policy of the United States as to those subjects within the exclusive province of the Senate, and to veto legislation originating in the House of Representatives.

The fact that the Senators of these particular States might not combine on any program does not lessen the unscientific nature of the scheme of Senatorial representation, which was originally conceded to the smaller States as a sop to induce them to enter the Union.

A fair present-day compromise would be to retain the existing feature of two Senators to each State, but allow the larger States additional representation, based on population.

The Senate could be made a representative body without being unwieldy, and the small States would still possess an important influence.

Congressional reapportionment and a remodeling of the Senate to make it more nearly representative of the people are ends to be achieved if we are to have, in fact, a genuine Republic.

The Voodoo Doctor

Even He Had Some Sense

Dr. Puckett, of Western Missouri University, has studied for years ancient African superstitions, including strange voodooism, one-third religion, one-third superstition, one-third healing magic. Nearly all so-called negro stories and superstitions were really invented by white men, and borrowed by negroes.

But voodooism is their OWN. There are many queer, some unpleasant, things about it. In early days human sacrifice was included in its ritual.

But as there is "some good in all things evil," so there is some common sense even in voodooism. Voodoo doctors told negro mothers that frightening their children made them knock-kneed, and tickling their feet gave them fits.

We know that frightening does not cause knock-knees, but it does worse. It injures the MIND, causes mental timidity that lasts through life.

Many rich people spend their money hiring servants to care for their children. The servants, to save themselves trouble, fill the children with superstitious fears of ghosts and other horrors. Voodoo doctors, at least, would discourage THAT.

Freezing the Fire

A New Fire Extinguisher

German science designs a fire extinguisher that will presently appear in this country, perhaps. It is filled with a liquid carbon dioxide, a substance that we employ in fire extinguishers here. But in the new German machine, the liquid dioxide is forced into a steel container under high pressure. And it is transformed in the container into a carbon dioxide SNOW.

This artificial snow has a temperature of 79 degrees centigrade below the freezing point. This snow puts out the fire by stifling it, forming a vapor that prevents combustion. It also reduces the temperature of the burning substance so suddenly and violently that the cold is too intense for burning. In other words, "the temperature falls below the point of ignition."

This new extinguisher will prevent the burning of gasoline and other highly inflammable substances.

It will undoubtedly be useful in this country, which has the greatest fire waste of any nation in the world.

This Is Worth Repeating

It Pays to Read Everything in the Boston Evening American Every Day

B. C. Forbes, celebrated writer on finance and business, contributes a daily column to this paper. Because it appears on the financial page, perhaps you don't read it. You should, whether you're interested in speculation or not.

Mr. Forbes writes so humanly that once you get to know him you wouldn't pass up his column even for the comic pages. For instance, on Monday, telling about the vast fortunes made in various industries, he said this:

"Lucky is the youth born in this land, where miracles can be wrought and dreams can be made to come true."

Have you ever read anything that sums up the great advantages of our glorious country more crisply?

What IS True

If There Is No Healing

The Reverend Dr. John Roach Straton of New York City, who takes his religion straight and seriously, believes in the divine healing power, but denounces the "hocus-pocus" of Dr. Coue.

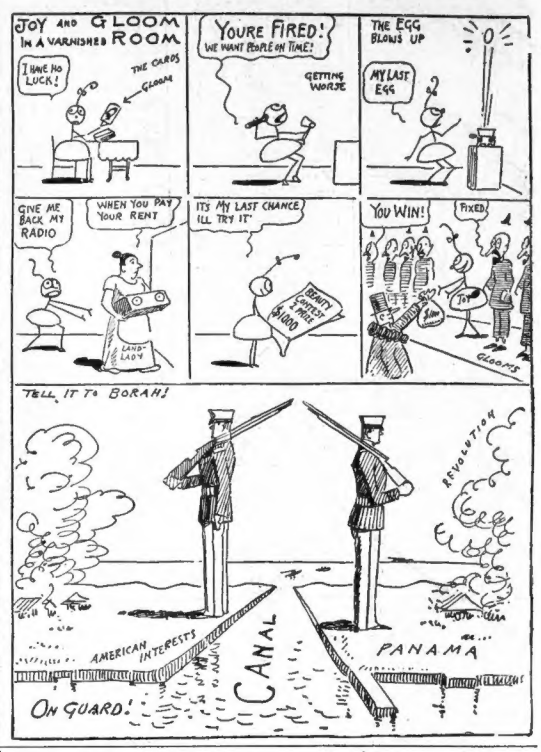
When Dr. Straton began a series of sermons on the divine healing, which, if he is right, ought to clean up disease everywhere, he appreciated the feeling of Mrs. McCarthy, who gave a party and "nobody came but a red-headed darkey."

All the officers of his church stayed away. The doctor apparently takes religion a little too seriously for them. But, as he says, if divine healing isn't true, what IS true? Dr. Straton, at least, believes all that he preaches.

Hello! Are You There?

That You, John? This Is Sam. What Are You Doing This Evening?

By T. E. Powers



MOST DREADED OF ALL MONARCHS

By DR. FRANK CRANE

HAVE you ever heard of the man who ruled over the greatest empire in the world in all time?

He reigned seven hundred years ago and he arrested the progress of the world as one might stop the hands of a clock.

He was born in a nomad tribe, but steadily rose until he became ruler of the largest number of people ever under a single authority.

He was the most feared of men.

He was Genghis Khan, who ruled half the world and terrorized the other half.

The people of Cathay called him the Perfect Warrior. The Turks of Central Asia spoke of him as The Mighty Manslayer. The Mohammedans called him the Scourge of God. Others called him Master of Thrones and Crowns. His birth name was Temujin, which means "Finest Steel," and he is known to us as Genghis Khan.

He made mighty wars. Instead of warring with kingdoms he annihilated countries. He not only captured cities, but often obliterated them so that the grass grew over their sites. Rivers were diverted from their courses, and when he had passed wolves and ravens ranged over once fertile lands. The human lives he took stagger the imagination. The slain in the World War would not measure a third of it. Whole civilizations were consumed by him. The survivors of nations lived after his passing in the shadow of the tomb.

Harold Lamb in the magazine "Asia" gives an excellent history of him and calls to our recollection this most dreaded of all monarchs.

Roger Bacon said that undoubtedly his subjects were soldiers of Antichrist, and Frederick II. of Germany wrote Henry III. of England that they were probably the descendants of the lost ten tribes of Israel. The Pope called the Council of Lyons partly as a means of stemming the Mongol conquests.

(Copyright, 1927, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

What Do You Know?

Discover the weak points in your background by rating yourself on these tests:

Match the following with the name that best fits:

1. Mary E. Wilkins Freeman	American novelist
2. Enoch Arden	Phantom ship
3. Ralph W. Emerson	French general
4. Ferdinand Foch	Caricaturist
5. Flying Dutchman	Poem by Tennyson
6. Max Beerbohm	American poet

Choose the one correct word to complete each statement:

7. The U. S. battleship Maine was blown up in Havana harbor in 1900—1913—1898—1865.
8. Winnipeg is in Australia—Canada—Ireland—England.
9. The Anti-Federalists opposed slavery—prohibition—the Constitution—Stamp Act.

Which is a: 10, Bird; 11, herb; 12, floor covering; 13, musical instrument; 14, city. (Calmp—Clarinet—Linoleum—Pelican—Ravenna.)

What date do you connect with: 15, Death of Theodore Roosevelt; 16, Galveston flood; 17, Postal Savings bank established.

See tomorrow's paper to verify your answers. Answers to yesterday's test: 1, Babylon; 2, Incense; 3, Italy; 4, Lanier; 5, Pearl; 6, 1815; 7, jubilant; 8 unmistakable; 9, restrict; 10, censure; 11, torpid; 12, Italy; 13, France; 14, Wisconsin; 15, London.

Copyright, 1927, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Odds and Ends of the Town

HATS ON

MISS BEE TUMBER, national organizer of the WAITRESSES' UNION scored a hit at the "mystery" meeting of the BOSTON BARTENDERS' UNION by insisting men wear an open window wear their hats while she was speaking. "I do not want you men to catch cold," she said. Her speech embodied a plea for the abolition of the Volstead act. EX-STATE SENATOR JOHN J. KEARNEY, erstwhile president of the BOSTON CENTRAL LABOR UNION, convulsed labor advocates when he declared he longed for the day when he can put his foot on a rail.

• • •

INVESTIGATOR

BOB CUNNIFF, investigator for the BOSTON FINANCE COMMISSION, once "covered" CITY HALL for a BOSTON newspaper and gained a lot of knowledge which fits in nicely in his present position. He likes to chat with the politicians and gets their reasoning on matters of public moment.

• • •

ORATOR

Pictures of himself, astride a horse and standing on a platform speaking in the interest of the Third Liberty Loan when he was MAYOR of EVERETT, adorn the office walls of ATTORNEY WILLIAM E. WEEKS, one of the most engaging and versatile orators connected with the BOSTON BAR ASSOCIATION.

• • •

QUERY

CITY COUNCILLOR THOMAS H. GREENE of CHARLESTOWN has a nice way of getting around things when it comes to framing pertinent questions. When two subordinate officials of the telephone company were under fire by the investigating committee on unemployment from the CITY COUNCIL, GREENE asked them if it wasn't a fact that "two mental giants" of the corporation were responsible for the discharge of more than 1,000 men since the rates were raised. The officials said "lack of employment and not mental giants" led to laying off the men.

• • •

INFO.

A regular walking time-table is INSPECTOR WILLIAM HARTIGAN of the MIDDLESEX and BOSTON STREET RAILWAY. "BILL'S" duties keep him in WALTHAM, but he can tell a patron, without an instant's hesitation, the leaving and arriving time of cars all over the system, day or night. He may carry a book, but one never sees it. During the heavy storms this Winter, INSPECTOR HARTIGAN has been found working through the night on the snow-plows. Indicating that his "dressed-up" job doesn't mean anything in an emergency.

• • •

FATHER AND SON.

NEWTON boasts of an odd combination of baseball talent in one family. "BILLY" STUMPF, River street old timer, and his son "BILLY," JR., NEWTON High School star, appear on the diamond together, POP on second base and the son at shortstop. And BILLY, JR., has to step fast to keep up with the Governor.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

WHY does the marriage knot unravel so easily?

"Because men and women lie to each other before marriage," says Superior Judge George H. Cabaniss.

Too many husbands, young and old, start married life with a lie," says Judge Cabaniss. "They court the girl and give her boxes of candy and silk stockings and things like that, that cost more than the man earns in a week. Unconsciously the swain gives the girl the impression that he earns much more than he does and when they are married grief follows thick and fast.

"In other cases, far too frequently, the man deliberately lies to the girl. He tells her of automobiles, fine home, servants and trips to Europe that he will provide her with when as a matter of fact he is a shipping clerk making about $18 or $20 a week. Usually the young girl falls for this line of lies, and now and then an older woman, perhaps a widow, will be a victim.

"It is astonishing how many wealthy widows, or at least well-to-do widows, will listen to the love lies of designing men, especially young men. They marry them and soon after come to the divorce courts for relief.

"It seems almost as though a widow with any money or property is unsafe from designing men. We have many cases in this court where young men have married widows old enough to be their mothers. If not grandmotherss, just to get their hands on the fortune. That the deceased husband left. And, sad to relate, the designing men usually accomplish their purpose before the divorce or annulment case reaches the courts.

Widows, Be Wary

"I am diffident about giving advice, but my warning to widows, who have been left snug fortunes, is to be wary indeed of the man, young or old, who wants to get married."

All of which is big Medicine and is guaranteed to give the husbands of this country some uncomfortable moments. But how about the wives?

The good judge has most tactfully omitted to pin the Ananias badge on the ladies but the sad fact is that when it comes to high, wide and handsome prenuptial fabricating Billy has nothing on Bess.

"Yes, I just adore cooking," gurgles Bessie, daintily plunging the pie knife into Mama's best chocolate cake. "I worked all afternoon to make this for you, dear, because I knew how much you'd like a little taste of home cooking. You do, don't you?"

Domestic Visions

"Do I? Lead me to it!" yodels her enraptured swain, all smoked up with a vision of Bessie in a bungalow apron, stirring up perpetual orgies of chocolate cake.

"And this little dress—don't you think it's pretty," she coos. "I had the best fun making it. I'm just crazy about sewing. Isn't it awful the way some girls waste their money on ready-made clothes when they could make the same thing at home for half the price? Of course, I like to look smart but—You don't think it looks home made do you?" she queries with a worried look.

"Gosh, I'll say I don't. It's a wow!" the now thoroughly bedazzled young man yelps.

And Bessie, who has just paid the third instalment on her $75 "home-made" product, purrs contentedly to herself.

So they are married. And in just about a month he's calling her bluff and she's telling him he's a tight wad.

As for this widow business—

Well, maybe they come innocent and trusting in some climates—

But most of those I've met are just about as guileless as a good bear trap.

And yet, in spite of these lamentable facts, Cupid is still going strong. And if Romance doesn't bunk you, oil stocks will. So why worry over a few pink fibs?

Copyright, 1927, King Features Synd., Inc.

WORDS OF THE WISE MEN

Anger makes dull men witty, but it keeps them poor.—Bacon.

It is difficult to speak commonplace effectively.—Horace.

The farther off, the more desired.
—Henry Howard.

What we find the least of in flirtation is love.—La Rouchefoucauld.

A little evil is often necessary for obtaining a great good.—Voltaire.

Men, like bullets, go farthest when they are smoothest.—Richter.

Good reason must, of force give place to better.—Shakespeare.

Progress—the onward stride of God.—Victor Hugo.

Much learning shows how little mortals know.—Young.

Self-trust is the first secret of success.—Emerson.

Beauty is the alimination of superfluities.—Michael Angelo.

When you are in doubt whether an action is good or bad, abstain. Even St.—Jerome.

Message of Odd Rays

By GARRETT P. SERVISS.

THE strange cosmic rays discovered by Millikan have given rise to an extraordinary speculation, viz: that they originate in the distant nebulae from which stars are formed and also from the stars themselves while they are still in their earliest stages of evolution.

These mysterious rays impinge upon the earth equally by day and by night and from all directions in the sky, from which it is inferred that their origin is not in the sun. Regarded as vibrations, they possess a minuteness almost beyond belief.

It takes forty to fifty thousand light waves to cover an inch; it would take six hundred thousand million waves of this new found radiation to cover the same space!

Contrast with this excessive minuteness of size this gigantic figures expressing the electric tension concerned in the production of these rays.

To produce the most rapidly vibrating rays that have yet been drawn from a Crookes tube requires 500,000 volts; but it would, it is calculated, require from twelve to thirty million volts to reproduce the Millikan rays.

Their penetrating power is equally startling. They are capable of passing through nearly six feet of solid lead. Millikan found them penetrating a depth of forty-one feet in the pure, cold water of Muir lake on the lofty flank of Mount Whitney, but before entering the water they had already penetrated through the atmosphere above, whose absorptive power was calculated to equal that of about 19 feet of water.

Besides, these rays apparently produce upon striking the atmosphere and the earth, an effect like that experienced when X-rays traverse solid matter, i.e., they are transformed or modified into radiations of a less penetrating character or "softer" rays.

But this "softened" form of the Millikan, or Cosmic, rays appears to be identical with the long-known "gamma rays," which have a hundred times less penetrative power than the unaltered Cosmic rays.

It is true that all these details about wave-lengths, volts and radiations that nobody can see, or even feel, as far as we yet know, may not seem very exciting to "the man in the street," but as soon as the strange rays are associated with the stars and the nebulae and the ever-unrolling panorama of celestial wonders, attention awakes.

What do these rays, wandering so far? Some of the nebula, most of the "young" stars, are so far away that their light—and no rays can be swifter footed than light—take thousands and it may be even millions of years, to cross the abyss.

And yet these tiny rays, measuring six hundred thousand million to an inch, come along, too. How can we any longer marvel at the "emptiness" of the vast regions of interstellar space?

So far from being empty, space must be crowded and packed with these vibrations. Our senses are too coarse to perceive them.

Copyright 1927, International Feature Service, Inc.